Feeling Strangely in Mid-Century Spanish and Latin American Women's Fiction Tess C. Rankin, 2023-12-15 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library as part of the Opening the Future project with COPIM. The early twentieth century was awash in revolutionary scientific discourse, and its uptake in the public imaginary through popular scientific writings touched every area of human experience, from politics and governance to social mores and culture. Feeling Strangely argues that these shifting scientific understandings and their integration into Hispanic and Lusophone society reshaped the experience of gender. The book analyzes gender as a felt experience and explores how that experience is shaped by popular scientific discourse by examining the "strange" femininity of young protagonists in four novels written by women in Spanish and Portuguese: Rosa Chacel's Memorias de Leticia Valle (published in Argentina in 1945); Norah Lange's Personas en la sala (Argentina, 1950); Carmen Laforet's Nada (Spain, 1945); and Clarice Lispector's Perto do coração selvagem (Brazil, 1943). It pairs each novel with a broad scientific theme selected from those that captured the contemporary popular imagination to argue that the young female protagonists in these novels all put forth visions of young womanhood as an experience of strangeness. Building on Carmen Martín Gaité's term chicas raras, Rankin proposes this strangeness as constitutive of a gendered experience inextricable from affective and material engagements with the world.

Feeding Barcelona, 1714-1975 Montserrat Miller, 2015-01-12 The food markets of Barcelona host thousands of customers daily, from tourists eager to sample fresh fruits and grilled seafood to neighborhood cooks in search of high-quality ingredients. While other countries experienced major shifts away from the public-market model in the twentieth century, Barcelona's food markets remained fundamental to the city's identity, economy, and culture. Montserrat Miller's Feeding Barcelona, 1714-1975 examines the causes behind the extraordinary vibrancy and tenacity of the Barcelonan market system. Miller argues that recurrent revolutionary uprisings in Barcelona, beginning in the mid-eighteenth century, forced ongoing collaboration between the public and private sectors to ensure adequate and effective food distribution. Municipal support permitted small-scale food sellers in Barcelona to survive in a period more commonly characterized by increasing capitalization in food retail, while the importance of food markets to Barcelona's social networks enhanced vendors' ability to recognize and adapt to changing customer demands. In addition, a high number of stalls owned by women contributed both to the financial well-being of vendor families and to the sociability patterns that placed neighborhood food markets at the center of daily life in the city. The shared commitment of vendors, shoppers, and government officials to a market model of food sales created the lasting and unique market system that persists in Barcelona to this day. Drawing from extensive archival research and numerous interviews with individuals at all levels of the market system, Feeding Barcelona, 1714-1975 is the first detailed history of the historical and social influences that create urban food markets.

Rewriting Franco's Spain Samuel O'Donoghue, 2017-10-18 Rewriting Franco's Spain: Marcel Proust and the Dissident Novelists of Memory proposes a new reading of some of the most culturally significant and closely studied works of Spanish memory fiction from the past seventy years. It examines the influence of French writer Marcel Proust on fiction concerning the Spanish Civil War and Franco's dictatorship by Carmen Laforet, Juan Goytisolo, Juan Benet, Carmen Martín Gaité, Jorge Semprún, and Javier Marías. It explores the ways in which À la recherche du temps perdu has been instrumental in these authors' works, galvanizing their creative impetus, shaping their imaginative act, and guiding their adversarial stance toward Franco's regime. This book illustrates how these writers use Proustian themes and techniques and thereby enhances our understanding of the function of memory and fictional creation in some of the most important milestones in contemporary Spanish literature. Rewriting Franco's Spain argues that an appreciation of Proust's pervasive influence on Spanish memory writing obliges us to reconsider the notion that Franco's regime maintained a rigid stranglehold on imported culture. Capturing the richness of Spanish novelists' contact with literature produced outside of Spain, it challenges the prevailing scholarly tendency to focus on the novelists' immediate sociopolitical concerns. There is more to these texts than a simple testimony of the brutality and hardship of the civil war and life under Franco. By illuminating the subversive nature of Spanish novelists' use of a Proust-inspired practice of self-writing, Rewriting Franco's Spain seeks to readjust some of the ways we view the role of novelists living during the regime and in its wake. It advocates a conception of novelists as dissidents, teasing out the seditious undercurrent of their cultivation of self-writing and examining how they disputed the regime's ideas about what culture should look like. The preconception that the development of Spanish literature under Franco was stunted because Spaniards were prevented from reading works considered an affront to National-Catholic sensibilities is cast aside, as is the notion that Spain was isolated from narrative developments elsewhere. Rewriting Franco's Spain ultimately reveals the centrality of Proust's monumental novel in the evolution of contemporary Spanish literature.

