My Australian Prince Elmie Yan,2007-07 My Australian Prince sets itself mainly in Western Australia's ruggedly beautiful and antique Kalgoorlie-Boulder, the enchanting Archipelago of the Recherche on the Southern Ocean, and the delicate splendour of Paris outskirts of antiquity. Alain James Goldenbough, endowed with magnetic handsomeness and intelligence, is born in 1960 into Western Australia's richest family. Their wealth emanates from the 1893 Gold Rush of the famed mining twin-towns of Kalgoorlie-Boulder. His famous colourful posy since the age of ten is the symbol of his high regard for women... and the New Mothers Paradise his brainchild. For his only love Elizabeth Sinclair, he reserves the red rose-posy and he leads them both to a vow of virginity. Together with Elizabeth, he is to face his two legacies - the only-child Goldenbough Australian ancestry and his maternal Montagne French heritage. Elizabeth must help him, but it seems that his heart that softens to women's needs will not know the mysteries beneath Elizabeth's crescent smile and lake-look aquamarine eyes. He will not know either the versatile schemes of his two rivaling grandfathers - Pop Sir William Goldenbough of Australia and Papy Vincent Montagne of France - nor the mysterious family in France that aims to destroy him. His two legacies will pound and crumble him to his limits, bringing him out to the extraordinary, away from the typical Australian laid-back personality. Spanned across three-and-a-half decades from 1960 to 1995, Alain's inimitable story will entertain and stir you, touch your emotions, and test your mentality.

Wetlands and Western Cultures Rod Giblett,2021-05-19 In Wetlands and Western Cultures: Denigration to Conservation, Rod Giblett examines the portrayal of wetlands in Western culture and argues for their conservation. Giblett's analysis of the wetland motif in literature and the arts, including in Beowulf and the writings of Tolkien and Thoreau, demonstrates two approaches to wetlands—their denigration as dead waters or their commendation as living waters with a potent cultural history.

Theatre Australia (Un)limited Geoffrey Milne,2021-12-28 Theatre Australia (Un)limited tells a truly national story of the structures of post-war Australian theatre: its artists, companies, financial and policy underpinnings. It gives an inclusive analysis of three 'waves' of Australian theatrical activity after 1953, and the types of organisations which grew up to support and maintain them. Subsidy, repertoire patterns, finances and administration, theatre buildings, companies, festivals and notable productions of the commercial, mainstream and alternative Australian theatre are examined state by state, and changes to governmental policy analysed. Theatrical forms comprise not only spoken-word drama, but also music theatre, comedy, theatre-restaurant, circus, puppetry, community theatre in several forms and new mixed-media genres: physical theatre, circus, visual theatre and contemporary performance. Theatre Australia (Un)limited is the first comprehensive overview of the fortunes of Australian theatre as a national enterprise, providing the industrial analysis of the 'three waves' essential for the understanding of the New Wave and of contemporary drama.

In the Face of Diversity Nathan D. Gardner Molina,2025-05-01 The unity or uniformity of the 'Chinese Australian community' has been frequently referenced in many recent political, popular and even academic discussions. The oneness of the community is often described as latent and inevitable, if not already a fact. Yet many Chinese Australians have also aspirationally used collective terms to refer to themselves; there have been perennial calls to 'unite and advance' the community, or have it 'speak with one voice'. But has a united or unitary 'Chinese Australian community' ever actually existed? If so, would a united community be a means to an end or an end in itself? And where would this community sit in contemporary multicultural Australia? I Am, You Are, We Are attempts to answer to these questions; it is a history of more than a dozen Chinese Australian community organisations from across the country over five decades that draws on the English- and Chinese-language materials these organisations have produced over the years, as well as interviews with ten past and present leaders. Instead of a single community, the evidence demonstrates the existence of many diverse Chinese Australian communities. Consequently, the book advances two ideas: ‘Chinese Australian unity’ presents itself as a chimera that inhabits the social space shared by Chinese Australians and has only ever been momentarily or partially grasped by community organisations; Imagining the ‘Chinese Australian community’ has nonetheless produced real-world outcomes, the most prominent being a highly participatory style of Australian multiculturalism. These two ideas are woven through six moments in recent history that have been highly decisive for Chinese Australian communities. I Am, You Are, We Are conveys (Chinese) Australian history in clear and evocative prose, while remaining academically authoritative and socially conscious. The result is a work that dismantles the prevailing myth of a single Chinese bloc to rebuild an appreciation of multiculturalism in Australia along with specific contributions made by Chinese Australian communities.
