Ann L. Ardis

The Novel in Transition: Space, Identity, and the Politics of Transformation Selin Şencan, Barış Ağır, Gözde Pınar Bilginer, Mehmet Kerim Balkan, Sinem Çapar İleri, Yöntem Kılış, Selenay Sıla Saldır, Berivan Ayık, 2025-03-19 In contemporary fiction, shifting identities, contested spaces, and sociopolitical ruptures are central concerns, reflecting the broader crises of migration, ecological displacement, posthumanism, and gendered spatial politics. The Novel in Transition examines these intersections of space, identity, and power, offering critical insights into how novels engage with the changing landscapes of selfhood and spatiality. Building on theoretical approaches in geocriticism, feminist theory, and postcolonial studies, this volume explores how fiction constructs and deconstructs subjectivities within fluid geographies. It traces the evolving narratives of transformation that define contemporary literature, from nomadic resistance in dystopian landscapes to the contested terrains of diaspora and belonging. By engaging with these pressing issues, this book positions fiction as both a theoretical framework and a mode of empirical analysis, illustrating its role in shaping new imaginaries of identity and space in an era of unprecedented global change.

Trapped, feminized, Joe has a big choice to make. THE PARTY GIFT MORGAN liked to do a little cross dressing. No harm, no foul. But one day he is caught, and given to a pimp. He refuses the pimp, however, so he is given to a gang of bikers. The real question is...what will his wife do? I WAS FEMINIZED BY THE FBI SPECIAL AGENT JENSEN has to catch a seerial killer! The Body Swap Virus Penelope Hazel,2021-03 Does this virus also increase physical desire? My involuntary transformation into a young, attractive woman was already the fulfillment of my fears. But when I learned how to administer the medicine, I had to completely fall into the role of a woman - or be trapped in a woman's body forever.This is the exciting story that I experienced during this process. So much can be revealed: It is not suitable for young people under the age of 18.It's an erotic male to female body swap story.

Antarctica in Fiction Elizabeth Leane,2012-06-29 This comprehensive analysis of literary responses to Antarctica examines the rich body of literature that the continent has provoked over the last three centuries, focussing particularly on narrative fiction. Novelists as diverse as Edgar Allan Poe, James Fenimore Cooper, Jules Verne, H. P. Lovecraft, Ursula Le Guin, Beryl Bainbridge and Kim Stanley Robinson have all been drawn artistically to the far south. The continent has also inspired genre fiction, including a Mills and Boon novel, a Phantom comic and a Biggles book, as well as countless lost-race romances, espionage thrillers and horror-fantasies. Antarctica in Fiction draws on these sources, as well as film, travel narratives and explorers' own creative writing. It maps the far south as a space of the imagination and argues that only by engaging with this space, in addition to the physical continent, can we understand current attitudes towards Antarctica.

The Daughter's Dilemma Paula Marantz Cohen,2025-10-01 The Daughter's Dilemma breaks new ground in literary studies through its application of family systems theory to the analysis of nineteenth-century domestic novels. Cohen argues for structural correspondences between families and novels: as systems seeking closure, they are governed by certain analogous laws. She argues further that the father-daughter dyad is the pivotal structure by which the nuclear family and the domestic novel were able to define themselves as closed systems. The study treats novels by Samuel Richardson, Jane Austen. Emily Bronte, George Eliot, and Henry James and places them in the context of the writers' individual family experiences. Drawing on recent work in literary and feminist criticism, anthropology, history, and psychoanalysis. as well as family systems theory, Cohen seeks to critique the limitations of these theoretical models even as she employs them to illuminate the texts under discussion. The study's approach leads to insights about the contemporary family and about the present state of literature and literary criticism. Cohen concludes by suggesting that the modern period marked the demise of an ideology favoring closed systems. The result has been both a nostalgia for those systems and a redefinition of experience and relationship as open and subject to endless interpretation. Such an ideological reformulation helps explain the present insistence by literary theorists on the inescapability of the text and the reality of representation.
