Methods of Manufacturing Potato Chips (Classic Reprint) Mrs. Margaret Connor Vosbury,2016-09-18 Excerpt from Methods of Manufacturing Potato Chips Mechanical peelers are necessary. For commercial production and of great assistance in home manufacture. Vegetable slicers are essential for uniform results, as it is impossible to cut potatoes thinly and evenly enough by hand. The best vessel, in which to fry, the chips is one that is deep rather than wide, made of iron or steel, with an inner perforated basket in which the chips can be lowered and raised. Use mature potatoes, high in starch.

Large or medium-sized, round potatoes with Shallow eyes are preferable. The slices should be thoroughly washed in cold water and a maximum of starch removed. In the experimental tests of the Bureau of Plant Industry, potato chips were scored on a basis of 30 points, distributed as follows: Ease of cooking, 10; appearance, 5; crispness, 5; flavor, 10.20 bulletin 1055, U.S. Department of Agriculture. Microeconomics 7th edition provides a streamlined approach to study and recognises the difficulties some students may face in comprehending key concepts. By leaving the more technical content and application until later, students can enjoy the more exciting policy material from the beginning and engage with the content early. Through compelling examples, clear explanations and the latest instructive on-line resources, the text draws students into the content and reinforces learning through practice and solving problems which are relevant to them. The authors train students to think about issues in the way real economists do, and learn how to explore difficult policy problems and make more informed decisions by offering a clear introduction to theory and applying the concepts to today's events, news, and research.
