Integrating Sustainability Thinking in Science and Engineering Curricula Walter Leal Filho, Ulisses M. Azeiteiro, Sandra Caeiro, Fátima Alves, 2014-09-13 Including considerations of sustainability in universities' activities has long since become mainstream. However, there is still much to be done with regard to the full integration of sustainability thinking into science and engineering curricula. Among the problems that hinder progress in this field, the lack of sound information on how to actually implement it is prominent. Created in order to address this need, this book presents a wealth of information on innovative approaches, methods and tools that may be helpful in translating sustainability principles into practice.

What a Waste 2.0 Silpa Kaza, Lisa Yao, Perinaz Bhada-Tata, Frank Van Woerden, 2018-12-12 Solid waste management affects every person in the world. By 2050, the world is expected to increase waste generation by 70 percent, from 2.01 billion tonnes of waste in 2016 to 3.40 billion tonnes of waste annually. Individuals and governments make decisions about consumption and waste management that affect the daily health, productivity, and cleanliness of communities. Poorly managed waste is contaminating the world's oceans, clogging drains and causing flooding, transmitting diseases, increasing respiratory problems, harming animals that consume waste unknowingly, and affecting economic development. Unmanaged and improperly managed waste from decades of economic growth requires urgent action at all levels of society. What a Waste 2.0: A Global Snapshot of Solid Waste Management to 2050 aggregates extensive solid waste data at the national and urban levels. It estimates and projects waste generation to 2030 and 2050. Beyond the core data metrics from waste generation to disposal, the report provides information on waste management costs, revenues, and tariffs; special wastes; regulations; public communication; administrative and operational models; and the informal sector. Solid waste management accounts for approximately 20 percent of municipal budgets in low-income countries and 10 percent of municipal budgets in middle-income countries, on average. Waste management is often under the jurisdiction of local authorities facing competing priorities and limited resources and capacities in planning, contract management, and operational monitoring. These factors make sustainable waste management a complicated proposition; most low- and middle-income countries, and their respective cities, are struggling to address these challenges. Waste management data are critical to creating policy and planning for local contexts. Understanding how much waste is generated—especially with rapid urbanization and population growth—as well as the types of waste generated helps local governments to select appropriate management methods and plan for future demand. It allows governments to design a system with a suitable number of vehicles, establish efficient routes, set targets for diversion of waste, track progress, and adapt as consumption patterns change. With accurate data, governments can realistically allocate resources, assess relevant technologies, and consider strategic partners for service provision, such as the private sector or nongovernmental organizations. What a Waste 2.0: A Global Snapshot of Solid Waste Management to 2050 provides the most up-to-date information available to empower citizens and governments around the world to effectively address the pressing global crisis of waste. Additional information is available at <http://www.worldbank.org/what-a-waste>.

PowerPoint 2013 Myriam Gris, 2013-03-13 Ce guide pratique vous présente dans le détail toutes les fonctionnalités de Microsoft® PowerPoint 2013 ; il s'adresse à toute personne désirant découvrir et approfondir l'ensemble de ses fonctionnalités. Après la description du nouvel environnement, les différents modes d'affichage et la gestion des documents (ouverture et enregistrement de présentations et de modèles, partage et enregistrement sur SkyDrive, gestion d'album photos, impression...), vous apprendrez à créer et modifier les différents éléments d'une présentation : les diapositives, les masques, les thèmes, les arrière-plans, les sections... Dès lors, vous pourrez créer le contenu de chaque diapositive en saisissant le texte, le plan puis en le mettant en valeur ; vous verrez ensuite comment créer, modifier et mettre en valeur toutes sortes d'objets : formes automatiques, tableaux, images, sons, vidéos, diagrammes et graphiques ; vous exploiterez les nouvelles fonctionnalités relatives à l'édition vidéo (ajouter, rogner, appliquer des effets artistiques, tronquer le début ou la fin de vos vidéos) et à la retouche d'images (effets artistiques, détournement de forme, reflets, corrections de couleurs, compression...). Vous pourrez alors lancer votre premier diaporama puis y intégrer effets d'animation, annotations, minutage des diapositives, l'enregistrer au format vidéo afin de réutiliser l'animation dans d'autres présentations ou la partager avec vos proches sur DailyMotion ou Youtube. La dernière partie est consacrée aux fonctionnalités avancées telles que la gestion des liens hypertexte, la révision d'une présentation, la personnalisation du ruban, le travail avec d'autres applications Office ; pour terminer, vous apprendrez à travailler et à communiquer à plusieurs sur une même présentation.

Global University Rankings and the Politics of Knowledge Michelle Stack, 2021-06-17 For many institutions, to ignore your university's ranking is to become invisible, a risky proposition in a competitive search for funding. But rankings tell us little if anything about the education, scholarship, or engagement with communities offered by a university. Drawing on a range of research and inquiry-based methods, Global University Rankings and the Politics of Knowledge exposes how universities became servants to the education industry and its impact. Conceptually unique in its scope, Global University Rankings and the Politics of Knowledge addresses the lack of empirical research behind university and journal ranking systems. Chapters from internationally recognized scholars in decolonial studies provide readers with robust frameworks to understand the intersections of coloniality and Indigeneity and how they play out in higher education. Contributions from diverse geographical and disciplinary contexts explore the political economy of rankings within the contexts of the Global North and South, and examine alternatives to media-driven rankings. This book allows readers to consider the intersections of power and knowledge within the wider contexts of politics, culture, and the economy, to explore how assumptions about gender, social class, sexuality, and race underpin the meanings attached to rankings, and to imagine a future that confronts and challenges cognitive, environmental, and social injustice.

Youth at the Margins ELENA SÁNCHEZ-MONTIJANO, Jose SÁNCHEZ GARCÍA, 2019-01-23 The 2011 Arab uprisings led to a great proliferation of studies on the situations in the Arab countries of the Mediterranean, with particular attention given to their young people, whose role was particularly central. Eight years on, in-depth exploration is still needed of the conditions in which millions of (mainly young) people demanded change. In this context, this volume examines the state and diversity of the forms of socioeconomic, political and cultural marginalization facing the region's young men and women, as well as the strategies and routes of contestation by which they escape them. Through the interdisciplinary empiricism of this book, based on the results emerging from the SAHWA Project (funded by the European Commission under the Seventh Framework Programme, grant agreement no 613174), we aspire to build a complex description and analysis of the current situation of the Arab Mediterranean youth. The aim is to fathom out young people's patterns, agency and living conditions, focusing on the relational character of the juvenile worlds actively constructed by themselves. The authors explore the main trends that are reflected in the social strategies, cultural constructions and changes within the Arab youth population, and whether the creation of new lifestyles and the emergence of youth cultures are an indicator of sociopolitical transitions. To answer all these questions the researchers have conducted a comprehensive study in five Arab Mediterranean countries: Algeria, Egypt, Lebanon, Morocco and Tunisia. Based on mixed method research the data collection is composed of two primary sources: the SAHWA Youth Survey 2016 (2017), in which 10,000 young people were interviewed; and the SAHWA Ethnographic Fieldwork 2015, involving more than 200 young people.
