

What Is The Population Of Alice Springs

Sir George Buchanan

Globalization, Modernity and the City John Rennie Short, 2013-03 Globalization, Modernity and The City weaves together broad social themes with detailed urban analysis to explore the connections between the rise of big cities, the creation of a global network and the making of the modern world. It explains the growth of big cities, the urban bias of global flows and the creation of metropolitan modernities. The text develops broad theories of the subtle and complex interactions between urbanization, globalization and modernization in a sweep of the urban experience across the modern world. Thematic chapters explore the making of the modern city in profiles of the growth of urban spectacles, the role of new flanerierie, the traffic issues of the modernist city, recurring issues of urban utopias and the rise of the primate city.

Managing Visitor Attractions Brian Garrod, Stephen Wanhill, 2009-11-03 Visitor attractions represent a complex sector of the tourism industry and are the catalytic focus for the development of tourism infrastructure and services. As this area grows, there are still many questions to be answered and issues to be understood – such as what visitor attractions actually are, what forces drive their development, who visits them and why, how they are funded, and what the numerous day-to-day challenges are in respect of their management and marketing. The second edition of this successful text investigates these issues further and provides more solutions and suggestions for the present and future. Now in its 2nd edition, Managing Visitor Attractions: New Directions has been fully revised and updated to include new case studies on attractions in Singapore, seasonal variation, religion-based attractions, HRM issues and heritage tourism. It also includes five new chapters looking at attraction success and failure, interpretation, school excursions, managing gardens and brand management. Divided into five parts, the book tackles the following core topics: • the role and nature of visitor attractions • the development of visitor attraction provision • the management of visitor attractions • the marketing of visitor attractions • future issues and trends With contributions from around the world, this is an essential text for undergraduate and postgraduate students of visitor attraction management, written by subject specialists with a wealth of experience in this field.

Geothermal, Wind and Solar Energy Applications in Agriculture and Aquaculture Jochen Bundschuh, Guangnan Chen, D. Chandrasekharam, Janusz Piechocki, 2017-08-02 The agri-food chain consumes about one third of the world's energy production with about 12% of it for crop production and nearly 80% for processing, distribution, retail, preparation and cooking. The agri-food chain also accounts for 80-90% of total global freshwater use where 70% alone is for irrigation. Additionally, on a global scale, freshwater production consumes nearly 15% of the entire energy production. It can therefore be argued that making agriculture and the agri-food supply chain independent from fossil fuel use has a huge potential to contribute to global food security and climate protection not only for the next decades but also for the coming century. Provision of secure, accessible and environmentally sustainable supplies of water, energy and food must thus be a priority. One of the major objectives of the world's scientists, farmers, decisions makers and industrialists is to overcome the present dependence on fossil fuels in the agro-food sector. This dependency increases the volatility of food prices and affects economic access to sustenance. This book provides a critical review of recent developments in solar, wind and geothermal energy applications in agriculture and the agro-food sector such as processing, distribution, retail, preparation and cooking.

Art Centre Architecture Kate Goodwin,2024-06-03 This book examines the architecture of Aboriginal art centres in the Northern Territory. Art centres emerged in Australia in the 1970s alongside Aboriginal self-determination and the rise of the Indigenous art market. Primarily located in remote communities and towns, their economic and social value has been widely acknowledged. Together with supporting artists and facilitating the production and sale of art works, they provide an invaluable safe space for community to come together and to practice Culture. Art centres occupy existing, adapted or purpose-designed buildings, often developed over time, with varying degrees of architect involvement. While each art centre is specific to Country and community, they share commonalities in their activities, facilities, and architectural strategies. This study provides a contextual introduction to art centres and remote communities in the Northern Territory. It documents and analyses the architecture of twelve centres across diverse regions, from the Tiwi Islands and the tropical Top End to the Central Desert. The study identifies some of the key factors impacting building outcomes and pinpoints ideas that can inform discussions between architects, community, and funding bodies. As well as the architectural profession, it is intended as an informative document for those involved in art centres and anyone interested in these unique hybrid entities.
