SKIN Kathe Koja,2014-08-21 Tess welds metal. Bibi molds flesh. Together, they make art that moves, dances, burns, and bleeds, and the Surgeons of the Demolition become the hottest ticket in town. But Bibi wants more, always more, no matter who gets hurt. And Tess needs to burn, no matter what. Thirty years ago, SKIN changed the landscape of dark fiction forever. And now the girls are back in town. A dark and frightening work by a major talent whose prose reads like a collaboration between Clive Barker and William S. Burroughs. Highly recommended. - Library Journal [H]umorless novel about art punks in an unnamed present-day city...the novel, like the art of the characters it portrays, is a sustained exercise in style over substance. - Publishers Weekly The language Koja employs is fresh and astonishing, harsh yet beautiful. - Washington Post Book World The biggest flaw in this novel is the writing. Koja often abandons grammar, sentence structure, and, as a result, clarity. Many of her incomplete sentences are simply unintelligible. - The Tech Unexpectedly poignant ... Sentences as sharp and to the point as a scrotal stud. - SPIN [W]ill leave many fighting off its overload. - Kirkus Reviews Not an easy read, but perversely beautiful. - Vector

Bad Brains Kathe Koja,1992 Austen was still staggering from his divorce from Emily. First he couldn't paint anymore. Then he took a pratfall in the parking lot of a 7-Eleven. The beer bottles broke. Brain damage. In the hospital they said 'Don't stop taking your medication.' Then the visions began. An oily silver sheen, chrome cascades of blood and tears... from the corner of his eye he sees the head of a mucous serpent, reaching out for him. ...And in his pain and horror, all he can think to say is, 'Emily! Emily!' His obsessed mind has mutinied. His madness has launched him on a cross-country odyssey of debauchery and more pain. Searching for Emily and love lost; searching for a cure, finding Dr. Quiet--healer or demon? Dr. Quiet will cure Austen. Painting will cure Austen. Death will cure Austen. Here is what waits at the end of the silvery road of shimmering madness: the blood of the one you love...--Back cover.

Straydog Kathe Koja, 2002-01

House of Horrors Agnieszka Kotwasińska, 2023-06-15 This is a study of tumultuous transformations of kinship and intimate relationships in American horror fiction over the last three decades. Twelve contemporary novels (by ten women writers and two whose work has been identified as women's fiction) are grouped into four main thematic clusters – haunted houses; monsters; vampires; and hauntings – but it is social scripts and concerns linked directly to intimacy and family life that structure the entire volume. By drawing attention to how the most intimate of all social relationships – the family – supports and replicates social hierarchies, exclusions, and struggles for dominance, the book problematises the source of horror. The consideration of horror narratives through the lens of familial intimacies makes it possible to rethink genre boundaries, to question the efficacy of certain genre tropes, and to consider the contribution of such diverse authors as Kathe Koja, Tananarive Due, Gwendolyn Kiste, Elizabeth Engstrom, Sara Gran and Caitlín R. Kiernan.

Inhuman Materiality in Gothic Media Aspasia Stephanou, 2019-05-13 This book examines the manifestations of materiality across different gothic media to show the inhuman at the heart of literature, film and contemporary media, outlining a philosophy of horror that deals with the horror of the nonhuman, the machine and the nonorganic. The author explores how materiality lends itself ideally to discussions of gothic and horror and acts as a threat to attempts to control meaning which falls outside the realm of consciousness. It brings the two together by examining the manifestations of this materiality to focus on a form of horror that is concerned with the (in) human by reading blood as the conduit of an unnameable materiality that circulates through gothic media, seducing with its familiar mask of gothic aesthetics only to uncover the horror of a totally alienating and inhuman otherness. Film, media, popular culture, philosophy and nineteenth-century literature are brought together and juxtaposed to create a continuity of ideas, and highlighting differences. The book offers innovative readings of notions of blood inscription in different media, of the Dark Web, accelerationism and technoscience to account for the widespread haemophilia in contemporary culture. This title is an essential read for researchers, undergraduate and postgraduate students in film studies, media studies, literature, philosophy, cultural theory and popular culture. Its interdisciplinary nature, clear exposition of thought and theoretical ideas will make it a key resource for both students and for general readers with an interest in contemporary horror, media and pop culture.
