The Structural Basis of Architecture Bjørn N. Sandaker, Arne P. Eggen, Mark R. Cruvellier, 2013-01-11 This is a book about structures that shows students how to see structures as integral to architecture, and how knowledge of structures is the basis for understanding both the mechanical and conceptual aspects inherent to the art of building. Analyzing the structural principles behind many of the best known works of architecture from past and present alike, this book places the subject within a contemporary context. The subject matter is approached in a qualitative and discursive manner, and is illustrated by many photographs of architectural projects and structural behaviour diagrams. This new edition is revised and updated throughout, includes worked-out examples, and is perfect as either an introductory structures course text or as a designer's sourcebook for inspiration.

The House in the Twentieth-century Richard Weston, 2002 The House in the Twentieth Century describes the history of the modern house, covering all the key design examples together with many others that are less well-known but equally important in an architectural sense.

Modern House 2 Clare Melhuish,2000-01-10 Following Phaidon's hugely popular Modern House(1993), Modern House 2 is a survey of the world's most innovative contemporary houses. Organized thematically, it examines over 30 houses, considering contemporary issues such as ecological concerns, changing patterns of living, building with sensitivity in increasingly populated cities, and respecting the environment when building in isolated rural areas. It also discusses concept houses for the future, focusing on international competition designs or commissions for 'model houses' and offers an insight into future possibilities for domestic architecture. Architects featured include Glenn Murcutt, Office for Metropolitan Architecture, Foster and Partners, Williams and Tsien, Günter Behnisch, Patkau Architects, SANAA, Herzog & de Meuron, Marcos Acayaba and Gabriel Poole. Modern House 2 responds to an increasing level of knowledge and sophistication about design and environmental issues to illustrate that striking and innovative design can be achieved within the framework of concerns about everyday living patterns that affect us all.

The Un-private House Terence Riley,1999 This book looks at twenty-six houses by an international roster of contemporary architects--P. [4] of cover.

Experimental Houses Nicolas Pople,2000 The book opens with a historical review of experimental houses over the last 500 years - with a particular focus on the twentieth century - covering the work of Mies van der Rohe, Le Corbusier, Frank Lloyd Wright and others. It also outlines some of the key social, political and economic driving forces behind the development of houses in the twentieth century. Projects covered in the rest of the book are organized by type: shelter and mobile homes, prefabricated houses, ecological houses, cluster houses, infill houses, conversions and re-use and one-offs. Each chapter opens with an essay outlining the theme. Outstanding examples from all over the world are then examined in depth, with analytical commentary accompanied by sections, plans and photographs.--BOOK JACKET.Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America, Inc. Revisiting the Glass House Jessica Hough,Mónica Ramírez-Montagut,Aldrich Museum of Contemporary Art (Ridgefield, Conn.),Yale University. School of Architecture,Mills College. Art Museum,2008 Explores the ways in which contemporary artists incorporate images of modern buildings in their work as a means to explore the utopian potential of architecture and to provide an antidote to the cynicism of our time.

The Millennium House Nina Rappaport, 2004 In the academic year 2000-2001, Yale professor and New York City- based architect Peggy Deamer led two innovative courses: a focused seminar on the state of contemporary residential design and a creative studio offering house designs that drew on the discoveries of the seminar. This book combines work from both courses in a thoughtful and provocative study of the state of the house at the turn of the millennium. Deamer introduces the volume with an essay on three issues vital to a discussion of millennial design: newness, uniqueness, and design innovation. Designs of visiting seminar critics -- Steven Holl, Elizabeth Diller and Ricardo Scofidio, William McDonough, LOT/EK, Winy Maas, and Jacques Herzog -- are showcased along with descriptive and analytical texts. Work from the studio course is divided into various themes explored by the students: image, standardization and modularity, networks and diagrams. The hybrid quality of this volume -- designs by practicing architects and by students; observation and interpretation -- reflects debates and issues at the heart of early-twenty-first-century architecture.
