

Land Bread And Peace

Corina L. Apostol, Nato Thompson

Peace, Land, Bread! John J. Vail, 2006-09 This book takes its title from one of the Russian Revolution's most famous slogans: Peace, Land, Bread! Its promises helped to foster support for the Bolshevik movement & contributed to the downfall of a monarchy that had ruled feudalistic Russia for centuries. The book examines the turbulent & destructive period between the revolt against the autocracy of the tsar & the rise to power of Josef Stalin. Illustrated with carefully chosen selections of historical drawings & photos, & complete with maps, chronologies, suggestions for further reading, & indexes.

Making Another World Possible Corina L. Apostol, Nato Thompson, 2019-10-11 Making Another World Possible offers a broad look at an array of socially engaged cultural practices that have become increasingly visible in the past decade, across diverse fields such as visual art, performance, theater, activism, architecture, urban planning, pedagogy, and ecology. Part I of the book introduces the reader to the field of socially engaged art and cultural practice, spanning the past ten years of dynamism and development. Part II presents a visually striking summary of key events from 1945 to the present, offering an expansive view of socially engaged art throughout history, and Part III offers an overview of the current state of the field, elucidating some of the key issues facing practitioners and communities. Finally, Part IV identifies ten global issues and, in turn, documents 100 key artistic projects from around the world to illustrate the various critical, aesthetic and political modes in which artists, cultural workers, and communities are responding to these issues from their specific local contexts. This is a much needed and timely archive that broadens and deepens the conversation on socially engaged art and culture. It includes commissioned essays from noted critics, practitioners, and theorists in the field, as well as key examples that allow insights into methodologies, contextualize the conditions of sites, and broaden the range of what constitutes an engaged culture. Of interest to a wide range of readers, from practitioners and scholars of performance to curators and historians, Making Another World Possible offers both breadth and depth, spanning history and individual works, to offer a unique insight into the field of socially engaged art.

Becoming Colleen Adele Kelly,2021-08-04 America and me. Both getting older, But still becoming. Never perfect, Always striving to become, to be A better version of what you see. You, beholder, may emphasize the flaws. I ask you pause, focus on the aim, What we desire to become; to be Perfection is a goal, not a reality. During 2020, the United States of America was ravaged not just by a global pandemic but also by mass protests and tense elections. As death haunted the year, one tragedy after the other hung over the land like a dark shadow. In a collection of poems penned during this tumultuous time in history, Colleen Adele Kelly shares reflections that vividly explore the emotions that surrounded lockdown, fears, losses, and gains as a country struggled to endure through each challenge. Divided into six parts, Kelly's poems lyrically detail the protests, seasons and prayer, the pandemic purge, the elections, and the resurgence of hope as the nation began its recovery from a novel virus and year. Becoming shares poems that address the challenges of a century with heartfelt and incisive insight and elements of prayer and wit.

Peace, Land, and Bread ,2025-10-25 The sixth issue of Peace, Land, and Bread continues its mission to merge radical scholarship with creative insurgency. Emerging from a world increasingly marked by repression, fascism, and the commodification of knowledge, this issue insists that to make is to resist, and that creation itself is an act of defiance. Featuring new work by Gerald Horne and Anthony Ballas on Ho Chi Minh and Black Liberation, Pawel Wargan's The Neoliberal Holocaust, Ted Reese on Capitalism in Terminal Decline, and essays by Nolan Long, Derek R. Ford, D. Musa Springer, and Kyle Ferrana, PLB No. 6 documents the struggle for truth and liberation through theory, analysis, and art. The issue also includes visual contributions from Earth Liberation Studio, Red Bait, Color Collective Press, GQ of All Power Books, and others-each piece reflecting a revolutionary commitment to creation amid darkness. Peace, Land, and Bread remains a space where politics and aesthetics converge-a living archive of revolutionary imagination, creativity, and scholarship.
