Café Poet Ray R. Tyndale,2013 For six months in early 2012, Ray Tyndale worked as a cafe poet at Sarah's Sister's Sustainable Cafe in the mainstreet of beach side Semaphore in Adelaide. With coffee drinkers and lunchers from all walks of life she sat and talked poetry, and listened to their stories, shared laughter and reminiscence, and wrote it all down. Here is the result: anecdotes and stories, both happy and sad but displaying the core of community in poems that are accessible, sometimes funny, sometimes black but always distilling the essence of life in Semaphore.

'Alternative' cultures and leisure Alan Law,Stephen Wearing,2017-12-22 Contemporary discourse on sustainability points to the need for substantial, if not radical, shifts in relations between productivity, environment, consumption and identities, in ways which bring or restore balance to the intersecting domains. The catchphrase of 'sustainability' has made its way into mainstream discourse on the heels of the ongoing global financial crisis and responses to global warming. The literature of leisure, sport and particularly tourism are replete with fine examples of 'sustainability', contributing to full ecology planning approaches. This book aims to stimulate debate and discussion within the leisure studies community about the roles of 'alternative cultures' in producing viable models of sustainable relations between work, leisure and environment. Key elements of these discussions, such as participatory democracy and deep ecology, have long been characteristic of cultural configurations loosely called 'counter' or 'alternative' to a voracious, hierarchical and unconscious modernity. However the leisure studies community has largely neglected their significance up until now. How are leisure, sustainable livelihoods and 'alternative' cultures connected, and what influence do they have? This book was originally published as a special issue of Annals of Leisure Research.

Activating Critical Thinking to Advance the Sustainable Development Goals in Tourism Systems Karla A. Boluk,Christina T. Cavaliere,Freya Higgins-Desbiolles,2021-05-12 Activating Critical Thinking to Advance the Sustainable Development Goals in Tourism Systems focuses on the role of critical thinking and inquiry in the implementation of the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in tourism systems. The impetus for the development of this book emerged from the declaration by the United Nations (UN) General Assembly of 2017 as the International Year of Sustainable Tourism for Development. This declaration purposely positions tourism as a tool to advance the universal 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the 17 SDGs, thus mutually serving as an opportunity and responsibility to appraise from a critical lens what the SDGs signify and how they can be understood from multiple perspectives. The chapters in the book foster the next phase of sustainable tourism scholarship that actively considers the interconnections of the UN's SDGs to tourism theory and praxis, and activates critical thinking to analyze and advance sustainability in tourism systems. It articulates the need for the academy to be more intrinsically involved in ongoing iterations of multilateral accords and decrees, to ensure they embody more critical and inclusive transitions toward sustainability, as opposed to market-driven, neoliberal directives. The contributions in this book encourage various worldviews challenging, shaping, and more critically reflecting the realities of global communities as related to, and impacted by, sustainable tourism development. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Sustainable Tourism.

Indigenous Tourism Michelle Whitford, Lisa Ruhanen, Anna Carr, 2017-06-30 This volume presents a collection of unique case studies focusing on issues pertaining to indigenous tourism in two of the world's recognised leading destinations for indigenous tourism planning and development.
