H. R. D Truth

Society and the Internet Mark Graham, William H. Dutton, 2019 This second edition of Society and the Internet provides key readings for students, scholars, and those interested in understanding the interactions of the Internet and society, introducing new and original contributions examining the escalating concerns around social media, disinformation, big data, and privacy.

Noir Affect Christopher Breu, Elizabeth A. Hatmaker, 2020-06-02 Noir Affect proposes a new understanding of noir as defined by negative affect. This new understanding emphasizes that noir is, first and foremost, an affective disposition rather than a specific cycle of films or novels associated with a given time period or national tradition. Instead, the essays in Noir Affect trace noir's negativity as it manifests in different national contexts from the United States to Mexico, France, and Japan and in a range of different media, including films, novels, video games, and manga. The forms of affect associated with noir are resolutely negative: These are narratives centered on loss, sadness, rage, shame, guilt, regret, anxiety, humiliation, resentment, resistance, and refusal. Moreover, noir often asks us to identify with those on the losing end of cultural narratives, especially the criminal, the lost, the compromised, the haunted, the unlucky, the cast-aside, and the erotically "perverse," including those whose greatest erotic attachment is to death. Drawing on contemporary work in affect theory, while also re-orienting some of its core assumptions to address the resolutely negative affects narrated by noir, Noir Affect is invested in thinking through the material, bodily, social, and political-economic impact of the various forms noir affect takes. If much affect theory asks us to consider affect as a space of possibility and becoming, Noir Affect asks us to consider affect as also a site of repetition, dissolution, redundancy, unmaking, and decay. It also asks us to consider the way in which the affective dimensions of noir enable the staging of various forms of social antagonism, including those associated with racial, gendered, sexual, and economic inequality. Featuring an Afterword by the celebrated noir scholar Paula Rabinowitz and essays by an array of leading scholars, Noir Affect aims to fundamentally re-orient our understanding of noir. Contributors: Alexander Dunst, Sean Grattan, Peter Hitchcock, Justus Nieland, Andrew Pepper, Ignacio Sánchez Prado, Brian Rejack, Pamela Thoma, Kirin Wachter-Grene

Satanic Inversions Conrad Riker, 101-01-01 Your World Is Backwards — And They're Making You Pay For It Have you ever felt like the truth is punished and lies are rewarded? Do you see good men crushed while manipulators thrive? Have you been called “toxic” just for telling the truth? This book is not another rant. It’s a weapon. A precision-guided dismantling of the false world built on inversion — where weakness is virtue, dishonesty is power, and men are guilt-tripped into silence. - They told you humility is strength — but they took everything while you stayed quiet - They called you oppressive for having standards — while lowering theirs and calling it progress - They said equality means fairness — but rigged the game and laughed when you lost - They taught you to respect women unconditionally — while watching them destroy men with impunity - They labeled your logic as “toxic” — so they could rule with emotion and lies - They buried the classics — so you’d never know the wisdom that made giants of men - They made you feel guilty for winning — so you’d stay small, broke, and obedient - They inverted good and evil — so they could steal your future and call it justice If you want to reclaim your mind, your dignity, and your destiny from the cult of lies, then buy this book today.

Feeling Jewish Devorah Baum,2017-08-22 In this sparkling debut, a young critic offers an original, passionate, and erudite account of what it means to feel Jewish—even when you’re not. Self-hatred. Guilt. Resentment. Paranoia. Hysteria. Overbearing Mother-Love. In this witty, insightful, and poignant book, Devorah Baum delves into fiction, film, memoir, and psychoanalysis to present a dazzlingly original exploration of a series of feelings famously associated with modern Jews. Reflecting on why Jews have so often been depicted, both by others and by themselves, as prone to “negative” feelings, she queries how negative these feelings really are. And as the pace of globalization leaves countless people feeling more marginalized, uprooted, and existentially threatened, she argues that such “Jewish” feelings are becoming increasingly common to us all. Ranging from Franz Kafka to Philip Roth, Sarah Bernhardt to Woody Allen, Anne Frank to Nathan Englander, Feeling Jewish bridges the usual fault lines between left and right, insider and outsider, Jew and Gentile, and even Semite and anti-Semite, to offer an indispensable guide for our divisive times.

A Blueprint for Preparing Teachers Marie Menna Pagliaro,2016-01-18 A Blueprint for Preparing Teachers provides a plan to produce high quality teachers who will remain in the profession and continue to grow throughout their careers. The plan includes three-components which must all be incorporated for a teacher education program to be successful: university curriculum and instruction that are state-of-the-art; strong collaboration among the university, school districts, and the community; and meaningful professional development. This book offers procedures to help facilitate the implementation of each of the three components.

The Trigger Warnings of Caramelized Butterflies ayanna Jade Luevano,2024-08-17 The Trigger Warnings of Caramelized Butterflies is a collection of poems with themes of trigger responses. This poetry book touches on the feelings surrounding growing up, dealing with addiction, experiencing an eating disorder/body dysmorphia, suffering through mental illness, coping with domestic/emotional abuse, and falling in love. This collection is broken down into six parts: adolescence, dependence, dysmorphia, madness, violence, and love. It's not meant to be hopeful and inspiring; it was meant to tell the ugly truth of coping with trauma. Pure, innocent, raw sugar is heated to hell to make caramel for others to savor and enjoy.
