Marked Women Russell Campbell, 2006-04-05 Julia Roberts played a prostitute, famously, in Pretty Woman. So did Jodie Foster in Taxi Driver, Jane Fonda in Klute, Anna Karina in Vivre sa vie, Greta Garbo in Anna Christie, and Charlize Theron, who won an Academy Award for Monster. This engaging and generously illustrated study explores the depiction of female prostitute characters and prostitution in world cinema, from the silent era to the present-day industry. From the woman with control over her own destiny to the woman who cannot get away from her pimp, Russell Campbell shows the diverse representations of prostitutes in film. Marked Women classifies fifteen recurrent character types and three common narratives, many of them with their roots in male fantasy. The "Happy Hooker," for example, is the liberated woman whose only goal is to give as much pleasure as she receives, while the "Avenger," a nightmare of the male imagination, represents the threat of women taking retribution for all the oppression they have suffered at the hands of men. The "Love Story," a common narrative, represents the prostitute as both heroine and anti-heroine, while "Condemned to Death" allows men to manifest, in imagination only, their hostility toward women by killing off the troubled prostitute in an act of cathartic violence. The figure of the woman whose body is available at a price has fascinated and intrigued filmmakers and filmgoers since the very beginning of cinema, but the manner of representation has also been highly conflicted and fiercely contested. Campbell explores the cinematic prostitute as a figure shaped by both reactionary thought and feminist challenges to the norm, demonstrating how the film industry itself is split by fascinating contradictions.

Feature Films, 1960-1969 Harris M. Lentz III, 2009-12-29 This is a filmography, in two volumes, of not only all of the English-language movies made during the 1960s that had a U. S. theatrical release but major foreign films exhibited in the United States as well. The following information is provided for each film: year of release, nation of origin if other than the U.S., production or distribution company, black and white or color, running time, genre, production credits, cast and characters, and a brief synopsis. This turbulent decade is unusually interesting in the history of cinema. Those films released in the early part of the decade were similar to those of the 1950s, but as the years passed, the offerings changed in many ways.

Armin Mueller-Stahl Armin Mueller-Stahl, 2020-01-01 Armin Mueller-Stahl, deutscher Schauspieler von Weltrang, ist längst auch als begnadeter Dichter und Maler bekannt. Mit diesem Folgeband zu Der wien Vogel fliegen kann und Die Blaue

Kuh erscheint ein weiteres politisches Lied von ihm, das der Künstler mit expressiven Malereien zu einer kraftvollen Gesamtkomposition vereint. Den Liedtext schrieb er bereits Mitte der 1960er-Jahre. Mit starkem Rhythmus und hoher lautmalerischer Qualität textet Armin Mueller-Stahl gegen den Irrsinn der Waffen und kriegsführenden Mächte an. Begleitet von seinen kraftvollen und expressiven Bildfindungen verbinden sich Textverlauf und Illustration zu einer herrlichen Komposition. Eine Augen- und Ohrenfreude für alle Generationen.

The Holocaust Film Sourcebook: Fiction Caroline Joan Picart, 2004 A comprehensive filmography, listing fictional narrative films in the first volume and documentary and propaganda films in the second. The films - listed alphabetically - were produced in many different countries. The work lists films made during World War II and after (including Nazi films). Each entry provides bibliographic information, a summary of the story, and a list of primary and secondary sources. Each volume contains a few spotlight essays. Partial contents:

A Dramatic Reinvention Stewart Anderson, 2020-04-09 Following World War II, Germany was faced not only with the practical tasks of reconstruction and denazification, but also with the longer-term mission of morally “re-civilizing” its citizens—a goal that persisted through the nation’s 1949 split. One of the most important mediums for effecting reeducation was television, whose strengths were particularly evident in the thousands of television plays that were broadcast in both Germanys in the 1950s and 1960s. This book shows how TV dramas transcended state boundaries and—withstanding the ideological differences between East and West—addressed shared issues and themes, helping to ease viewers into confronting uncomfortable moral topics.

The Drinker Hans Fallada, 2011-03-29 One of the great German writers of the 20th century draws from his own life to present a “brave, fearless, and honest” tale of one man’s dark descent into depression and alcoholism (The Sunday Times, London) This astonishing, autobiographical tour de force was written by Hans Fallada in an encrypted notebook while he was incarcerated in a Nazi insane asylum. Discovered after his death, it tells the tale—often fierce, often poignant, often extremely funny—of a small businessman losing control as he fights valiantly to blot out an increasingly oppressive society. In a brilliant translation by Charlotte and A.L. Lloyd, it is presented here with an afterword by John Willett that details the life and career of the once internationally acclaimed Hans Fallada, and his fate under the Nazis—which brings out the horror of the events behind the book.

The Concise Cinegraph Hans-Michael Bock,Tim Bergfelder,2009-09-01 This comprehensive guide is an ideal reference work for film specialists and enthusiasts. First published in 1984 but continuously updated ever since, CineGraph is the most authoritative and comprehensive encyclopedia on German-speaking cinema in the German language. This condensed and substantially revised English-language edition makes this important resource available to students and researchers for the first time outside its German context. It offers a representative historical overview through bio-filmographical entries on the main protagonists, from the beginnings to the present day. Included are directors and actors, writers and cameramen, composers and production designers, film theorists and critics, producers and distributors, inventors and manufacturers. An appendix includes short introductory essays on specific periods and movements, such as Early Film, Weimar, Nazi Cinema, DEFA, New German Cinema, and German film since unification, as well as on cinematic developments in Austria and Switzerland. Sections that crossreference names around specific professional groups and themes will prove equally invaluable to researchers.

Jewish Film Directory Matthew Stevens,1992 A comprehensive annotated filmography. See the subject index for films on antisemitism and the Holocaust, as well as Nazi propaganda films.

Halliwell's Who's who in the Movies Leslie Halliwell,2001 This is an A-Z of people in cinema, with biographical profiles of actors and actresses, directors, producers, editors and other key personnel, as well as notes on the major studios, foreign cinema, cinematic themes and definitions of technical terms.

Faces of DEFA Sandra Bergemann,2008

Visualizing the Imagined Community Mark Wolfgram,2001 The author uses a comparative methodology to observe how two different German societies and political systems, East and West Germany, managed the reconstruction of German nationalism after Hitler and World War II. Working with the theoretical concept of collective memory, the author shows not only how the representations of the Nazi era have changed over time, but also offers explanations of why they changed in the manner that they did. The author draws links between these changing representations of the past, or collective memory, and political consequences for both German societies in terms of democratization, the formation of an ethically based civil society, and the possibilities for reconciliation and forgiveness.
