Japan Fodor's, 1998 Judith Lee, an entitled descendant of the Korean royal family, has grown quite accustomed to the privileges of the aristocracy. Unfortunately for her, royal descent does not equal money. Her family lost their fortune long ago, and when her parents add insult to injury by cutting off her allowance upon her graduation from Yale, Jude (as she is known) learns the hard way that her fancy upbringing has left her unprepared to deal with her monstrous debts. As she hobnobs in New York with her clever, wellborn friends, she is introduced to Madame Tartakov, a charismatic Russian emigre, who has the solution for Jude's financial woes. The catch: Jude must put in two years at Tartakov's Translation Services - a front organization for the flock of high society girls, collected from all over the world, who now work as Manhattan's most coveted courtesans. Jude's taste of the good life convinces her that she's right at home in Madame Tartakov's luxurious Upper East Side town house. She has finally found a job that uses the unique skills of a blue blood, and she is quite taken by the fiery classical violinist who pays for her companionship - that is, until she finds herself irresistibly drawn to Joshua Spinoza, a penniless philosophy student who has a stutter and poor taste in wine, and who leaves the opera at intermission because he thinks it is over. Dark forces begin to test Jude's already limited moral fiber when she discovers not only that she is falling in love outside her clientele, but that an illegitimate relative is harboring a grotesque secret and something catastrophic is hidden in the family archives. Ultimately, Jude is forced to take a good, hard look in her warped antique Tiffany mirror. Is being born into a world of privilege a gift? Can bad things really happen to blue bloods? And perhaps more startlingly: are courtesans nothing more than prostitutes in Prada?--BOOK JACKET.

Bento Box Confessions Rei K., Aisuru H., 2025-09-09 He's spent years making her lunch. Now he has to find the courage to make her his. Kazuki Takaichi has never found the right words to say to Aiko Sumimoto—his childhood crush, his brightest memory, the sun he's never stopped orbiting. Instead, he's poured his heart into the only language he knows best: the elaborate bento boxes he's left for her in secret, year after year. But when a university project forces them to work side by side, Kazuki's quiet world unravels. Every dish risks giving him away, every late-night moment blurs the line between longing and something more. How do you confess a love that's been written in rice and seaweed since childhood—without losing the very person it was meant for? A sweet, angsty, and heartfelt romance about finding the courage to share your heart, one ingredient at a time. Tags: childhood crush, shy guy, friends to lovers, secret admirer, slow burn, culinary romance  KazuAiko Angsty Sweet Romance series is a collection of emotionally charged romance stories where love is messy, raw, and beautifully real. Kazuki and Aiko are the main characters, but each book tells a different story and can be read in any order.
