Amplify Adam Met, PhD, 2025-06-03 A blueprint for boosting your activism and building support for the causes you care about, featuring fan-building tactics from the music industry and the voices of today's most passionate change-makers "This book shines a light on a wealth of new strategies to help reach people in ways that are both authentic and resonant."—John Kerry From stadium acts to indie singer-songwriters, musicians have pioneered ways of sparking passion, building awareness, and catalyzing engagement. Now imagine if social movements—from the fight to protect the planet to campaigns promoting global health or LGBTQIA+ rights—had the same fervent support as your favorite artists. Adam Met, climate advocate, educator, and member of the multiplatinum band AJR, gained firsthand experience growing an audience from the ground up as the band progressed from playing in living rooms to selling out arenas. With award-winning journalist Heather Landy, Met shows how to apply fan-building strategies to social movements in exciting, inventive ways. Amplify is a playbook for developing passionate supporters (i.e., fans) utilizing the art and science of engagement, collaboration, and authentic connection, with tactics that will inspire people to carry your message to the world and spur others to act. Amplify's innovative tool kit will help you find your voice and maximize your impact in the world of social progress to create the change you want to see. This movement-building manifesto includes cutting-edge research and strategies from today's most effective organizers, engagers, and thinkers, including extensive interviews with • Adam Grant (Wharton professor) on embracing disagreement within a movement • Christiana Figueres (Paris Climate Agreement architect) on finding a path to solutions • Andrew Yang (former U.S. presidential candidate) on becoming the front person for your ideas • David Hogg (March for Our Lives co-founder) on the challenges of building a youth-led movement • Chi Ossé (youngest-ever NYC council member) on working outside the box but within the system • Sue Doster (NYC Pride co-chair) on keeping movements nimble and relevant • Glenn Beck (conservative commentator) on finding common ground • Jim Gaffigan (comedian) on setting and achieving goals • Bill Nye (scientist and entertainer) on communication that connects with people • Ben Folds (musician) on staying in sync with your audience • Jamie Drummond (ONE Campaign co-founder) on the beauty of purposeful compromise • Enongo Lumumba-Kasongo (hip-hop scholar) on the intersection of activism and history • Wendy Laister (Duran Duran manager) on harnessing the energy of live events • Clyde Lawrence and Jordan Cohen (of the band Lawrence) on pressing your argument • MAX (musician) on the power of collaboration • Sam Hollander (songwriter) on aligning different perspectives • Astro

Healing the Inner Family Maria Jesus MarinLopez,2016-08-08 The one thing we all have in common, we have a mother and a father. Ultimately, the relationship we have with them, from the moment of conception, will have an important influence in the person we become, and in our perception of the world around us. We will focus here on exploring the unhealthy or wounded interactions with our parents, how this can block you from being your true self and can deprive you from the energy and opportunities to fulfill your highest potential. Working on the relational triangle of Mother-Father-Child as a way to find Inner-Freedom and Fulfillment can heal these core wounds. We will cover the internalized mother and father voices. However, It's not so much about 'changing' or 'blaming' your parents for what has gone wrong in your life but about bringing into awareness their wounds that have become your wounds. Only then you can find your true self and live in freedom.

Class Construction Carrie Freie,2007-06-07 Class Construction explores class, racial, and gender identity construction among white, working-class students. Delving into River City High School, Freie asks what happens to the adolescent children of working-class families when economic changes such as globalization and technological advancements have altered the face of working-class jobs. Mass consumerism, greater availability of college level education, lack of a cohesive class identity, and racial and religious politics all combine to create a new working-class identity for today's youth. Featuring interviews with the River City High School students, Class Construction aims to understand how class is conceptualized among American, working-class youths. Class Construction is ideal for courses on sociology, education, gender studies, and American studies, as well as high school educators and administrators.

How to Heal a Broken Heart Maria Jesus Marin Lopez,2015-12-17 To be able to heal a broken heart, you need to be an empowered individual. That means being in complete acceptance of who you are. If you find that you attract conflict or discord at home, at work, with your friends or even with innocent salespeople in stores, it's time to look at your relationship with yourself. There are always valid reasons for building defences, but when you can become aware of your triggers and make peace with past wounds that no longer serve you, you can thrive and evolve into an empowered, compassionate, peaceful individual - the best version of yourself. Former students of mine have found that as their lives opened up, they steadily experienced a degree of freedom, self-trust, love and compassion they never knew was possible. Ultimately, this heart opening changes your relationships for the better. As you become more conscious, you will notice new relationship patterns emerging while old patterns disappear. That creates a ripple effect that leads to fulfilled relationships.
