The City and the Lion's Den Marat Kaufman,1968 The City and the Lion's Den...tells the story of Joe Berg, whose family had journeyed to New York from a decaying Europe that was to become, in time for Joe to fight there in World War II, 'dear old Europe, the slaughterhouse.' Joe's home life is at one and the same time mad, funny, and touching real. His father is a cabbie and unproduced playwright who considers himself a dramatist for the American Home; his mother, who calls herself 'the practical one,' is constantly losing money on get-rich-quick schemes; his grandmother, demented beyond repair, spends the day throwing around her pornographic photographs, usually at Joe; his brother is mentally retarded, God-bruised. But of all the brilliant characters that Marat Kaufman creates, there is none so perfectly, so subtly, realized as Joe Berg himself, who emerges as one of the most extraordinary dreamers in all American literature. A brilliant student, in love with both literature and mathematics, Joe lives in a world of heroes and is completely outraged by things as they are. And he travels--through New York, through Europe, where, as a most inept soldier, he wins a Silver Star, through the United States, through Mexico, through New York some more--he travels, he searches, and his pack of dreams gets lighter and lighter, and is finally tossed off for good when he is forced to join in the hunt in Brooklyn for a Nazi war criminal and as a result to compromise his ideals--Dust jacket.
