Tecniche costruttive murarie medievali Daniela Esposito, 1998 English summary: This essay follows the historical development of the construction technique known as a tufelli, from its first appearance at the end of the XII century, until its consumption at the end of the second half of the XV century, focusing on an area around the city of Rome which appeared to be linked by political, administrative and economic ties. The analysis of the monuments, fully documented with original drawings and photographs, have allowed the author to identify local influences in the inspiration and employ of this technique, and to advance new suggestions for its conservation and restoration. Italian description: Il saggio ripercorre lo svolgimento storico della tecnica costruttiva 'a tufelli' dalle sue prime apparizioni, nel tardo XII secolo, fino al suo esaurimento verso la meta del XV, in un'area attestata intorno alla città di Roma, cui risulta legata da vincoli di natura politico-amministrativa ed economica. L'analisi dei monumenti, ampiamente documentata da fotografie e disegni originali, ha permesso all'autrice di riconoscere influssi locali nell'ispirazione e nell'impiego di questa tecnica e di avanzare nuove proposte ai fini della loro conservazione e del restauro.

The Routledge Handbook of the Archaeology of Urbanism in Italy in the Age of Roman Expansion Fabio Colivicchi, Myles McCallum, 2024-05-17 The Routledge Handbook of the Archaeology of Urbanism in Italy in the Age of Roman Expansion explores trends in urbanism across Italy in the period when Rome extended its power across the entire peninsula, Sicily, Sardinia, and Corsica. Chapters present the most up-to-date archaeological data in the first broad and detailed treatment of this topic, superseding traditional academic particularism. They present a significant re-evaluation of the process of Roman imperialism and the role of urbanization within it. Particular attention is paid to evidence for local agency in different regions and at different sites, but general trends are also highlighted. Various types of urban sites are examined, including Indigenous urban centers that pre-date Rome's conquest, colonies, both Greek and Roman, small centers in the hinterlands of larger urban entities, and the symbiotic relationship between urban centers and their rural territories. This volume challenges the existence of a standardized "Roman model" imposed on Rome's vanquished enemies through conquest and highlights that this was a period of intense experimentation. Archaeological data are used to challenge traditional text-based historiographic models and reveal the complex interplay and tensions between Roman imperial control, local and regional traditions, and broader Mediterranean trends. This book is of importance to archaeologists and ancient historians working on urbanism and Roman Imperialism, as well as those interested in early urbanism in the Western Mediterranean and Europe and the comparative study of imperialism and colonialism across geographical areas and historical periods.
