Youth Technoculture: From Aesthetics to Politics Sylvie Octobre, 2020-12-15 Fake, mods, gaming, remix... these terms refer to modes of access, linked to digital convergence, but above all to capacities for action on cultural content, as well as on creative capacities, made possible thanks to ICTs. The media cultures of the audiovisual era are thus succeeded by the techno cultures of the digital era, in which the smartphone is becoming the first cultural terminal. These changes have a profound influence on the ways in which young people build their lives, but also on social ties. What do fansubbing and media activism have in common? What education do these changes require? These are some of the questions Youth Technoculture: From Aesthetics to Politics tries to answer.

The Frankfurt Kabuff Critical Edition Beth Driscoll, Claire Squires, 2023-09-26 When violence breaks out at the stands of far-right publishers at the Frankfurt Book Fair, Beatrice Deft is provoked into action. An alienated Australian high school teacher who finds herself at the centre of the global book industry, Beatrice encounters a cast of characters including the very hot Caspian Schorle (German police officer), Kurt Weidenfeld (left-wing German publisher), and White Storm (a neo-Nazi publishing organisation). Such is the premise of The Frankfurt Kabuff, a comic erotic thriller about the publishing industry originally self-published under the pseudonym Blaire Squiscoll. With The Frankfurt Kabuff Critical Edition, Blaire Squiscoll is revealed as the pen name of Beth Driscoll and Claire Squires, who created the novella in the midst of fieldwork at the Frankfurt Book Fair. Published for the first time as a full critical edition, this experimental, playful work combines critical and creative modes for new perspectives on the publishing industry and creative economies. The Frankfurt Kabuff Critical Edition enriches the novella with an introduction, annotated text, 15 essays by leading scholars and practitioners, and additional creative assemblages. This highly unusual research project offers insights for students, academics and publishers alike.

Literary Publishing in the Twenty-First Century Travis Kurowski, Wayne Miller, Kevin Prufer, 2016-04-12 Gutenberg's invention of movable type in the fifteenth century introduced an era of mass communication that permanently altered the structure of society. While publishing has been buffeted by persistent upheaval and transformation ever since, the current combination of technological developments, market pressures, and changing reading habits has led to an unprecedented paradigm shift in the world of books. Bringing together a wide range of perspectives—industry veterans and provocateurs, writers, editors, and digital mavericks—this invaluable collection reflects on the current situation of literary publishing, and provides a road map for the shifting geography of its future: How do editors and publishers adapt to this rapidly changing world? How are vibrant public communities in the Digital Age created and engaged? How can an industry traditionally dominated by white men become more diverse and inclusive? Mindful of the stakes of the ongoing transformation, Literary Publishing in the 21st Century goes beyond the usual discussion of 'print vs. digital' to uncover the complex, contradictory, and increasingly vibrant personalities that will define the future of the book.

Green Fashion Retail Jochen Strähle, 2016-10-18 This book focuses on sustainability in fashion retail, which is fast becoming the pivot point of future fashion retail strategies. Chapters in the book provide theoretical and practical insight on how going green may positively influence the strategy of fashion retailers and marketers, who have to react to the changing society and customer needs. Structured in four main parts, and based on distinct research questions, readers will be able to dig deep into the individual levers for possible adaptations. It thus provides a solid understanding on how to integrate green aspects into any fashion retailers business model.

Auraria Ellis Merton Coulter,1956 In the 1830's the town of Auraria, located in north Georgia, grew up and reached its zenith. Herein is the colorful story of this exciting gold-mining town, the first in American history, antedating by almost two decades the mining booms in the West. But Auraria dwindled and faded until in the twentieth century it became one of the dead towns. In placing Auraria in its proper perspective the author goes beyond a mere local study and brings in historic developments which concerned the South and the nation as a whole --Page 2 of cover.

My Wattpad love Ariana Godoy,2017-05-10 Julie a dix-sept ans, et si elle a bien une passion dans la vie, c'est les livres. Alors le jour où elle découvre Wattpad, c'est le coup de foudre. Elle tombe amoureuse des histoires qu'elle y lit et décide d'écrire à son tour. Rapidement, elle se met à recevoir de nombreux commentaires élogieux qui l'encouragent à poursuivre. Jusqu'au jour où un mystérieux darkpoet001 la critique publiquement. Naît alors un dialogue houleux entre l'auteur en herbe et son humiliant-autant-que-ténébreux lecteur. Peu à peu, les discussions animées se font plus amicales, Julie apprend à connaître Evan, et se met à l'aimer, au point de vouloir le rencontrer. Malheureusement, si leur relation virtuelle est simple, celle réelle commence mal puisque Evan cache un lourd secret qui l'incite à repousser Julie. Celle-ci, lasse d'avoir à chercher des réponses par elle-même, se rapproche de plus en plus de Shane, le bad boy du lycée... Julie et Evan parviendront-ils à se trouver et s'aimer au-delà de leurs écrans ?

The Necklace VIII Linda S Rice,2020-04-08 As the scene moves from London to Brighton after the Season ends, the cream of the ton follows Prinny, the Prince Regent, to Brighton, curious about his royal guests, a Persian Prince and a Danish Princess who have been betrothed since Princess Petrina's birth. When Susan and Princesses Petrina develop a close friendship, Susan's outrage at pre-arranged marriages rubs off on the impressionable young girl and pushes her into mutiny against Prince Zayan. A royal scandal is on the brink of erupting. Meanwhile, Susan and James must struggle to keep their betrothal intact. The Duchess, Susan's mother, jealous of her daughter's love match and determined to marry her to a man of higher status than Viscount James Lynton, continues to plot against the couple. Lord Pelman, the Duchess's choice for her daughter and heir to a dukedom, conspires with her to end Susan's engagement to James. By doing so, Pelman will not only be able to restore himself in his father's good graces but will be able to cover his reckless high-stakes gaming debts. But what will Lord Pelman do when the Duke discovers the Duchess's part in the plot and banishes her to a cousin in the highlands of Scotland? Is he desperate enough to marry a young and titled heiress that he will stoop to any and all underhanded means to make it happen? When Susan flees to Brighton for London to escape the plot conceived by her mother and Pelman, she is startled to discover James there being tended by a doctor after being shot by highwaymen. She receives another shock when she discovers two strangers at Bradford House with her father who he introduces to her as her half-brothers by Lady Harrington, Nigel, and Caleb. Nigel, the Duke's first love child with Lady Harrington, returns to Brighton with Susan and falls in love with Princess Petrina's cousin, Carmen, while his second son, Caleb, is discovered to be in a romantic relationship with Sir William Campbell, a violinist who shares his love of music and the arts...as well as his bed...a dangerous situation should they be exposed. Last but not least...What other calamities will befall James and Susan as they do their best to wait out an entire year before they can wed? Will they be able to endure the restraints society demands as well as Lord Pelman's evil plot to abduct the rich heiress? But most of all, will their tempestuous relationship and volatile personalities survive the many challenges of going back over 200 years in time?
