   From E-learning to Blended Learning Fatma Torun,2009 Master's Thesis from the year 2003 in the subject Business economics - Personnel and Organisation, grade: good, University of East London (European College of Business and Management), 32 entries in the bibliography, language: English, abstract: In today's economy, companies are increasingly facing new challenges. High competition in a global market, shrinking corporate resources, rapid shifts in technology, and the recruitment and retention of talented and skilled people are just few of these challenges. The economy demands that people's knowledge and skill levels be constantly updated. A growing number of companies are developing a new learning culture. In the past companies have viewed training as a necessary expense rather than an investment. Emphasis was placed cutting on the expense of training by making it more efficient. Now, in response of these challenges, companies are beginning to view training as an investment. The knowledge and skills of the organisation's employees are now being held on equal basis with the company's monetary asset. Learning faster than other companies represents one of the most important competitive advantages.1 Here the Internet technology represents an unprecedented opportunity for training departments to add value to the organization. E-learning combines education, information, communication, training and knowledge management.2 It represents an all embracing and cost effective way of training staff. It can deliver on a global basis, while tailoring content to suit the needs of the individuals. It also allows an organization to regularly assess skills gaps. Its benefits have already been realised by a number of the world's leading companies who prepare their workforce with elearning. Some case studies will be described in this report.

   Handbook of Research on K-12 Online and Blended Learning RIchard E. Ferdig,Kathryn Kennedy,2014 The Handbook of Research on K-12 Online and Blended Learning is an edited collection of chapters that sets out to present the current state of research in K-12 online and blended learning. The beginning chapters lay the groundwork of the historical, international, and political landscape as well as present the scope of research methodologies used. Subsequent sections share a synthesis of theoretical and empirical work describing where we have been, what we currently know, and where we hope to go with research in the areas of learning and learners, content domains, teaching, the role of the other, and technological innovations.--Book home page.

Elearning: The Key Concepts Robin Mason,Frank Rennie,2006-09-27 E-Learning has long been touted as the brave new frontier of education, offering fresh challenges to teachers, students and, indeed, the whole of the education system. Addressing this, Elearning: The Key Concepts is the perfect reference for anyone seeking to navigate the myriad of names, concepts and applications associated with this new era of teaching, training and learning. Taking the reader from A to Z through a range of topics including blogging, course design, plagiarism, search engines and Virtual Learning Environments (VLEs), this timely work features: full cross-referencing a substantial introduction exploring the development of the field and putting modern-day challenges in context extensive guides to further reading. The only text of its kind to provide concise and user-friendly definitions of the crucial terms used in this growing field, this is a highly useful resource for online course co-ordinators, undergraduate students taking online courses, students on masters-level online learning courses, and trainers.

E-Learning vs Classroom-Learning Carolin Schmidt,2014-06-04 Studienarbeit aus dem Jahr 2011 im Fachbereich Didaktik für das Fach Deutsch - Pädagogik, Sprachwissenschaft, Note: 3,0, Albert-Ludwigs-Universität Freiburg, Sprache: Deutsch, Abstract: E- Learning hat im Laufe der letzten Jahre immer mehr an Bedeutung gewonnen. Durch die Erfindung des Internets vor etwa 20 Jahren und den ständigen Fortschritt der Technologie, ist E- Learning zu einem festen Bestandteil der Gesellschaft geworden. In allen Einrichtungen, in denen Lernen stattfindet, ist dieses „elektronische Lernen" nicht mehr wegzudenken. Bereits in der Schule wird der Schüler damit konfrontiert. Bei der Präsentation ihrer Lehrmaterialien, verwenden Lehrer mittlerweile häufiger Power Point Präsentationen als die klassische Tafel, die schon seit hunderten von Jahren existiert. Durch Power Point Präsentationen kann das Lehrmaterial visuell abwechslungsreicher, bunter und interessanter dargestellt werden. Gerade Kinder und Jugendliche, die mit dem Internet aufgewachsen sind, können keinen Tag ohne ihre Videokonsolen und Computerspiele verbringen und ziehen es vor am Computer zu sitzen, anstatt ein Buch zu lesen. Dies ist der Grund, warum es auf dem Markt immer mehr elektronische Lernmaterialen gibt, wie beispielsweise CD-Roms zum passenden Englischbuch, welches im Schulunterricht verwendet wird. Des Weiteren hat E- Learning während des Studiums einen großen Stellenwert. Lehrmaterialen werden sehr häufig elektronisch zur Verfügung gestellt, sodass der Dozent nicht jedes Mal eine Menge Kopien ausgeben muss. Auch ein Fernstudium währe ohne E- Learning nicht möglich, da dieses zum Großteil via Internet verläuft. Die Bedeutung und vielfache Nutzung elektronisch unterstütztem Lernen wirft die Frage auf, wie wichtig traditionelle Lehr-/ Lernmethoden im 21. Jahrhundert noch sind? Könnten sogar Schulen und Universitäten bald der Vergangenheit angehören? Oder kurz gesagt: Kann E- Learning traditionelles Lernen im Klassenzimmer und Präsenzveranstaltungen ersetzen? Im weiteren Verlauf der Arbeit wird auf Eigenschaften des E-

