Docencia, ciencia y humanidades: hacia un enseñanza integral en la Universidad del siglo XXI Marc Pallarès Piquer, Javier Gil Quintana, Antonio Santisteban Espejo, 2021-06-09 Este libro tiene por objeto el análisis de ciertos aspectos vinculados con la mejora de la actividad docente. La estructura del libro está dividida en cuatro apartados. El primero de ellos, abordara las cuestiones vinculadas a la educación mediática y la cultura de la participación, haciendo hincapié en el papel de las redes sociales, los y las influencers, el aprendizaje expandido, colaborativo y abierto. El apartado segundo, trata acerca de relevancia de la evaluación, la gestión y las políticas educativas que son necesarias para la adecuada implementación de los distintos modelos docentes en los organismos e instituciones educativas. El apartado tercero, ahonda en la cuestión de la docencia de la ciencia en nuestros días y, en particular, dada su relevancia social, de las ciencias de la salud. No es posible, a la altura de nuestro tiempo, concebir una sociedad justa, equitativa y educada, si no es en el seno de una colectividad que aboga por el cuidado de su salud, que valora el cuidado del organismo en su conjunto y, opta, de entre todos los caminos posibles, por hacer valido el lema latino: Mens sana in corpore sano. Por último, el estudio de las cuestiones anteriores requiere, como un prerrequisito transversal, el manejo correcto y la adecuada formación en la búsqueda, revisión y análisis documental. A ello se dedica, con extensión, el cuarto y último apartado del libro.

The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith, 2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive, 4-volume work. Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region, no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history. The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe. Historians have investigated women's daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region. They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical, social, or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected. The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences, and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical, social, and demographic changes. The Encyclopedia contains over 1,250 signed articles arranged in an A-Z format for ease of use. The entries cover six main areas: biographies; geography and history; comparative culture and society, including adoption, abortion, performing arts; organizations and movements, such as the Egyptian Uprising, and the Paris Commune; womens and gender studies; and topics in world history that include slave trade, globalization, and disease. With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts, this reference work is sure to be a valued, go-to resource for scholars, college and high school students, and general readers alike.

Jack Kerouac Juan Vives Rocabert,2021-12-02 En Jack Kerouac: el rey de la Generación Beat, Juan Vives Rocabert narra la historia de su máximo referente a través de un análisis exhaustivo de sus escritos y el recorrido por los hechos que marcaron su vida. Un texto de lectura indispensable para los amantes de este género y para quienes quieran adentrarse en el mundo vertiginoso y siempre al límite de la Generación Beat. Jack Kerouac fue un escritor sumergido en vicios, protagonista de aventuras de todo tipo y una pasión por escribir que hermanó a seres perdidos, bohemios, músicos, poetas y genios. Kerouac y sus amigos dieron vida (a pesar de historias cargadas de muerte y desamparo) a una generación literaria y cultural que fue de las pioneras en reflexionar sobre el amor libre y la diversidad sexual, entre otros temas, y que marcó un antes y un después en los géneros literarios. Vives Rocabert nos describe, como en una película, la historia de Jack Kerouac y nos invita a sentir la adrenalina de ese momento en cada anécdota y en cada frase. Autor de “En el camino”, “Ángeles de desolación”, “Los subterráneos”, entre otros, Kerouac es, junto con William S. Burroughs y Allen Ginsberg, uno de los personajes más influyentes de la llamada Generación Beat que surgió en Estados Unidos a finales de la década del '40. “No sabía a donde ir excepto a todas partes” fue el ritmo en el que Kerouac, como su frase, supo y pudo vivir su vida a pesar de la muerte.

