Computer Based Projects for a Chemistry Curriculum Thomas J. Manning,Aurora P. Gramatges,2013-04-04 This e-book is a collection of exercises designed for students studying chemistry courses at a high school or undergraduate level. The e-book contains 24 chapters each containing various activities employing applications such as MS excel (spreadsheets) and Spartan (computational modeling). Each project is explained in a simple, easy-to-understand manner. The content within this book is suitable as a guide for both teachers and students and each chapter is supplemented with practice guidelines and exercises. Computer Based Projects for a Chemistry Curriculum therefore serves to bring computer based learning - a much needed addition in line with modern educational trends - to the chemistry classroom.

Working with Chemistry Donald J. Wink,Sharon Fetzer-Gislason,Julie Ellefson Kuehn,2004-02-20 With this modular laboratory program, students build skills using important chemical concepts and techniques to the point where they are able to design a solution to a scenario drawn from a professional environment. The scenarios are drawn from the lives of people who work with chemistry every day, ranging from field ecologists to chemical engineers, and include many health professionals as well.

The process of weight measurement of damp powder is one example of the experiments. The book is a manual that guides a student to the correct ways of conducting an experiment made on such solutions as sodium hydroxide using hydrochloric acid and oxalic acid. Outcome of such experiments in terms of composition, weight of solutions, and measurement of pressure in certain environment is tabulated and briefly explained. Logarithms and antilogarithms are included at the end of the book. The text will serve as a good laboratory manual for students preparing for science examination as well as for chemists and chemical engineers.