Learning genauer eingegangen und warum diese in Bezug auf das Bildungsmanagement immer bedeutsamer werden. Im Anschluss werden die Vor- und Nachteile elektronisch unterstütztem Lernen erläutert. Ebenfalls wird eine Form des E-Learning, das „Blended Learning" (dt. integriertes Lernen) beschrieben, welches die beiden Lernformen, E- Learning und Präsenzveranstaltungen, kombiniert. Der Schwerpunkt der Arbeit liegt im Bereich, E- Learning an Schulen und Universitäten.

Optimizing Student Engagement in Online Learning Environments Kumar, A.V. Senthil,2017-11-30 Digital classrooms have become a common addition to curriculums in higher education; however, such learning systems are only successful if students are properly motivated to learn. Optimizing Student Engagement in Online Learning Environments is a critical scholarly resource that examines the importance of motivation in digital classrooms and outlines methods to reengage learners. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as motivational strategies, learning assessment, and student involvement, this book is geared toward academicians, researchers, and students seeking current research on the importance of maintaining ambition among learners in digital classrooms.

Institutional Transformation through Best Practices in Virtual Campus Development: Advancing E-Learning Policies Stansfield, Mark,Connolly, Thomas,2009-05-31 Provides cost effective and sustainable learning procedures vital to ensuring long term success for both teacher and student; covers the latest research and findings in relation to best practice examples and case studies.

Blended Learning Or E-Learning? Maryam Tayebinik,Marlia Puteh,2014 ICT or Information and Communication Technology has pervaded the fields of education. In recent years the term "e-learning" has emerged as a result of the integration of ICT in the education fields. Following the application this technology into teaching, some pitfalls have been identified and this have led to the "Blended learning" phenomenon. However, the preference on this new method has been debated quite extensively. The aim of this paper is to investigate the advantages of blended learning over face-to-face instruction through reviews of related literature. The present survey revealed that blended learning is more favorable than pure e-learning and offers many advantages for learners like producing a sense of community or belonging. This study concludes that blended learning can be considered as an efficient approach of distance learning in terms of students' learning experience, student-student interaction as well as student-instructor interaction and is likely to emerge as the predominant education model in the future.

preparing for blended e-learning Allison Littlejohn,Chris Pegler,2007-04-25 Blended and online learning skills are rapidly becoming essential for effective teaching and learning in universities and colleges. Covering theory where useful but maintaining an emphasis on practice, this book provides teachers and lecturers with an accessible introduction to e-learning. Beginning by exploring the meaning of 'e-learning', it supports tutors in identifying how they plan to use technology to support courses that blend online and face-to-face interactions. Illustrated by a range of case of studies, the book covers: designing quality, appropriate effective and online learning efficient and sustainable e-learning activity providing appropriate feedback to learners devising student activities and sourcing learning resources managing online and offline interactions Packed with practical advice and ideas, this book provides the core skills and knowledge that teachers in HE and FE need when starting out and further developing their teaching course design for blended and online learning.

