

La Cueva Del Angel

Robert M. Laughlin

La Trilogía de la Cueva Del Ángel Silvia Bazan, Daniel Behar, 2023-08 La Trilogía de La Cueva del Ángel es de una temática espiritual e histórica: En La Cueva del Ángel Una misteriosa cueva alberga un secreto: un Ser de luz que hace miles de años se apareció a una mujer y que en pleno siglo XXI una antropóloga, Sofía, vuelve a percibir. Sofía emprende un viaje a Medio Oriente en busca de la cueva en la que se apareció ese ser para entender una enigmática experiencia que tuvo en un hospital. En una Gota, Sofía se da cuenta del inmenso significado de una gota mientras recorre la ruta del Éxodo. Su objetivo es investigar la vida de Moisés y de quienes, más allá de los relatos tradicionales, influyeron en él. Lo que descubrirá tiene repercusiones hasta el día de hoy. Aventura, milagros, emoción, drama, amor, fe. Todo se conjuga en una novela trepidante que dejará huella. Finalmente Ella, nos muestra personajes de la antigüedad que están más cerca de nosotros de lo que imaginamos. Y muchas historias de hace milenios tienen repercusiones hasta el día de hoy. Esta novela expone una versión distinta de uno de los personajes más importantes de la humanidad.

La Cueva del Ángel DANIEL BEHAR, SILVIA BAZÁN, 2020-02-14 Una maravillosa muestra de literatura fantástica, como hace mucho no se escribía en español. ¡Inolvidable! Parecía que el esposo de Sofía iba a morir en el hospital, pero ocurre un milagro: un ángel le salva la vida. ¿Cómo puede ella explicarlo desde su mente científica? El corazón le da un vuelco cuando encuentra la respuesta en la desconocida historia de Amtalai, la madre de Abraham, y se da cuenta de que el mismo ángel los salvó a ellos hace miles de años. En una época de aflicción, esta novela te cambiará la vida. Te llevará al pasado para entender los milagros de hoy. Y te mostrará que los ángeles sí existen...

The Cave of An Angel DANIEL BEHAR, SILVIA BAZAN, 2020-11-03 An unforgettable masterpiece of fantastic literature in many years! A miracle happens in a hospital, when Sophia's husband is gravely ill and his final hour draws near—an angel saves him. Can she explain it scientifically? The secret resides in a mysterious cave. Sophia travels to the Middle East to find it, never imagining that her research and a few inherited manuscripts would reveal the story of Amtalai, the mother of Abraham, saved by the same angel so many centuries ago. The Cave of An Angel takes us on a symbolic and emotional journey to the past, where we may discover, for those of us who feel lost in this age, the miracles of our time.

Neanderthal Complex Behaviour Through the Lens of Faunal Resources Mariana Nabais, Ruth Blasco, 2025-12-05 Back in the 19th century, when evolution was becoming established, it was easy to assume that fossil meant “primitive”. Such a notion continued, and it implied that human complex behaviors were considered hallmarks of modernity and, therefore, exclusive to Anatomically Modern Humans (AMH). However, in recent decades archaeology has demonstrated that, both cognitively and behaviorally, Neanderthals were no different from their contemporary African populations from which our ancestry mostly derives. Additionally, there have been an increasing number of examples where a single skeleton displays a combination of Neanderthal and AMH morphological characteristics. Recent genetic studies have also confirmed these ideas of interbreeding, showing that most current western world populations carry Neanderthal genes. This genetic work has enhanced the growing body of evidence displaying Neanderthal complexity, like their use of personal ornamentation, their probable artistic representations in some Spanish caves, or their adaptability to different resources and environments. Zooarchaeological investigation is seen as key in detecting Neanderthal complex behaviors, and can advance our understanding in one of the most debated issues in Paleolithic Archaeology. The traditional idea of Neanderthals avoiding the coast and their marine resources, or their disregard for small size prey (like birds, rabbits or tortoises), has been put into question. Multiple archaeological sites have shown evidence of intentionally broad diets in Neanderthals; marked by the inclusion of a wide range of animals, from very large to small game, and the consumption of aquatic resources. Zooarchaeology has been pivotal in providing evidence to disprove long-standing notions of Neanderthal inability to, not only adapt to changing environments, but also their inability to procure, process, store and preserve faunal resources, and even use these faunal resources as raw materials for tool production and ornamentation. The goal of this Research Topic is two-fold: (1) to present new evidence that challenges the traditionally accepted models in which Neanderthals are seen as limited in their faunal resource use; (2) to design new models in which ecological adaptability and faunal resource use trends can demonstrate Neanderthal’s malleable and complex behaviors. The scope of this collection will comprehensively compile the current developments and recent advancements in the field of zooarchaeology from Neanderthal contexts. We welcome original research, systematic review, methods, review, hypothesis & theory article types, as well as mini reviews, perspectives, case reports, and brief research reports. Areas to be covered in this Research Topic may include, but are not limited to: • Large and small prey use by Neanderthals (e.g. food, raw materials, ornamentation) • Neanderthal provisioning strategies of faunal resources • Neanderthal processing activities of faunal resources • Neanderthal preservation and storing of faunal resources • Neo-taphonomic experimentations with faunal specimens
