Old French Romances, Done into English William Morris,2019-12-05 In Old French Romances, Done into English, William Morris embarks on a transformative journey through medieval narratives, translating and adapting a selection of significant Old French romances. This anthology not only showcases the poetic beauty and vivid storytelling characteristic of the original texts but also embodies Morris's commitment to infusing them with a contemporary resonance. The work reflects the medieval cultural ethos while being imbued with Morris's distinctive rhythmic prose and vivid imagery, celebrating chivalry, love, and adventure against a backdrop of an enchanting past. William Morris, a leading figure of the Arts and Crafts Movement, was deeply influenced by medieval literature and art, which resonated with his vision of a harmonious, artistic way of life. His fascination with the romantic ideals of the past inspired his translations, as he sought to revitalize forgotten stories for the modern reader. Morris's passion for craftsmanship and beauty permeates this collection, revealing his dedication to both the art of storytelling and the preservation of cultural heritage. This book is recommended for those intrigued by medieval literature, as well as readers interested in the interplay of language and cultural history. Morris's translations breathe new life into classic tales, making them accessible to modern audiences while preserving their intrinsic charm and depth. A must-read for scholars and lovers of romance alike, this collection invites exploration of the timeless themes that continue to resonate today. In this enriched edition, we have carefully created added value for your reading experience: - A comprehensive Introduction outlines these selected works' unifying features, themes, or stylistic evolutions. - The Author Biography highlights personal milestones and literary influences that shape the entire body of writing. - A Historical Context section situates the works in their broader era—social currents, cultural trends, and key events that underpin their creation. - A concise Synopsis (Selection) offers an accessible overview of the included texts, helping readers navigate plotlines and main ideas without revealing critical twists. - A unified Analysis examines recurring motifs and stylistic hallmarks across the collection, tying the stories together while spotlighting the different work's strengths. - Reflection

Friendship and Love in the Middle English Metrical Romances Anna Hubertine Reuters,1991 «Friendship and Love in the Middle English Metrical Romances» groups together a representative cross-section of the genre, according to variants of love relationships, and to ideas of friendship. The horizontal and the vertical structure of the relationship are tripartite. The horizontal stages are attraction, separation-testing-trial, and reunion, the vertical spheres are the personal, social/political, and religious. All relationships fall into two types, the restorative-concordant and the innovative-discordant. These are defined by the relative position of the partners in the social-political sphere of their relationship. The groups of relationship are defined by the initially more active partner: forward heroine, fairy mistress, forward hero, mutual love, married love; friendship, lords and retainers. Surveys of the Insular understanding of courtly love, and of Caxton's prose romances, complement the findings.