Blended Learning: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources,2016-08-18 Traditional classroom learning environments are quickly becoming a thing of the past as research continues to support the integration of learning outside of a structured school environment. Blended learning, in particular, offers the best of both worlds, combining classroom learning with mobile and web-based learning environments. Blended Learning: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications explores emerging trends, case studies, and digital tools for hybrid learning in modern educational settings. Focusing on the latest technological innovations as well as effective pedagogical practice, this critical multi-volume set is a comprehensive resource for instructional designers, educators, administrators, and graduate-level students in the field of education.

Quarterly Review of Distance Education Michael Simonson,Charles Schlosser,2014-06-01 The Quarterly Review of Distance Education is a rigorously refereed journal publishing articles, research briefs, reviews, and editorials dealing with the theories, research, and practices of distance education. The Quarterly Review publishes articles that utilize various methodologies that permit generalizable results which help guide the practice of the field of distance education in the public and private sectors. The Quarterly Review publishes full-length manuscripts as well as research briefs, editorials, reviews of programs and scholarly works, and columns. The Quarterly Review defines distance education as institutionally-based formal education in which the learning group is separated and interactive technologies are used to unite the learning group.

Blended Learning and Online Tutoring Janet MacDonald,2017-03-02 Blended learning provides the flexibility to accommodate the varied requirements of pedagogies, disciplines and levels of course, together with the needs of a wide variety of learners. However, anyone concerned with the integration of online tutoring to support students appropriately may need to reassess current practice. This book adopts a pragmatic and common-sense approach to blended learning by situating the use of online media within a well-grounded teaching and learning strategy. It provides practical ideas for the successful implementation of blended strategies, including good practice in both asynchronous and synchronous tutoring, appropriate assessment design for developing successful blended learners, and innovative approaches to professional development for distance tutors. It is illustrated with a wide variety of examples and comments from students and practitioners in both distance and campus-based environments in 13 different countries. Since the first edition was published in 2006, there has been great interest in Web 2.0 technologies and their potential for use in an educational environment. This second edition has therefore incorporated many new examples of good practice, making use of a combination of tried and tested tools as well as blogs and wikis for supporting students. There has also been a recent rise in the use of activity-based learning and interest in its potential for supporting students in distance and online environments. The new edition incorporates many new exemplars of learning activity design in Part Three, to illustrate approaches to the development of critical, independent learners.

The Routledge Handbook of Language Teacher Action Research Anne Burns,Kenan Dikilitaş,2024-12-30 The Routledge Handbook of Language Teacher Action Research is an authoritative and innovative treatment of language teacher action research (LTAR) as a growing research field. Edited by two global thought leaders in LTAR, it features 34 original thematic contributions from a global range of experts at the cutting edge of the field, providing a comprehensive survey not found in any other single publication. Initiatives across the world are demonstrating the value of LTAR, which has been shown to provide language teachers with strong, exciting, and influential opportunities for learning, and gaining a feeling of empowerment. This groundbreaking Handbook theorises these premises from multiple perspectives in specific areas of language teacher education and curates a broad range of original content that integrates the practical and theoretical knowledge that has emerged over the years since LTAR began to develop. This volume is a groundbreaking guide for researchers of language teaching, as well as practitioners and educators that want to harness the potential of LTAR in both theory and practice.

Designing Effective Distance and Blended Learning Environments in K-12 Driscoll III, Thomas F.,2021-11-12 It has quickly become apparent in the past year that online learning is not only an asset, but it is critical to the continued education of youth during times of crisis. However, districts and schools across the nation are in need of guidance and practical, research-backed approaches to distance and hybrid learning. The current COVID-19 crisis has demonstrated that effective learning in K-12 is possible, but many districts struggled and continue to struggle in achieving that reality. There is also the growing consensus that even if things "return to normal," distance and blended learning strategies should continue to be employed in many ways across the K-12 environment. Designing Effective Distance and Blended Learning Environments in K-12 provides key insights into the ways that school districts and educators from across the world have effectively designed and implemented distance and blended learning approaches to enable and enhance student learning. The diverse collection of authors from various demographics and roles in school systems will benefit readers across a wide spectrum of school community stakeholders. There will also be an emphasis on how research and theory is put into practice, along with an honest discussion of what strategies and actions were successful as well as those that were less so. This book is essential for professionals and researchers working in the field of K-12 education, particularly superintendents, curriculum developers, professional learning designers, school principals, instructional technology specialists, and teachers, as well as administrators, researchers, academicians, and students interested in the effective practices being used in blended learning approaches.

