In the Eyes of the Beholder Silvia Maria Rey, 2020-11-30 In the Eyes of the Beholder is an exploration of the symbiotic relationship between viewing a work of art and the emotions and memories it evokes. Fifteen artworks were selected. Each piece was assigned to two different people with no other information than to use as a writing prompt. In some instances, an immediate emotional response was aroused and the writing flowed. In other cases, the work evoked a personal memory and led the writer to reflect on current sociological themes or current events. The resulting works span a wide range of topics, genres, and writing styles; but each piece is unique and made the author stretch and expand their writing skills. We all have a story to tell about the piece, and that story may have nothing to do with the artist's intent in creating the artwork. That is the seminal point of this book.

Betty Cries James A. Leyshon, 2019-05-10 Jake St. Johns is a normal guy with psychic powers who sees ghosts. Every morning, he wakes to the sound of a crying little girl—the only ghost he can't see. When he finds Betty, he finds more than he ever expected. Can Jake survive her call to action?

Mindscapes Neena Rao (PhD), 2023-02-04 Art and creativity are potent healing tools for special needs children. Demonstrating feelings through creative pursuits is a beautiful opportunity for special-needs children to connect with their emotions. It's also a proven process to reduce their anxiety and stress. Mindscapes, explores the role of artistic expression as a powerful healing tool. Entries include a variety of artistic mediums; poetry, paintings, sketches, stories etc. and brings together the thoughts, emotions and perceptions of these young minds; children and young adults with special needs. The themes of these art pieces are a sincere expression of ideas that explore the heartfelt stories of children and young adults with special needs. The essays are by the children themselves, as well by their family members, sibling, and parents to let the reader peep into the world of the families of special children. 'Meraki', a Greek word for something done with creativity, effort and a lot of love to reveal the essence of the soul. It is a platform for a virtual talent show which furthers Margikas' endeavour of showcasing the self-expression of individuals with special needs in an effort to bring out the essence of their being. The work in this book is entirely their own vision, unadulterated by the interpretations of others.
