Contemporary European Playwrights Maria M. Delgado, Bryce Lease, Dan Rebellato, 2020-07-22 Contemporary European Playwrights presents and discusses a range of key writers that have radically reshaped European theatre by finding new ways to express the changing nature of the continent's society and culture, and whose work is still in dialogue with Europe today. Traversing borders and languages, this volume offers a fresh approach to analyzing plays in production by some of the most widely-performed European playwrights, assessing how their work has revealed new meanings and theatrical possibilities as they move across the continent, building an unprecedented picture of the contemporary European repertoire. With chapters by leading scholars and contributions by the writers themselves, the chapters bring playwrights together to examine their work as part of a network and genealogy of writing, examining how these plays embody and interrogate the nature of contemporary Europe. Written for students and scholars of European theatre and playwriting, this book will leave the reader with an understanding of the shifting relationships between the subsidized and commercial, the alternative and the mainstream stage, and political stakes of playmaking in European theatre since 1989.

In the Eye of the Storm Sharon G. Feldman, 2009 Barcelona, the cultural epicenter of Catalunya, is presently experiencing the most dynamic and polemical period in its modern theater history. It is the commanding hub of an energetic theater scene that in recent years has witnessed an exuberant outpouring of new dramatists, a steady crescendo in theater attendance, and a continual increase in the international presence of Catalan directors, playwrights, and companies. Barcelona's post-Olympian cultural landscape, moreover, comprises several architecturally striking theater projects. The diversity of opportunities to stage plays in Catalan at an assortment of city spaces is unprecedented, ranging in variety from commercial locales to publicly funded stages to experimental alternative venues. Since its origins in the nineteenth century, modern Catalan drama has frequently exhibited a cosmopolitan and even transnational impulse, engaging in an artistic dialogue with international theater traditions of both past and present and forging its identity vis-a-vis its intercultural associations. The path along which the contemporary Catalan theater scene has struggled to recover and reconstitute the professional legitimacy and visibility that it lost during the Franco dictatorship has been a complex process, never lacking in melodramatic excess, witnessed both on and off the stage. The Barcelona stage, throughout its contemporary evolution, has been immersed in a stormy climate, whose relentlessly frenetic atmospheric activity at times may impede one from acquiring the distance necessary to see beyond the hurricane. --Book Jacket.

Sergi Belbel and Catalan Theatre David John George, 2010 A major contemporary playwright and director. By the late 1970s, internationally known performance groups such as Els Joglars, La Fura dels Baus or La Cubana had precipitated a decline in text-based Catalan theatre, reversed in the mid 1980s with the appearance of a younger generation of playwrights led by Sergi Belbel. Influenced by contemporary European rather than Spanish or Catalan drama, his work was very different from the realist idiom favoured by playwrights of the Franco generation. But playwriting is only one aspect of Belbel's work as a theatre practitioner. He also has a highly successful career as a director of Spanish, Catalan and foreign plays [a number of which he himself has translated], and, since 2006, he has held the position of Artistic Director of the National Theatre of Catalonia. This study examines these three key aspects of his career, as well as Ventura Pons's film adaptations of his plays. Finally, it considers the reception of his plays in several countries, analysing his evolving relationship with critics at home and abroad. DAVID GEORGE is Professor of Hispanic Studies at Swansea University.

FitzRoy Jordi Galcerán, 2025-03-03 Diez años tardó Jordi Galcerán en alumbrar nueva obra después del éxito mundial de El crédito. La tituló FitzRoy y está protagonizada solo por mujeres. Cuatro escaladoras se proponen alcanzar la cima del FitzRoy, un tresmil quinientos en la cordillera patagónica chileno-argentina. Nunca antes una cordada de mujeres ha llegado a su cresta por la llamada ruta yugoslava y ellas se proponen hacer historia del alpinismo. Durante el ascenso el tiempo se pone feo y se ven obligadas a esperar un cambio favorable en un descanso. Mientras aguardan beben té, hacen juegos de palabras y conversan sobre sus vidas, situación en la que Galcerán despliega su ingenio en diálogos ocurrentes y graciosos para ofrecer, en definitiva, un brindis a la amistad. JORDI GALCERÁN (Barcelona, 1964) Autor de dos de las comedias de mayor éxito del teatro español del siglo XXI: El método Grönholm (publicado en esta editorial) y El crédito. Escribe en castellano y catalán. En 1995 ganó el Premio Born de Teatro con Paraules encadenades (Palabras encadenadas) y a partir de entonces fue estrenando y publicando otras piezas como Dakota, Surf, Fuga, Carnaval, Cancún y Burundanga (esta última, también en Bolchiro). Es autor de una treintena de adaptaciones teatrales, series y películas de televisión.
