Re-awakening Languages John Hobson, Kevin Lowe, Susan Poetsch, Michael Walsh, 2018-08-30 The Indigenous languages of Australia have been undergoing a renaissance over recent decades. Many languages that had long ceased to be heard in public and consequently deemed 'dead' or 'extinct', have begun to emerge. Geographically and linguistically isolated, revitalisers of Indigenous Australian languages have often struggled to find guidance for their circumstances, unaware of the others walking a similar path. In this context Re-awakening Languages seeks to provide the first comprehensive snapshot of the actions and aspirations of Indigenous people and their supporters for the revitalisation of Australian languages in the 21st century. The contributions to this volume describe the satisfactions and tensions of this ongoing struggle. They also draw attention to the need for effective planning and strong advocacy at the highest political and administrative levels, if language revitalisation in Australia is to be successful and people's efforts are to have longevity.

Working Two Way Michelle Johnston, Simon Forrest, 2020-06-15 This book describes an action research approach to engaging respectfully with First Nations communities in a diverse range of contexts, disciplines and projects. It offers a valuable guide for professionals, students and teaching staff that recognises all participants as equal partners while acknowledging the diversity of First Peoples and culture, and prioritising local knowledge. While the book is adaptable to a diverse range of cultures and disciplines, it is specifically focused on cross-cultural collaborative case studies in Noongar Country, which is located in the southwest of Western Australia. The case studies demonstrate how action research can be applied not only in the traditional areas of education and social justice, but also in a diverse range of disciplines, communities and circumstances, including media, education, environmental management and health. The book's aim is to highlight successful cross-cultural First Nations community projects and to discuss each one in terms of its action research philosophy and process. In this regard, the voices of the participants are prioritised, especially those of First Nations communities. While this book is specifically pitched at Australian readers, the action research approach described may be adapted and applied to many cross-cultural collaborative relationships, making it of interest and value to international students and researchers.

8 Ways to Declutter Your Brain Theresa Puskar, 2020-03-24 How do you handle the nightmares of life? By awakening. This book reveals how. Turn the pages and . . . Expect Miracles.-Joe Vitale, from the Foreword After eons of inhabiting the earth, the human brain has developed into a highly functional and complex apparatus. That being said, we have come to the point where we actually believe we ARE our minds. What if you discovered that you are not your thoughts-that they are, in fact, an expression of the universal thoughtmosphere? The time has come for you to shift your paradigm, and awaken to the realization that your mind has served you well, but that you are so much more. In this revolutionary new book, edu-tainer, speaker, and author Theresa Puskas sheds light on the incessant mind chatter that clutters your brain and uncovers the myriad of traps your ego sets to deplete your energy and keep you conflicted, confused and running. Learn how to: Shift from toxic reactivity to liberating receptivity Get out of your own way and attract success Access your innate sense of well-being Review and release your never-ending battle with life Recognize the source of your anger and intolerance and discover deep peace Build genuine, heart-based relationships Transform exhaustion to inspired mobilization Fall in love with your True Self Challenge yourself to take a look inside and see if we can give you that serious edge you've been seeking and long overdue to succeed. Maybe you have what it takes to activate what I call your "Genius Blend", now look inside to unlock it!

Early Childhood Leadership in Action Elizabeth Stamopoulos, 2020-07-16 Leadership is a core skill required by all early childhood educators, whatever position they hold - whether leading their own ethical and professional practice or leading others. From understanding ethical frameworks to managing change, and from quality assurance to working with teams, families and the wider community, the most effective early childhood leaders act with confidence, flexibility and creativity. In this book early childhood researchers Elizabeth Stamopoulos and Lennie Barblett provide a new model for leadership. Recognising that leadership is both an individual and collective endeavour, multi-layered and multidimensional, the authors have distilled core tasks of leadership that are explored in detail in each chapter: *Understanding and conceptualising theories of leadership *Leading in times of change *Advocating for high quality pedagogy and practice *Developing strong communication skills * Leading through digital technology and media * Developing effective teams * Building positive relationships with families and the wider community * Embedding Indigenous perspectives * Embracing evidence-based research And * Leading ethical practice. Featuring the perspectives of leaders from diverse settings, together with reflection exercises and discussion questions throughout, this is an essential book for both pre-service and in-service early childhood educators. 'The authors...are commended for their commitment to shining a light on a wide range of research, theories and issues concerned with leadership and the early childhood profession. ' -- from the foreword by Catharine Hydon and Dr Anne Kennedy Educating in Dialog Sebastian Feller, Ilker Yengin, 2014-11-14 Educating in Dialog: Constructing meaning and building knowledge with dialogic technology contains a collection of new articles on the relationship of learning, dialog and technology. The articles combine different views of dialogic learning stemming from a multiplicity of discipline backgrounds and research interests including educational design, educational science, epistemology, cognitive linguistics, cultural studies, and mobile learning, to name a few. The authors discuss and explore a variety of topics that range from knowledge building over learning communities to dialogic technologies for knowledge co-construction. Discussing technology and learning against this broad background is indispensable, as the gap between what learners actually need for successful learning and what current technology offers becomes increasingly wide. This book provides thought-provoking views of recent developments in the area of technology supported learning for everyone who is interested in educational technologies, collaborative learning, and dialog.

Information Literacy and Workplace Performance Tom W. Goad, 2002-01-30 Today's workplace demands skills for a productive use of information. This guide explores the basic skills, including thinking and decision-making, creativity enhancement, innovation and risk-taking, computer literacy, subject matter literacy, learning how to learn, and on-the-job help.

8 Ways to Tell Your Fortune Sarah Bartlett, 2006-07-01 If you've ever wanted to know your future or needed help making an important decision, then this guide is the answer. It introduces eight divination techniques, including tarot, palmistry, aura reading, and the I Ching, and shows how each one can help you to access intuition, make the right decisions, and discover your destiny. Featuring simple step-by-step instructions, interpretation grids, and easy-to-read summary boxes, this fantastic guide to ancient practices from around the world is laid out so that anyone can gain insight into all areas of life, including career, health, and personality. The techniques learned can also be used to help others and improve personal relationships, making this an essential resource for anyone intrigued by fortune telling.

Observation and Participation in Early Childhood Settings Jean Billman, Janice A. Sherman, 2003 This text was written to give students experience in using effective methods for observing young children's development (ages 0-8) and documenting their observations. Designed to guide students' participation with children of different age groups in a variety of early childhood settings, the text encourages students to interact with children as they learn more about development by carrying out the activities outlined in each chapter. This text models the educational approaches that professionals advocate for early childhood classrooms: observational learning, active learning, guided discovery, choice, mini-lessons and cooperative learning. These approaches are incorporated into this text through concise overviews and numerous activities related to early childhood development and education.
