

The Poetics Of Space

Professor Stuart C Aitken

The Poetics of Space Gaston Bachelard, 1994 The classic book on how we experience intimate spaces. A magical book. . . . A prism through which all worlds from literary creation to housework to aesthetics to carpentry take on enhanced and enchanted significances. Every reader of it will never see ordinary spaces in ordinary ways. Instead the reader will see with the soul of the eye, the glint of Gaston Bachelard. -from the foreword by John R. Stilgoe 6473-4 / $15.00tx / paperback

The Poetics of Space Gaston Bachelard, 2014-12-30 A beloved multidisciplinary treatise comes to Penguin Classics Since its initial publication in 1958, The Poetics of Space has been a muse to philosophers, architects, writers, psychologists, critics, and readers alike. The rare work of irresistibly inviting philosophy, Bachelard's seminal work brims with quiet revelations and stirring, mysterious imagery. This lyrical journey takes as its premise the emergence of the poetic image and finds an ideal metaphor in the intimate spaces of our homes. Guiding us through a stream of meditations on poetry, art, and the blooming of consciousness itself, Bachelard examines the domestic places that shape and hold our dreams and memories. Houses and rooms; cellars and attics; drawers, chests, and wardrobes; nests and shells; nooks and corners: No space is too vast or too small to be filled by our thoughts and our reveries. In Bachelard's enchanting spaces, "We are never real historians, but always near poets, and our emotion is perhaps nothing but an expression of a poetry that was lost." This new edition features a foreword by Mark Z. Danielewski, whose bestselling novel House of Leaves drew inspiration from Bachelard's writings, and an introduction by internationally renowned philosopher Richard Kearney who explains the book's enduring importance and its role within Bachelard's remarkable career. For more than sixty-five years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. With more than 1,500 titles, Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines. Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors, as well as up-to-date translations by award-winning translators.

Summary of Gaston Bachelard's The Poetics of Space Everest Media, 2022-10-10T22:59:00Z Please note: This is a companion version & not the original book. Sample Book Insights: #1 A phenomenological study of the house reveals the fundamental value of inside space. The house is a privileged place for studying the intimate values of inside space, provided we take it in its unity and complexity. #2 The house is a privileged place to study the intimate values of inside space. The house, like fire and water, will allow us to explore the synthesis of immemorial and recollected images. #3 The house is a privileged place to study the intimate values of inside space. It allows us to dream in peace, and it shelters daydreaming, the synthesis of immemorial and recollected images. #4 The house is a great place to study the intimate values of inside space. It allows us to dream in peace, and it shelters daydreaming, the synthesis of immemorial and recollected images.

The Poetics of Space Gaston Bachelard, 1972

The Poetics of Reverie Gaston Bachelard, 1971-06-01 In this, his last significant work, an admired French philosopher provides extraordinary meditations on the relations between the imagining consciousness and the world, positing the notion of reverie as its most dynamic point of reference. In his earlier book, The Poetics of Space, Bachelard considered several kinds of praiseworthy space conducive to the flow of poetic imagery. In Poetics of Reverie he considers the absolute origins of that imagery: language, sexuality, childhood, the Cartesian ego, and the universe. Approaching the psychology of wonder from the phenomenological viewpoint, Bachelard demonstrates the auriferous potential of all that awareness. Thus he distinguishes what is merely a phenomenon of relaxation from the kind of reverie which poetry puts on the right track, the track of expanding consciousness

The Poetics of (space) Kaitlin Rees, Christophe Robert, 2014 The Poetics of Space is a book that brings us into the world of dreams, the unconscious, the imagination, and we inhabit these most intimate of places, alone. This is a book of solitude, and to have a conversation while inside this book is to share something much deeper than the content of the words. It is to reach out across layers and layers of space, physical and abstract, and touch another. It is in this kind of touching that our own being is sent back to us; we receive ourselves slightly changed by such encounters. Following is a conversation of three voices: Kaitlin, who lives in an old house in Hanoi; Christophe who lives in a tall house in Saigon; and Gaston Bachelard, who lived and wrote in the houses of human consciousness in 20th century France. The encounter took place through electronic mails during the month of January 2014--Publisher's website.

