Gender and the Male Character in 21st Century Fairy Tale Narratives Natalie Le Clue, 2024-09-16 Putting Prince Charming in the academic spotlight, this collection examines the evolution of male fairy tale characters across modern series and films to bridge a gap that afflicts multiple disciplines.

Technologies of Gender Teresa de Lauretis, 1987-11-22 Technologies of Gender builds a bridge between the fashionable orthodoxies of academic theory (Lacan, Foucault, Derrida, et al.) and the frequently-marginalized contributions of feminist theory. . . . In sum, de Lauretis has written a book that should be required reading for every feminist in need of theoretical ammunition—and for every theorist in need of feminist enlightenment. —B. Ruby Rich . . . sets philosophical ideas humming. . . . she has much to say. —Cineaste I can think of no other work that pushes the debate on the female subject forward with such passion and intellectual rigor. —SubStance This book addresses the question of gender in poststructuralist theoretical discourse, postmodern fiction, and women's cinema. It examines the construction of gender both as representation and as self-representation in relation to several kinds of texts and argues that feminism is producing a radical rewriting, as well as a rereading, of the dominant forms of Western culture.

Giving Up the Ghost Katherine A. Fowkes, 1998 Arguing that our enjoyment of ghost films is linked to masochistic pleasure, Giving up the Ghost provides us with a new way of thinking about the relation between film viewing and gender. A deft but readable application of psychoanalytic theories, especially masochism (by way of Deleuze and Studlar), extends the utility of psychoanalysis to the understanding of film genre and film audiences. It is indispensable reading for scholars and students of film theory.

China's Avant-Garde, 1978-2018 Daria Berg, Giorgio Strafella, 2022-11-11 This book examines how China's new generation of avant-garde writers and artists are pushing the boundaries of vernacular culture, creatively appropriating artistic and literary languages from global cultures to reflect on reform-era China's transformation and the Maoist heritage. It explores the vortex of cultural change from the launch of Deng Xiaoping's reforms in 1978 to Xi Jinping establishing his leadership for life in 2018. The book argues that China's new avant-garde adopt transcultural forms of expression while challenging the official discourse of Xi Jinping's regime, which promotes cultural nationalism and demands that cultural production in China embodies the essence of the Chinese nation. The topics range from body art, women's poetry and boys' love literature to Tibetan fiction and ceramic art. The book shows how the avant-garde use the new digital media to bypass government censorship, transcending China's virtual frontiers while breaking new ground for an emerging public sphere. Overall, the book provides a rich picture of the nature of China's avant-garde art and literature and the challenges it poses for the Chinese government. Fifty Contemporary One-act Plays Frank Shay, Pierre Loving, 1920

Gender and Popular Visual Culture in India Francis Philip Barclay, Kaifia Ancer Laskar, 2023-11-03 Perhaps, male-mindedness seems to have adapted to changing-contemporary circumstances to become more covert and conspiratorial. Sexist suggestions—through objectification and substantiated subordination—for instance, may have been explicit in Indian media a decade earlier. But in the contemporary times of online social media and vociferous feminism, such openness of unfairness against women in the media will, more often than not, be met with strife and unpalatable backlash - fearing which blatant prejudice is prudently steered clear of. It is, hence, understandable that patriarchy, to sustain itself as a culture, has adapted to become more benevolent in an increasingly hostile environment. To identify such sly and stealthy sexism embedded in media content, one may need a reconfigured grasp of contemporary feminist issues and an altered nuance for isolation and identification of discriminatory depictions. This book exposes redefined and hidden sexism that predominates the popular visual culture of India - particularly investigating mass and new media representations that are a prime part of and have a domineering effect on the ensemble of popular visual culture - and characterises contemporary feminist movements. It binds a collection of contemporary Indian case studies of sexism and feminism encompassing communication media such as print, cinema, television, Web series and social media. There is a lack of book titles that study media sexism in the present times, and the proposed book aims to explore an unexplored area that is of social and scholarly importance. This book highlights the duality of media platforms: while media is a critical tool associated with fourth-wave feminism, they still remain to be a deterrent to the development of women engendering inherent and age-old patriarchal notions. This book will be an eye-opener to the general readers about benevolent sexism and train them to identify sexism hidden in seemingly pro-women media representations.

African American Women and Sexuality in the Cinema Norma Manatu, 2003 In this study, Manatu (John Jay College of Criminal Justice) looks at representations of African American women as sexual objects in film from the 1980s to the present. She examines 16 movies by male filmmakers to assess differences in the ways in which black and white men portray black women. The text is based upon the author's dissertation studies at New York University. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR Video Games between Postcolonialism and Postcommunism Andrei Nae, 2025-10-20 This volume sets out to investigate video games' complex entanglement with colonial legacies. By means of its methodological diversity, it offers a rich perspective on the ideological working of coloniality in video games at the intersection with multiple other power structures and economic systems. Besides Global North/South and West/East tensions, it also focuses on postcommunist contexts and their bearings on video games.

Représentation Du Rôle de la Femme Et de L'homme Dans la Programmation de la Télévision Canadienne George Spears, Kasia Seydegart, Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission, 1986 This report is one of five that document the portrayal of sexroles in Canadian broadcast media in the autumn of 1984, following two years of industry self-regulation. Together they present the results of a content analysis of French language and English language media, both programming and advertising, on television and on radio. This study is the largest and most comprehensive content analysis of sex roles undertaken on Canadian media.

Liminal Spaces Alex Ramon, 2008 This book offers a comprehensive reassessment of the work of Carol Shields. Arguing against enduring conceptions of Shields's (TM)s fiction as celebratory domestic miniaturism, the study presents her work as more expansive and equivocal than has sometimes been recognised, reading her texts as a liminal spaces situated on a series of formal and thematic borders. Close attention is paid to Shields's (TM)s stylistic experimentation, to her subversions of auto/biography and historiography, and to the significance of her critical writing, while works which have previously received very little analysis, such as her early poetry collections, are also examined. Intertextual links between Shields's (TM)s work and that of a range of other writers including Phillip Larkin, Iris Murdoch, Alice Munro and Margaret Atwood are identified and explored, and the study also draws extensively on manuscript materials which give an insight into Shields's (TM)s working methods and extend debate about her experiments with narrative perspective and genre-mixing.
