Cultural Dimensions of the User Massimo Negrotti,2005 The concept of the user is not a well-established sociological concept even though the user is omnipresent in our culture as someone who uses a device, a machine, the internet or a public service. Due to the close relationship between man and technology user studies have become very important. The papers assembled in this volume were presented at the Vth International Conference on «The Culture of the Artificial» - The User of the Artificial (Ascona Switzerland, Monte Verità, 23-25 April 2004). They deal with various aspects of the figure of the user.

Models in Contemporary Sciences Massimo Negrotti,2004 The papers presented in this book deal with methodological and application problems which arise when models are compared to theories, or when theories are to build models.

Danish Writers from the Reformation to Decadence, 1550-1900 Marianne Stecher-Hansen,2004 Presents career biographies and criticism of writers from three and a half centuries of Danish literature. The literary genres range from fiction and fairy tales to philosophy.

University Education in Denmark ,2005 In November 2003, Denmark's university education system was reviewed by the OECD Education Committee. The report is in two parts. Part I is a background briefing prepared by the Danish authorities, which describes the context within which the universities operate, their governance structure and current reforms. Part II is the OECD examiners report. It finds that teaching and research in Danish universities are of high quality but there needs to be change to strengthen the contribution to society and the economy. Although the new University Act is lauded, further steps are proposed to relax government control, consolidate research into a smaller number of institutions, reduce the time taken to complete studies and reform internal management, international links and quality assurance programmes.

Handbook of Road Ecology Rodney van der Ree,Daniel J. Smith,Clara Grilo,2015-04-02 Winner of the IENE Project Award 2016. This authoritative volume brings together some of the world's leading researchers, academics, practitioners and transportation agency personnel to present the current status of the ecological sustainability of the linear infrastructure - primarily road, rail and utility easements - that dissect and fragment landscapes globally. It outlines the potential impacts, demonstrates how this infrastructure is being improved, and how broad ecological principles are applied to mitigate the impact of road networks on wildlife. Research and monitoring is an important aspect of road ecology, encompassing all phases of a transportation project. This book covers research and monitoring to span the entire project continuum - starting with planning and design, through construction and into maintenance and management. It focuses on impacts and solutions for species groups and specific regions, with particular emphasis on the unique challenges facing Asia, South America and Africa. Other key features: Contributions from authors originating from over 25 countries, including from all continents Each chapter summarizes important lessons, and includes lists of further reading and thoroughly up to date references Highlights principles that address key points relevant to all phases in all road projects Explains best-practices based on a number of successful international case studies Chapters are stand-alone, but they also build upon and complement each other; extensive cross-referencing directs the reader to relevant material elsewhere in the book Handbook of Road Ecology offers a comprehensive summary of approximately 30 years of global efforts to quantify the impacts of roads and traffic and implement effective mitigation. As such, it is essential reading for those involved in the planning, design, assessment and construction of new roads; the management and maintenance of existing roads; and the modifying or retrofitting of existing roads and problem locations. This handbook is an accessible resource for both developed and developing countries, including government transportation agencies, Government environmental/conservation agencies, NGOs, and road funding and donor organisations.
