It provides detailed information on the process involved in the establishment of an AZA and it is intended as a practical and comprehensive tool to better understand site selection and planning for aquaculture. This publication first provides a brief

The step-by-step approach for the establishment of AZAs takes into account a number of specific aspects, such as geographic information system tools, exclusion criteria and stakeholder participation, the main actors to be involved, the role of relevant authorities in charge of geographical and/or marine aquaculture planning, statutory responsibilities, prevention and resolution of possible conflicts, and decision-making. The guide also describes the objectives and contents of AZA management plans and presents the parameters to be used as reference points for the AZA implementation. It is addressed to decision-makers from relevant bodies and administrations, governmental and non-governmental organizations, scientific research institutions, aquaculture producers and fishing communities, as well as other relevant stakeholders involved in aquaculture activities, coastal development, and in the use of the aquatic environment and resources.

Concepts of Coastal Zone Management Dr. Ravi Kumar Kandula, 2024-12-18 Concepts of Coastal Zone Management is a comprehensive guide designed to address the multifaceted issues related to the management of coastal areas. Coastal zones, being areas where land meets the sea, are highly dynamic and vulnerable, requiring careful planning and management to sustain both their natural environments and the human activities dependent on them. This book brings together critical concepts in coastal management, ranging from the physical and ecological characteristics of coastal zones to the legal, policy, and socio-economic aspects that guide management decisions. The text covers a wide range of topics, including coastal erosion, pollution, biodiversity, and the effects of climate change, while also exploring solutions for sustainable development. It provides a detailed look at Integrated Coastal Zone Management (ICZM), which emphasizes an inclusive, ecosystem-based approach that balances the needs of communities, industries, and the environment. Additionally, it explores tools such as Environmental Impact Assessments (EIA), Marine Spatial Planning (MSP), and adaptive management strategies that help mitigate risks and ensure sustainable use of coastal resources. This book is ideal for students, researchers, and professionals seeking a comprehensive understanding of coastal zone management principles and practices. It is a valuable resource for those aiming to contribute to the sustainable future of coastal areas around the globe.

Conflict Resolution in Coastal Zone Management Walter Leal Filho, 2008 In view of the importance of coastal areas to Baltic countries, integrated coastal zone management (ICZM) is a matter of prime concern. ICZM is also an important feature of the project Coastal Zone Management in the Baltic Sea Region (COASTMAN), undertaken in the context of the Interreg IIIB (Baltic Sea) Programme. These experiences are presented in this book, which begins with an overview of the issue of conflict resolution in coastal zone management followed by a description of a set of administrative and legal processes and of case studies in the following regions: Hamburg (Germany), Haapsalu (Estonia), Klaipėda (Lithuania), Primorsk (Russia), Stockholm (Sweden) and Ventspils (Latvia). The third part presents information relating to the educational and training aspects of conflict resolution in ICZM. Thanks to its scope and trans-national dimension, this Handbook will be instrumental for organisations responsible for ICZM and will provide some inspiration towards initiatives that can be undertaken at the local level in order to better understand, and hopefully address, conflicts arising in coastal areas.
