Allison Scardino Belzer

Evidence, History and the Great War Gail Braybon, 2004-12-01 In the English-speaking world the Great War maintains a tenacious grip on the public imagination, and also continues to draw historians to an event which has been interpreted variously as a symbol of modernity, the midwife to the twentieth century and an agent of social change. Although much 'common knowledge' about the war and its aftermath has included myth, simplification and generalisation, this has often been accepted uncritically by popular and academic writers alike. While Britain may have suffered a surfeit of war books, many telling much the same story, there is far less written about the impact of the Great War in other combatant nations. Its history was long suppressed in both fascist Italy and the communist Soviet Union: only recently have historians of Russia begun to examine a conflict which killed, maimed and displaced so many millions. Even in France and Germany the experience of 1914-18 has often been overshadowed by the Second World War. The war's social history is now ripe for reassessment and revision. The essays in this volume incorporate a European perspective, engage with the historiography of the war, and consider how the primary textual, oral and pictorial evidence has been used - or abused. Subjects include the politics of shellshock, the impact of war on women, the plight of refugees, food distribution in Berlin and portrait photography, all of which illuminate key debates in war history.

Women in Twentieth-Century Italy Perry Willson, 2009-12-07 Over the course of the 20th century, the rapid transformation of Italy from an impoverished, predominantly agricultural nation to one of the strongest economies in the world forged a fascinating and contradictory society where gender relations were a particular mix of modernity and tradition. In this accessible and innovative study, Perry Willson provides a nuanced and insightful analysis of the impact of social, political, economic and cultural developments on Italian women's lives. She also explores how women were affected by, and how they themselves helped shape, key historical events such as the rise of Fascism, the 2 world wars, the 'economic miracle' of the post-war years and the cultural and political upheavals of the 1970s. Women in Twentieth Century Italy is the first book-length overview of Italian women's experience during this period of intense and dramatic change. Drawing on the latest historiography in the field and written in a lively and engaging manner, it is essential reading for anyone with an interest in Italy's recent past.

Rethinking the Age of Emancipation Martin Baumeister, Philipp Lenhard, Ruth Nattermann, 2020-03-20 Since the end of the nineteenth century, traditional historiography has emphasized the similarities between Italy and Germany as “late nations”, including the parallel roles of “great men” such as Bismarck and Cavour. Rethinking the Age of Emancipation aims at a critical reassessment of the development of these two “late” nations from a new and transnational perspective. Essays by an international and interdisciplinary group of scholars examine the discursive relationships among nationalism, war, and emancipation as well as the ambiguous roles of historical protagonists with competing national, political, and religious loyalties.

Women and the Great War Allison Scardino Belzer, 2010-09-15 Drawing on both wartime discourse about women and the voices of individual women living at the Italian Front, Allison Belzer analyzes how women participated in the Great War and how it affected them. The Great War transformed women into purveyors and recipients of a new feminine ideal that emphasized their status as national citizens. Although Italian women did not gain the vote, they did encounter a less empowering form of female citizenship just after the war ended with Mussolini's Fascism. Because of the Great War, many women seized the opportunity to participate in a society that continued to recognize them as guardians of the nation.

Libere per Costituzione Serena Riglietti, Margherita Madeo, Valeria De Cubellis, 2024-02-23T00:00:00+01:00 LE STORIE DELLE NOSTRE MADRI COSTITUENTI 'STRINGIAMO LE SCHEDE COME BIGLIETTI D'AMORE' È il 2 giugno 1946, è un

grande giorno per l'Italia, ai seggi c'è fermento: per la prima volta in massa anche le donne si recano al voto, per dare forma al futuro del nostro paese. Stringono fiere le loro tessere elettorali, ancora intonse. Attendono pazienti in fila e quando è il loro turno si tolgono il rossetto, per non invalidare nella chiusura della scheda il loro voto. Si vota per la repubblica, ma anche per scegliere i membri dell'Assemblea costituente. Ventuno donne ne faranno parte e il loro contributo alla Costituzione sarà fondamentale. In queste pagine si raccontano le loro incredibili vite, come sono riuscite a nutrire i propri sogni e come hanno lottato per realizzarli. Donne che si sono incontrate sul terreno comune dell'affermazione dei diritti e dell'uguaglianza di tutti, senza alcuna discriminazione, restando unite e superando le diversità in vista di un obiettivo condiviso. Vite comuni e nello stesso tempo sorprendenti che ci incoraggiano a custodire il dono più prezioso che abbiamo ricevuto in eredità: essere cittadine e cittadini liberi che non hanno paura di credere in un mondo migliore e di fare tutto il possibile per costruirlo.