Blended Learning Kaye Thorne,2003 This text is a workable solution that allows trainers and staff developers to integrate online learning within a broader range of more traditional learning techniques. It aims to provide an ideal guidebook to creating a new style of training.

Advances in Design, Music and Arts Daniel Raposo,João Neves,José Silva,Luísa Correia Castilho,Rui Dias,2020-09-11 This book presents the outcomes of recent endeavors that will contribute to significant advances in the areas of communication design, fashion design, interior design and product design, music and musicology, as well as overlapping areas. Gathering the proceedings of the 7th EIMAD conference, held on May 14–15, 2020, and organized by the School of Applied Arts, Campus da Talagueira, in Castelo Branco, Portugal, it proposes new theoretical perspectives and practical research directions in design and music, while also discussing teaching practices and some areas of intersection. It addresses strategies for communication and culture in a global, digital world, that take into account key individual and societal needs.

Advanced Web-Based Training Strategies Margaret Driscoll,Saul Carliner,2005-03-11 Advanced Web-Based Training Strategies fills the gap in the literature available on this topic by offering a volume that includes meaningful, applicable, and proven strategies that can take the experienced instructional designer to the next level of web-based training. Written by Margaret Driscoll and Saul Carliner -- internationally acclaimed experts on e-learning and information design- -- Advanced Web-Based Training Strategies provides instructional designers, e-learning developers, technical communicators, students, and others with strategies for addressing common challenges that arise when designing e-learning. Balancing educational theory with the practical realities of implementation, Driscoll and Carliner outline the benefits and limitations of each strategy, discuss the issues surrounding the implementation of these strategies, and illustrate each strategy with short scenarios drawn from real-world online learning programs representing a wide variety of fields including technology, financial services, health care, and government.

The Other Blended Learning Diann Wilson,Ellen M. Smilanich,2005-08-05 In The Other Blended Learning, Diann Wilson and Ellen Smilanich explain how to successfully blend a variety of learning methods?including mentoring, coaching, on-the-job training, and e-learning?around classroom-delivered content. Though blended learning is most often associated with e-learning, this ?other? blend shows how to maximize the classroom experience to aid learning transfer and improve performance. Written in an easy-to-use format, The Other Blended Learning offers a practical guide for understanding and implementing a successful blended learning approach in any organization no matter what its size or mission.

E-learning Theory and Practice Caroline Haythornthwaite,Richard Andrews,2011-04-11 This is a must-read for every student, lecturer and professor. It establishes Internet Studies as essential to an understanding of how learners and educators can capture the value of our networked world. Professor William H. Dutton, Director of the Oxford Internet Institute, University of Oxford In E-learning Theory and Practice the authors set out different perspectives on e-learning. The book deals with the social implications of e-learning, its transformative effects, and the social and technical interplay that supports and directs e-learning. The authors present new perspectives on the subject by: - exploring the way teaching and learning are changing with the presence of the Internet and participatory media - providing a theoretical grounding in new learning practices from education, communication and information science - addressing e-learning in terms of existing learning theories, emerging online learning theories, new literacies, social networks, social worlds, community and virtual communities, and online resources - emphasising the impact of everyday electronic practices on learning, literacy and the classroom, locally and globally. This book is for everyone involved in e-learning. Teachers and educators will gain an understanding of new learning practices, and learners will gain a sense of their new role as active participants in classroom and lifelong learning. Graduate students and researchers will gain insight into the direction of research in this new and exciting area of education and the Internet.
