History of Technology Volume 29 Ian Inkster, 2016-09-30 The common question from the western point of view is of the sort; why did China lose its early leadership of productive technologies to Europe during the early modern period? Answers to this seemingly clear enquiry vary from general cultural inwardness to the interferences of imperial governance. This collection surveys such theories but alters the issue by raising the notion that Chinese technologies did not so much fail as move along a path different from that of Europe. Our second collection on the Mindful Hand, also shifts common ground by querying and modifying common views of the links between knowledge and technique in early-modern European development. Scientific or related knowledge was not brought to technique as a socio-cultural gift from an educated elite to the working man. Rather, educated gents, practitioners, instrument makers, craftsfolk and technicians of all kinds intermingled both socially and in terms of the recognition of technical problems as well as in the assemblage of the mental, commercial and cognitive resources required to pursue innovative production projects.

The Sources of Modern Architecture and Design Nikolaus Pevsner,1975

Arquitetura moderna desde 1900 William J R. Curtis,2008 O texto apresenta uma abordagem dos diversos fenômenos sociais e avanços tecnológicos que remontam à revolução industrial e que contribuíram para o surgimento da arquitetura do século vinte. O livro amplia a concepção da arquitetura moderna, mostrando que sua gênese não foi idéia exclusiva de um gênio europeu, e sim a resultante dos avanços de vários artistas e países com tradições e cunhos ideológicos distintos. A obra abrange tanto a influência formadora dos pioneiros europeus e norte-americanos como a evolução da arquitetura moderna nos demais continentes. Não se limita ao trabalho dos arquitetos, mas inclui a influência dos demais artistas, como pintores e designers, e mesmo de outros agentes, como chefes de Estado e de governo e líderes políticos. A análise das edificações não se restringe a questões formais e estéticas, mas inclui dimensões sociais, filosóficas e tecnológicas.
