Impression Techniques in Complete Denture and Removable Partial Denture Dr. Nimisha Kakkad, Dr. Vrinda Saxena, Dr. Varsha Verma, 2022-06-08 The precision of the dental imprints is crucial for a successful dental prosthesis or restoration. "An impression is " A negative likeness or copy in reverse of the surface of an object. " To complete this duty, clinicians must choose an important impression technique and material carefully. The qualities of the impression material, the impression processes employed, and the attributes of the cast or die material all affect how accurate the cast is. Every method and material has benefits and downsides. The physician must choose the most appropriate material and procedure based on the facts, even when the optimal material and technique have not yet been created. It is challenging to provide traditional prosthodontic therapy to patients with compromised edentulous ridges. To meet the functional and aesthetic needs of the patient, modifications to the treatment regimen should be considered. This book Summarizes the material and techniques to be adopted for the particular situation in complete denture and removable partial denture.

Techniques of Impression Making in Complete Dentures Dr. Mohammad Kashif Noorani, Dr. Kumar Adarsh, Dr. Kunal Gaurav Seth, Dr. Bhavana Sharma, Dr. Khushbu Mishra, 2021-03-27 The journey towards successful denture fabrication begins with making accurate impressions. All subsequent steps that are necessary for complete denture fabrication will be greatly diminished if the denture base does not fit due to inadequate impression. Impression making consumes a significant portion of the dentist's time during denture construction. Therefore a good impression will help to insure that complete denture is stable, retentive and comfortable. So, the knowledge of different impression techniques are very important for us to achieve a good impression.