El trauma del franquismo y su testimonio crítico en Nada de Carmen Laforet Irene Mizrahi, 2010

Post-war Spanish Women Novelists and the Recuperation of Historical Memory Patricia O'Byrne, 2014 Reconstructs through testimonial literature the repression of women during the Franco years and recovers the writings of some of the forgotten post-war women novelists. The passing of Spain's Law of Historical Memory (2007) marked the official recognition of the need to confront a violent and painful past. Article 2 makes reference to specific groups who experienced discrimination including religious and ethnic communities; no reference is made to the gender repression endured by women, enforced by a patriarchal regime through its legislation and policies, with the active support of the Church and the Women's Section of the Falange. Revised narratives of the period that have emerged in recent decades have raised issues in relation to the reliability and selectivity of memory, and its ongoing mediation by intervening events. While documentary sources of the period are prejudicial, cotemporaneous post-war testimonial novels provide an invaluable resource in reconstructing the past, particularly the novels of women writers. This book draws on their narrative to reconstruct the female experience of the post-war years and in particular on the writings of novelists whose work has undeservedly been disregarded. Neither the experience of women under Franco nor the narrative of women writers of the period should be forgotten. Patricia O'Byrne lectures in Hispanic Studies and Comparative Literature at Dublin City University.

El jazz en la radio de los primeros años del franquismo (1939-1945) Fernando Centenera Sánchez-Seco,2024-07-09 En este libro se aborda el tema del jazz en la radio de los primeros años del franquismo (1939-1945), reparando en el adoctrinamiento, las normas de censura y su (in)eficacia, desde una perspectiva de género. El primer capítulo es introductorio, trata la época precedente y contextualiza los desarrollos posteriores. El segundo capítulo aborda el adoctrinamiento en los programas de radio que consideraron la música y el baile, reparando en la feminidad y masculinidad pretendidas y sus antítesis, relacionadas con el jazz y los bailes asociados al mismo. En el tercer capítulo se analiza la socialización de comportamientos como recurso para dar legitimidad al régimen, considerándose el substrato ideológico subyacente en todo ello y la transmisión de normas religiosas, sociales, jurídicas y de género. Sin embargo, en la radio también se trató y emitió la música denostada en la propaganda; el capítulo cuarto ofrece muestras de ello. La contrariedad que suscita esta circunstancia, con respecto a los contenidos precedentes, aumenta, si se tienen en cuenta las normas de censura radiofónica, que incidieron en los guiones, prohibieron la "música negra" y el swing, y establecieron restricciones para las letras de los temas. En los capítulos quinto, sexto y séptimo se tratan estas normas y la confección de los programas, reparando en si se ajustaron o no a aquellas, y en la presencia del sistema de género y sus efectos en el sistema de censura. La documentación consultada constata la huella de la censura en diversas manifestaciones musicales; en el capítulo octavo se trata la cuestión y la relativa a la aplicación de sanciones. No obstante, el grado de ineficacia normativa que se aprecia es relevante, tanto en la actividad de las emisoras como en la aplicación de la censura. La circunstancia invita a analizar las motivaciones de dicho resultado, y a ello se dedica el capítulo noveno del trabajo.
