Mirroring Consensus Jos Benders, Niels Noorderhaven, 2000 Over the last four decades, many Japanese companies have opened branch offices or subsidiaries in the Netherlands. The same is true of Dutch companies in Japan. In these organisations, nationals with different cultural backgrounds worked together intensively and decisions of varying importance are made continuously. Effective co-operation and decision-making in such intercultural business settings require insight into each other's ways of thinking. In this book, experienced authors from business and academia discuss Japanese-Dutch economic relationships against this background of similarities, differences and adaptations.

Company Strategies and Organisational Evolution in the Automotive Sector Francesco Garibaldo, Andrea Bardi, 2005 This book is published during a phase of crisis and transformation for the automobile industry across the world; this crisis is particularly acute in Europe and the United States. The book is written especially for the non-specialist with more than a passing interest in the sector, such as experts of other sectors, trade unionists, representatives of the corporate world, policymakers and public managers who deal with industry, commerce and public planning. The authors provide up-to-date information and assessments of what is actually taking place, with particular attention paid to the sub-supply companies. The main focus lies on four European countries, Germany, Spain, Sweden and Italy, each of which is significant for its different experiences. Finally, three important non-European situations, the United States, Brazil and Japan, are examined.

Better Thinking, Better Results Bob Emiliani, 2003 This is the first book to document an actual company's Lean transformation over a ten-year period. It presents, in detail, what The Wiremold Company did to achieve its transformation and their amazing results, both financial and non-financial. The book vividly shows how Wiremold applied Lean principles and practices to the entire enterprise and throughout the value stream. The Wiremold Company achieved outstanding success in a short period of time by using Lean as a comprehensive management system, rather than as a group of tools. The leadership lessons are invaluable for anyone involved with making the Lean management system come alive in their company.
