Katrin Zwirgmaier

Ancient Egyptian Homes Brenda Williams, 2002-07-01 Discusses the homes of ancient Egypt, including how the different classes lived, what the homes looked like, and how life revolved around the home.

The Town House in Ancient Egypt Norman de Garis Davies, 1929

Mistress of the House, Mistress of Heaven Anne K. Capel, Glenn Markoe, 1996 The first-of-its-kind exhibit cataloged here focuses on the women of Egypt from all levels of society in works compiled strictly from American collections by American curators. Because the quantity of written records is limited (though enormous in comparison to most early societies), there is still much guesswork involved in determining the place women held in Egyptian society. It is clear that, unlike most ancient and not-so-ancient societies, Egypt conferred on women the legal right to own property and to barter their own goods, which means a larger record for current study. The essays here are both erudite and fascinating to read; the illustrations are clear and well presented in conjunction with the text. 117 colour & 112 b/w illustrations

Cyclopaedia of Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical Literature John McClintock, 1883

Upper Egypt: its people and its products Karl Benjamin Klunzinger, 1878 This well-written, up-to-date book presents a balanced, comprehensive approach to strengthening health systems and protecting people from terrorism. It covers the health consequences of the terrorist attacks in the United States and what has been learned from them. The authors systematically review various types of terrorist weapons, including biological, chemical, nuclear, radiologic and other radioactive weapons, and they describe ways that the public health and medical care systems can be improved, while protecting civil rights and human rights. --Publisher description.
