William Shakespeare

Claire: The Blind Love of a Blind Hero, by a Blind Author Leslie Burton Blades, 2019-12-13 In Claire: The Blind Love of a Blind Hero, by a Blind Author, Leslie Burton Blades explores the deeply intertwined themes of love and perception through the poignant lens of a blind protagonist. Blades employs a rich, evocative literary style that immerses the reader in the internal world of his characters, utilizing sensory imagery and introspective dialogue to convey the nuances of emotional experience. This novel sits within the context of early 20th-century literature, where issues of disability and social perception were becoming increasingly prominent, bringing forth a narrative that challenges the societal norms of love and capability. Leslie Burton Blades, who himself navigated the challenges of blindness, draws from personal experience to imbue his narrative with authenticity and emotional depth. An advocate for the disabled, Blades's literary journey reflects a dedication to representing marginalized voices, contributing to a broader discourse on disability and love. His background provided him with a unique vantage point, enabling him to articulate the complexities of human connection against the backdrop of personal struggle. Claire is not merely a story about romance; it is a profound exploration of humanity and resilience. Readers seeking a compelling narrative that transcends the usual tropes of love and disability will find this novel an enlightening and enriching experience, providing both empathy and understanding in its exploration of what it means to love without sight. In this enriched edition, we have carefully created added value for your reading experience: - Hand-picked Memorable Quotes shine a spotlight on moments of literary brilliance. - Interactive footnotes clarify unusual references, historical allusions, and archaic phrases for an effortless, more informed read.

The Paperback Badshah Abhay Nagarajan, 2013-07 'In life...you can choose to become a specialist or a generalist. But in love, please don't become a reluctant fundamentalist. Instead become a love scientist.' — Raghu Balakrishnan Raghu Balakrishnan is a laidback 25 year old, who quits his regular job as a financial advisor to focus single-mindedly on his dream of becoming a published author in India. He stays with his parents. They reluctantly tolerate his new-found creative 'nonsense' as he works on his book, a love story, which he titles The Paperback Badshah. As time passes by, he realizes that writing the book is just one part of the dream. How did one go about getting it published? What about the marketing and promotion? What about reactions from the readers? Would it open up the faucets of love in their hearts or would it irritate them, given the sheer absurdity of the plot? Along the way, will Raghu also get lucky in matters of the heart? Find out by joining him in his entertaining journey, as he chases his writing dream to eventually become a published '100 Rupee' paperback author.

The All-Sustaining Air Michael O'Neill, 2007-09-27 Drawn from Shelley's Prometheus Unbound, the title of this book suggests the cultural and literary persistence of the Romantic in the work of many British, American, and Irish poets since 1900. Allowing for and celebrating the multiple, even fractured nature of Romantic legacies, Michael O'Neill focuses on the creative impact of Romantic poetry on twentieth- and twenty-first century poetry. Individual chapters embrace numerous authors and texts, and span different cultures; the intention is not the forlorn hope of completeness, but the wish to open up possibilities and intersections, and there is a strong sense throughout of poetry serving as a subtle and profound form of literary criticism. A wide-ranging introduction analyses the persistence of the Romantic in poets such as Ted Hughes, Wilfred Owen, Robert Frost, Denise Levertov, Robert Lowell, and others, and sets the scene for subsequent discussions. Chapter 1 dwells on images of 'air', using these to understand the efforts of a number of twentieth-century poets to 'sustain' Romanticism, or forms of it. Chapters 2 and 3 focus on Yeats and Eliot, respectively, the latter apparently shunning the Romantic, the former seeming to embrace it, but both responding with subtlety and individuality to the Romantic bequest. Chapter 4 argues that Wallace Stevens's 'Esthétique du Mal' should be read as a work that illuminates the writings of the major Romantics, especially about evil and suffering. Chapter 5 discusses the work of W. H. Auden and Stephen Spender, exploring the complex response of both poets to the Romantic, Auden complicated in his post-Romantic attitudes, Spender daring in his attempts to renew a Romantic lyricism in a post-Romantic age. Chapter 6 returns to a broader sweep as it investigates the response of a range of contemporary poets from Northern Ireland, including Heaney, Kavanagh, Mahon, and Carson, to Romantic poetry. Chapter 7 sustains the Irish connection, discussing Paul Muldoon's dealings with Byron and other Romantics, especially in Madoc. And Chapter 8 focuses on Geoffrey's Hill's tense and tensed relations with Romantic poetry, and on Roy Fisher's sense of being a 'gutted Romantic', in order to illustrate two diverse ways of being post-Romantic in contemporary culture.

Transforming Grace Jerry Bridges,2014-02-27 The freedom in falling short of God's standard relies on His gift of grace. Unfortunately, too many of us forget the free offer. We spend our lives basing our relationship with God on our performance rather than on Him. We see our identity as never being worthy of His love. Isn't it time to stop trying to measure up and begin accepting the transforming power of God's grace? The product of more than 10 years of Bible study, Navigator author Jerry Bridges' Transforming Grace is a fountainhead of inspiration and renewal that will show you just how inexhaustible and generous God's grace really is.
