Khalid Rashid

Oppressed Pride Khalid Rashid, 2013-05-31 Honour related violence and oppression is a relatively new phenomenon in Sweden that received political and medial attention in the 1990's. A lot of research has been made since then in order to understand the phenomenon and to improve the interventions against it. Most of the focus have been on women under HRVO, which stands for the majority who falls victim for this crime. This study aims to bring forth more shades of this phenomenon by exploring how professionals identify and give recognition to the needs, vulnerabilities and obstacles for sexual minorities who seeks aid from public services, as they've become targets for patriarchal violence and oppression. This is done by presenting three different vignettes of LGBTQ persons who are exposed to different forms of HRVO during semi-structured interviews. Twelve respondents from three different professional categories were interviewed: social welfare officers, counsellors and housing personnel. The participants in the interviews varied from one up to four simultaneously. The gathered results tells of several important aspects in the work with HRVO cases, among them are: refreshing and enhancing the professional's knowledge, being able to adapt to the client's needs and to grant a safe environment for the client during the ongoing assessment. The results also show difficulties for the professionals, such as facing conflicting legislation, whether HRVO is seen as a patriarchal phenomenon or a cultural relativistic phenomenon and high workload.

Numinous Jeffrey C McAndrew,2019-05-11 This is a novel about a minister's struggle with his own faith. It's also a story about the battle within all of us to maintain consistency and integrity of character during life's toughest times. In the book, Pastor Nathan Simone becomes increasingly more skeptical of the strict rules of organized religion and questions "why he is playing this game." He enjoys helping others but feels more and more caught in the grips of a troubling ethical crisis fueled by church politics. To help him through his journey he sees visions, the spirits representing the battle between love and truth. The pastor believes that the inspiring visions come directly from God. God teaches him that our current conceptions of reality are far off from what really exists and that one needs to be infinitely humble and retain a vibrant wonder about life "like a young child gazing at the stars in the night sky." It slowly dawns on our main character that religion may be less divinely inspired and more of a creation of mankind. The story also contains a surprise conclusion that the reader may not expect.

PSYCHOLOGIST for GEN-Z Dr. Karuna Mehta,2023-07-11 This book is written with the objective of helping students improve in various spheres of life, be it academic or personal. The author has simplified psychological concepts and shared ways to improve memory and focus, manage examination anxiety, inculcate better study habits, control aggression, sharpen interpersonal skills and enhance personality. She has also written about the stigma attached to seeking psychological intervention and how to overcome it. The readers will get clarity on the most common, yet unanswered queries such as: • I am unable to do well in exams, am I lacking intelligence? • There is so much to do that I get panic attacks. How do I prevent this from happening? • I forget what I learn, how do I improve my memory? • I do not have friends, how can I improve my social skills? • I cannot control my anger but regret it later. How do I rein in aggression? • Stress impacts my focus on academics, how to cope with pressure? • What are the secrets of good mental health? • How can counselling psychologists help?
