Wells presents an expansive yet accessible overview of human civilization, tracing the progression of societies from prehistoric times to the modern era. Written in a clear, engaging style, the book synthesizes complex historical narratives into a cohesive account,

His employment of narrative techniques helps readers better grasp the interconnectedness of historical events, movements, and ideas, while also contextualizing humanity's achievements and failures within the broader arc of history. This work carefully balances scholarly rigor with an emphasis on readability, appealing to both academic audiences and general readers alike. H. G. Wells, often celebrated for his pioneering contributions to science fiction, was equally passionate about social issues and historical inquiry. The book ends with the outcome of the First World War, the Russian famine of 1921, and the League of Nations in 1922. In 1934 Albert Einstein recommended the book for the study of history as a means of interpreting progress in civilisation.

Juxtaposed with this timeline, are narratives and features on broader aspects of history, for example, 'Early Civilizations 5000 - 1500 BCE' describes the Egyptian and Minoan civilizations. Box features also take a closer look at Egyptian Pyramids and a Neolithic Scottish settlement, dating from the same period.