This Time Manny Gutiérrez,2018-02-24 THIS TIME is a clear-and-to-the-point story that grasps the readers attention immediately. Unapologetically, Manuel Manny Gutierrez leaves no doubt that the newcomer flamme passionne has come to right unacceptable wrongs. Jack Delgado, author of The Trail to Golgotha (2009) and Crooked (2007). Jacks website is at <http://www.gate.net/~joachim/> The opening chapter of THIS TIME recalls the tragic, yet forgotten, catastrophes that afflicted humankind at the end of 2000 as we awaited Y2K. The chapter takes the audience around the world where many people die inexplicably-at the same time- mostly in fire-related incidents. I fully expect to read the entire book because this first chapter has me hooked! Fernando Fernn Hernández is the author of 4 books; the last two are The Cubans: Our Legacy in the United States and his most recent one, The Cubans: Our Footprints Across America, both available at Amazon.com. A retired educator, he resides in Miami, Florida. THIS TIME offers a unique perspective on the past by rewriting the history of the present and recasting the most well-known of all stories in a different light. Highly imaginative, engaging, and intriguing, this book is full of unexpected twists that will keep the reader guessing what might happen next, and also what might happen if history were to repeat itself. CARLOS EIRE, author of Waiting for Snow in Havana (winner of the 2003 National Book Award for Non-fiction) Professor of Religious studies at Yale University. Christmas Day, December 25, 2000a mysterious series of unexpected and unexplainable deaths happens across the globe during the birth of the only child of a rebellious young couple. Two clues only group the hundreds of cases together, but these clues are seen only by the sharpest and hardest-working investigators and journalists. The child, a unique individual, is going to turn the world upside down. Although his power and actions are reminiscent of the best known rebel in history, his novel approach will delight his followers and make deadly enemies of his opponents. Will he succeed in his personal quest?

Mantegna and Painting as Historical Narrative Jack M. Greenstein, 1992-06 In this study, Jack M. Greenstein draws on Early Renaissance art theory, modern narratology, translation studies, critical theory, the philosophy of history, and biblical hermeneutics to explicate the sense and significance of one of Andrea Mantegna's most enigmatic and influential works, the Uffizi Circumcision of Christ. Faced with a work that resists established methods of iconographical analysis, Greenstein reassesses the nature and goals of high humanist narrative painting. The result is a new, historically grounded theory of iconography that calls into question many widely held assumptions about the social and intellectual value of Early Renaissance art. Greenstein's theory rests on a careful analysis of Leon Battista Alberti's commentary On Painting, which equated both the form and the content of artistically composed painting with historia. Situating this equation within a centuries-old discourse on the multivalent significance of the Bible, Greenstein shows that, for Alberti, historia was a mode of artistic narrative, common to literature and painting, in which moral truths were presented to the corporeal senses, particularly to vision, in the guise of plausible human actions. In Greenstein's reading, the painter's primary task was the construction of a visually plausible narrative that effectively conveyed the higher meanings of historia. Having thus delineated the structure of significance in Albertian painting, Greenstein shows what was at stake when a painter of Mantegna's historical bent undertook to produce a historia. As one of the leading historical thinkers of his age, Mantegna imbued his depicted scenes with the plausibility of historical events by employing those codes of evidence, causality, and historical distance that underlay the Renaissance sense of the past. But the Circumcision of Christ resisted such treatment because the symbolic conventions developed by earlier artists for conveying the higher theological meanings of the theme were incompatible with the representational fidelity embraced by painters of historia. Mantegna overcame these difficulties by arriving at a new understanding of the Circumcision, which remained faithful to the narrative structure as well as the theological content of the biblical account. His interpretation was widely adopted by later artists, but was so pictorial in nature that, despite its consistency with the biblical account, it remained without parallel in theological literature. Greenstein's discovery--that artistic production of Albertian painting was a specialized and singularly visual form of thinking whose roots lay more in readerly hermeneutics than in perception, commerce, or common visual experience--raises questions about narrative, representation, and the textuality of art that will interest a wide array of scholars.

Stranger in the Desert Jordan Salama,2024-02-20 Inspired by family lore, a young writer embarks on an epic quest through the Argentine Andes in search of a heritage spanning hemispheres and centuries, from the Jewish Levant to turn-of-the-century trade routes in South America One Thanksgiving afternoon at his grandparents' house, Jordan Salama discovers a large binder stuffed with yellowing papers and old photographs—a five-hundred-year wandering history of his Arab-Jewish family, from Moorish Spain to Ottoman Syria to Argentina and beyond. One story in particular captures his attention: that of his great-grandfather, a Syrian-born, Arabic-speaking Jewish immigrant to Argentina who in the 1920s worked as a traveling salesman in the Andes—and may have left behind forgotten descendants along the way. Encouraged by his grandfather, Jordan goes in search of these “Lost Salamas,” traveling more than a thousand miles up the spine of South America’s greatest mountain range. Combining travelog, history, memoir, and reportage, Stranger in the Desert transports readers from the lonely plains of Patagonia to the breathtaking altiplano of the high Andes; from the old Jewish quarter of Damascus to today’s vibrant neighborhoods of Buenos Aires. It is also a fervent journey of self-discovery as Salama grapples with his own Jewish, Arab, and Latin American identities, interrogating the stories families tell themselves, and to what end.
