Modern Frames and Premodern Themes in Indian Philosophy A. Raghuramaraju, 2017-03-27 This book presents a fascinating examination of modern Indian philosophical thought from the margins. It considers the subject from two perspectives - how it has been understood beyond India and how Indian thinkers have treated Western ideas in the context of Indian society. The book discusses the concepts of the self, the other and the border that underline various debates on modernity. In this framework, it proposes the notion of the other as an enabler in taking cue from the lives of Swami Vivekananda, Mahatma Gandhi and Rabindranath Tagore. It focusses on the nature and compulsions of the colonised self, and its response to the body of unfamiliar and sometimes oppressive ideas. The study traces these themes with allusion to the works of Edward Said, Frantz Fanon and Krishna Chandra Bhattacharyya and the Bhagavad Gita. The author exposes the limitations in existing theories of self, the incompatibility between the slavery of self and svaraj in ideas, how the premodern village intersects modern city and democracy, the radical challenges that confront society with its accumulated social evils, inequality, hierarchy and the need for reform and non-violence. This engaging work will be of interest to scholars and researchers of Indian philosophy, social and political philosophy, Indian political theory, postcolonialism and South Asian studies.

Globalization and Communication Policy in India B.P. Mahesh Chandra Guru,H.K. Mariswamy,2014-01-01

Communication policy formulation in the age of globalization is a widely debated and discussed subject of our times. The communications media have grown commendably over a period of time. The media in India continue to be class media rather than the mass media. The Indian media have not incorporated the features of social responsibility theory, participation theory and development theory in letter and spirit in the age of globalization. Scholars have noted that globalization has impacted the media services in India and abroad. There are advantages and disadvantages of globalization with reference to media management in India. But, the disadvantages outweigh the advantages according to the empirical evidence. The present work emphasizes that it is imperative to formulate a national communication policy at this juncture of entry of foreign media, invasion of satellite channel, present pluralistic media culture, privatization of media, commercialization of media and so on. India needs a communication strategy which should be considered as a sub-system of the processes of governance and development at various levels.
