Cala Coats

Tulsa Larry Clark, 2000 Clark's classic photo-essay of Midwestern youth caught in the tumult of the 1960s is available for the first time in nearly 20 years. The raw, haunting images document a youth culture progressively overwhelmed by self-destruction and are as moving and disturbing as when they first appeared.

Tulsa, Ok Victor d'Allant, 2021-10 Almost exactly fifty years after Larry Clark's TULSA first came out (Lustrum Press, 1971), Victor d'Allant returns to Oklahoma and revisits this seminal work, one that quickly became a reference book in documentary photography. A visual anthropologist born in Paris, Victor d'Allant interviewed all his sitters before taking his camera out. In this book, he shares their stories along with their pictures. The result: a vision of the U.S. that's both realistic and heartbreaking. They show those Americans that the Coastal Elite still refuses to acknowledge, too busy they are making fun of those who live in the Flyover States, the Bible Belt, the Rectangular States, ... In her honest and sometimes brutal essay TULSA, NOT OK,, Julie Winter, a drug dealer based in Tulsa, writes: So this is Tulsa, OK. The inner workings of a town that can only be sated by alcohol, drugs, sex, church and hopelessness. These women, I know them all, because I am them. I introduced most of them to this photographer - Victor d'Allant. He asked me to give him a real experience of the Flyover States. I served it to him on a silver tray - with little white lines of cocaine. Then he took pictures.

Tulsa Thomas Mailaender, 2022 Thomas Mailaender opens an experimental photographic laboratory, in operation for the duration of Paris Photo 2022. With his lab assistants, he manipulates different techniques of photographic printing, dating back to the primitive period in the history of photography - using cyanotype, Van Dyke (formerly called sepia or bistre paper) and photosensitive gelatin - as well as to the modern era, with Xerography and acrylic transfer. In a succession of steps, he reprints images from iconic books in the history of photography onto the pages of other books, mixing different photographers. From this process, unique books are born, where authors, styles and eras are intermingled. This irreverent process gives rise to a library of Wbook-objects, where the chemical print replaces the photomechanical print. Chemistry becomes the vector of a vast remix of images. -- Bookseller's website (RVB Books).

Heroin Larry Clark, 2001-12 The latest book project from the reclusive artist and acclaimed director of the controversial film 'Kids' and the well-received 'Another Day in Paradise', as well as author of the iconographic masterpieces 'Tulsa' and 'Teenage Lust'. Strictly limited to a small printing, 'Heroin' contains numerous self-portraits, photo-album snapshots, doodlings, drawings, cultural effluvia and, for the first time ever, a text piece by the author himself. 132 b/w and 204 full-colour photos.

The Failed Individual Katharina Motyl, Regina Schober, 2017-11-09 The freedom of the individual to aim high is a deeply rooted part of the American ethos but we rarely acknowledge its flip side: failure. If people are responsible for their individual successes, is the same true of their failures? The Failed Individual brings together a variety of disciplinary approaches to explore how people fail in the United States and the West at large, whether economically, politically, socially, culturally, or physically. How do we understand individual failure, especially in the context of the zero-sum game of international capitalism? And what new spaces of resistance, or even pleasure, might failure open up for people and society?

Place, Power, Situation and Spectacle Stuart C. Aitken, Leo E. Zonn, 1994-03-29 Using contemporary film theory and elements of socio-cultural and political discourse, fourteen geographers examine the effects of cinematic representation of place and space on perceptions of self and societies in the world.

Most Wanted Axel Heil, Wolfgang Schoppmann, 2005 The important German collector Thomas Olbricht presents a personal selection of his most recent acquisitions, including Maurizio Cattelan, Jake & Dinos Chapman, Larry Clark, Thomas Demand, Marlene Dumas, Carroll Dunham, Marcel Dzama, Isaac Julien, Richard Phillips, Alexis Rockman, Gregor Schneider, Taryn Simon, Hiroshi Sugito, Nicola Tyson and Barry X-Ball. As Olbricht writes in the epilogue, 'Collecting art, for me, is an elixir of life÷ Seemingly anything goes and nothing is sure. This productive restlessness makes collecting a great adventure--that's one thing this picture book is meant to tell; another thing is that, for me, the variety of positions I'm continuously concerning myself with combines to become a cosmos full of life.' Contains an illustrated appendix and an introduction by Jean-Christophe Ammann.

Photography, Cinema, Memory Damian Sutton, 2009 This is a philosophical investigation into the differing sensations of time in cinema and photography. Throughout the work, Sutton connects and grounds cinema and photography as starting points to comprehend how we come to terms, ultimately, with time itself as pure, immanent change.

Another Country Scott Herring, 2010-06-01 The metropolis has been the near exclusive focus of queer scholars and queer cultures in America. Asking us to look beyond the cities on the coasts, Scott Herring draws a new map, tracking how rural queers have responded to this myopic mindset. Interweaving a wide range of disciplines—art, media, literature, performance, and fashion studies—he develops an extended critique of how metronormativity saturates LGBTQ politics, artwork, and criticism. To counter this ideal, he offers a vibrant theory of queer anti-urbanism that refuses to dismiss the rural as a cultural backwater. Impassioned and provocative, Another Country expands the possibilities of queer studies beyond its city limits. Herring leads his readers from faeries in the rural Midwest to photographs of white supremacists in the deep South, from Roland Barthes’s obsession with Parisian fashion to a graphic memoir by Alison Bechdel set in the Appalachian Mountains, and from cubist paintings in Lancaster County to lesbian separatist communes on the northern California coast. The result is an entirely original account of how queer studies can—and should—get to another country.
