The Institutional Foundation of Economic Development Shiping Tang, 2022-09-06 A systemic account of how institutions shape economic development. Institutions matter for economic development. Yet despite this accepted wisdom, new institutional economics (NIE) has yet to provide a comprehensive look at what constitutes the institutional foundation of economic development (IFED). Bringing together findings from a range of fields, from development economics and development studies to political science and sociology, The Institutional Foundation of Economic Development explores the precise mechanisms through which institutions affect growth. Shiping Tang contends that institutions shape economic development through four “Big Things”: possibility, incentive, capability, and opportunity. From this perspective, IFED has six major dimensions: political hierarchy, property rights, social mobility, redistribution, innovation protection, and equal opportunity. Tang further argues that IFED is only one pillar within the New Development Triangle (NDT): sustained economic development also requires strong state capacity and sound socioeconomic policies. Arguing for an evolutionary approach tied to a country’s stage of development, The Institutional Foundation of Economic Development advances an understanding of institutions and economic development through a holistic, interdisciplinary lens.

Macroeconomics J. Bradford De Long, 2002 A valuable perspective on global macroeconomics Macroeconomics incorporates a strong international and historical perspective and includes unprecedented coverage on the crucial topic of long-term growth. Mathematics are simplified and kept to a minimum. Extensive use of real-world examples, along with the authors' significant policy-making experience, strengthen and clarify connections between concepts discussed and the impact of policy decisions on everyday life.