The poetics of space Gaston Bachelard, 1976

Poetics of Space Steven A. Yates, 1995 This volume begins with the early modern period when avant-garde artists were challenging the traditional aesthetic with Constructivism and Futurism in Russia, Dadaism and Surrealism in Germany and France, and new forms of photography - collage, photomontage, photograms, and so on - were emerging throughout the Western art world. Included also are influential mid-century essays by Gaston Bachelard, Leo Steinberg, and William M. Ivins, as well as essays on contemporary art issues by L. Lippard, F. Sommer, and J. Snider.

The Ethnopoetics of Space and Transformation Professor Stuart C Aitken, 2014-08-28 Aitken examines key life-changing events to look at the interconnections between space, politics, change and emotions. Analysing the intricate spatial complexities of these events, he explores the emotions that undergird the ways change takes place, and the perplexing spatial politics that almost always accompany transformations. Aitken positions young people as effective agents of change without romanticizing their political involvement as fantasy and unrealistic dreaming. Going further, he suggests that it is the emotional palpability of youth engagement and activism that makes it so potent and productive.

The Poetics of Singularity Timothy Clark, 2005 In this polemical book Timothy Clark focuses on the ways in which Martin Heidegger, Jacques Derrida, Maurice Blanchot and Hans-Georg Gadamer distinguish the poetic from literature more generally.

Nothing is Ever Empty, 2010 I felt that our collective all had an innate understanding of poetic imagination. I proposed that we each choose a chapter of The poetics of space and create a response in any media. I offered use of my press as a possibility for a letterpress or printed plate component. I asked everyone to complete their chapter within a set period, so that we would make quick decisions instead of laboring over every detail. The seven artist's responses to Bachelard's chapters are represented here, each on four folios divided by a chapter page. The architectural renderings on the paper provided an instant ground for the creation of layered narratives. The range of media includes digital design, stenciling, linocut, rubber stamping, and letterpress printing from metal and wood type, plates and blocks--Mindy Belloff, introduction.

The Poetics of Space Arie Altena, Brandon LaBelle, Raviv Ganchrow, Douglas Kahn, Maryanne Amacher, Frank J. Oteri, Barry Truax, Takuro Mizuta Lippit, Cindy Keefer, TeZ, Trace Reddell, Edwin van der Heide, Elizabeth Sikiaridi, Mitchell Whitelaw, Sonia Cillari, Annet Dekker, Juhani Pallasmaa, Diller + Scofidio, Daan Roosegaarde, Erkki Huhtamo, Marc Maurer, Eric Kluitenberg, 2010 This publication presents an exploration of space and spatiality in the arts, more specifically the poetry of (abstract) space and the (psychological) perception of space. With a particular focus on immersive installations, spatial sound, multi-screen projections, audiovisual performances, and the innovative artistic use of technology that often takes centre-stage at Sonic Acts, the publication provides insights into the various ways in which the arts approach and define space. Among others, the critical essays explore extremely long sound waves, volcano eruptions and Alvin Lucier, the fascinating history of dioramas, the legendary Vortex concerts of Henry Jacobs and Jordan Belson and the ways in which mobile and location-aware technology profoundly changes the use of social and public space. Interviews with artists, architects and composers shed light on how contemporary artists approach space and spatiality.

Max Jacob and the Poetics of Cubism Gerald Kamber, 1971 Max Jacob was born on July 12, 1876, at Quimper, Brittany, to Alsatian-Jewish parents of modest means, his father being a tailor and part-time antique dealer. Although Jacob proved at first to be a mediocre student, he displayed a lightning-like intelligence from an early age. He was also beset by numerous manias. Inordinately sensitive, he accused his schoolmates of persecuting him and complained that his brothers beat him and that his authoritarian mother mistreated him at home. -- Pg. XI.
