Planning Major Infrastructure Tim Marshall, 2013 This book analyses the planning and policy world of major infrastructure as it is moving now in Europe and the UK. Have some countries managed to generate genuine consensus on how the large changes are progressed? What can we learn from the different ways countries manage these challenges, to inform better spatial planning and more intelligent political steering? Case studies of the key features of policy and planning approaches in France, Germany, the Netherlands, Spain and the UK are at the core of Planning Major Infrastructure. This includes the different regimes introduced in England and Wales, and Scotland, brought in by reforms since 2006. High speed rail, renewable energy deployment, water management, waste treatment - all raise critical planning issues. The case studies connect to the big issues of principle which haunt this field of public policy: how can democratic legitimacy be secured? How can ecological and economic transitions be managed? What is the appropriate role of the national government in each of these areas, as against other levels? What part has the EU played, and should it be involved in the future? These are some of the central themes raised in this innovating exploration of this currently high profile field.

The Routledge Handbook of the History of Madrid Juan Carlos Sola Corbacho, Jodi Campbell, 2025-11-28 This handbook provides an overview of the history and historiography of Madrid, from its establishment as the seat of the royal court in 1561 to the present, with essays by leading scholars on a range of topics across culture, economics, politics, society, and urban development. It offers a useful introduction to the main outlines of the city's history for beginning scholars, identifies key lines of recent scholarship and debate for more advanced investigators, and provides substantial bibliographic and archival documentation to encourage future research. As a whole, the collection will allow readers to see the larger picture of the history of Madrid across five centuries and various disciplines, emphasizing its individual character as well as the areas where it fits best into broader Spanish and European currents. The volume is aimed at scholars of urban history and those who specialize in the history of Spain from the sixteenth century to the present.

Urban Visions Carmen Díez Medina, Javier Monclús, 2018-06-23 This book is a useful reference in the field of urbanism. It explains how the contemporary city and landscape have been shaped by certain twentieth century visions that have carried over into the twenty-first century. Aimed at both students and professionals, this collection of essays on diverse subjects and cases does not attempt to establish universal interpretations; it rather highlights some outstanding episodes that help us understand why the planning culture has given way to other forms of urbanism, from urban design to strategic urbanism or landscape urbanism. Compared with global interpretations of urbanism based on socioeconomic history or architectural historiography, Urban Visions. From Planning Culture to Landscape Urbanism, aims to present the discipline couched in international contemporary debate and adopt a historic and comparative perspective. The book's contents pertain equally to other related disciplines, such as architecture, urban history, urban design, landscape architecture and geography. Foreword by Rafael Moneo.

Un siglo de vivienda social, 1903-2003 Carlos Sambricio,2003 Dos volúmenes publicados con motivo de la exposición del mismo nombre organizada por el Ministerio de Fomento, el Ayuntamiento de Madrid-EMV y el Consejo Económico y Social (CES), con ocasión de cumplirse cien años de la creación del Instituto de Reformas Sociales, al que se encargó la tarea de llevar a cabo una serie de transformaciones que demandaba la sociedad en materia de vivienda. Ello se tradujo en la Ley de Casas Baratas de 1911, primera legislación moderna de vivienda social. Después vinieron la experiencia de las colonias de casas baratas de Primo de Rivera, la Ley Salmón, la política de reconstrucción del parque de viviendas entre 1939 y 1955, la lucha contra el chabolismo en 1950, la participación del sector privado en los años del desarrollismo y la más reciente preocupación por la rehabilitación y el espacio: ejemplos todos ellos de los hitos que han ido configurando el concepto de vivienda y de ciudad.

Ciudad Loma Dorada Beatriz Núñez Miranda,2007 The book analyses the spectacular urban growth in the late 20th century of the former rural town of Tonalá, particularly with the construction of the housing development Ciudad Loma Dorada. The project is part of the metropolitan region of Guadalajara and is an example of the urban development of the region. The author addresses the architecture, construction process of the urban space and the social and cultural changes and how the unregulated urban zoning during the 1970's in Guadalajara generated enormous housing developments and an uneven land appropriation process.
