EW Minium

1999, 1999 1999 1999

Bonhoeffer: Agent of Grace , The Public Broadcasting Service (PBS), Oregon Public Broadcasting, and the Aid Association for Lutherans provide an online supplement to the film entitled Bonhoeffer: Agent of Grace. The film focuses on the life of the German theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer (1906-1945), who resisted the Nazis during World War II. The transcript, a biography, reading list, timeline, and other materials are available online.

Projecting the Holocaust into the Present Lawrence Baron, 2005-11-01 Most Holocaust scholars and survivors contend that the event was so catastrophic and unprecedented that it defies authentic representation in feature films. Yet it is precisely the extremity of the Final Solution and the issues it raised that have fueled the cinematic imagination since the end of World War II. Recognizing that movies reach a greater audience than eyewitness, historical, or literary accounts, Lawrence Baron argues that they mirror changing public perceptions of the Holocaust over time and place. After tracing the evolution of the most commonly employed genres and themes in earlier Holocaust motion pictures, he focuses on how films from the 1990s made the Holocaust relevant for contemporary audiences. While genres like biographical films and love stories about doomed Jewish-Gentile couples remained popular, they now cast Jews or non-Jewish victims like homosexuals in lead roles more often than was the case in the past. Baron attributes the recent proliferation of Holocaust comedies and children's movies to the search for more figurative and age-appropriate genres for conveying the significance of the Holocaust to generations born after it happened. He contends that thematic shifts to stories about neo-Nazis, rescuers, survivors, and their children constitute an expression of the continuing impact the Holocaust exerts on the present. The book concludes with a survey of recent films like Nowhere in Africa and The Pianist.

Virtue Of Foresight Conrad Riker, 101-01-01 You Were Born to Lead — But the World Wants You to Submit Have you ever felt like you're wired to protect, provide, and lead — only to be labeled "toxic" for doing so? Have you watched society collapse around you while men are shamed into silence? Have you looked for truth — real truth — about masculinity, purpose, and the spiritual war we're losing? This book is not another self-help gimmick. It's a field manual for men who are awake. - A return to God-ordained masculinity — not oppression, but divine duty - The forgotten art of foresight — how to see 10 moves ahead in a world of reaction - Why modern culture attacks male leadership — and how to stand firm anyway - Biblical foundations stripped of weakness, rebuilt with steel logic and purpose - The real role of women — not enemies, not rulers, but helpmates in sacred order - How feminism, Marxism, and cultural decay are one spiritual sickness with many names - Decision-making that saves families, not therapy that dissolves them - Honor is not dead — it's the only thing that can save us now If you want to reclaim your purpose, lead with clarity, and raise sons who won't be broken by the system — buy this book today.

The Virtue of Bonhoeffer's Ethics Jennifer Moberly, 2013-06-19 Does Dietrich Bonhoeffer's Ethics have any affinities with what we have now come to call virtue ethics? If so, what is the relationship between those affinities and the more widely recognized influence of Karl Barth? Moberly seeks to answer these questions through close analysis of the Ethics and engagement with other interpreters of Bonhoeffer, while discussing the nature of virtue ethics in a Christian context. The answers may be surprising, but they are certainly rewarding for anyone wanting to better understand Bonhoeffer and to see how his work could be helpful for current ethical debates.

Dietrich Bonhoeffer's Christian Humanism Jens Zimmermann, 2019-06-13 Jens Zimmermann locates Bonhoeffer within the Christian humanist tradition extending back to patristic theology. He begins by explaining Bonhoeffer's own use of the term humanism (and Christian humanism), and considering how his criticism of liberal Protestant theology prevents him from articulating his own theology rhetorically as a Christian humanism. He then provides an in-depth portrayal of Bonhoeffer's theological anthropology and establishes that Bonhoeffer's Christology and attendant anthropology closely resemble patristic teaching. The volume also considers Bonhoeffer's mature anthropology, focusing in particular on the Christian self. It introduces the hermeneutic quality of Bonhoeffer's theology as a further important feature of his Christian humanism. In contrast to secular and religious fundamentalisms, Bonhoeffer offers a hermeneutic understanding of truth as participation in the Christ event that makes interpretation central to human knowing. Having established the hermeneutical structure of his theology, and his personalist configuration of reality, Zimmermann outlines Bonhoeffer's ethics as 'Christformation'. Building on the hermeneutic theology and participatory ethics of the previous chapters, he then shows how a major part of Bonhoeffer's life and theology, namely his dedication to the Bible as God's word, is also consistent with his Christian humanism.
