The Pedagogical Imagination Leon Sachs, 2014-05-01 French school debates of recent years, which are simultaneously debates about the French Republic's identity and values, have generated a spate of internationally successful literature and film on the topic of education. While mainstream media and scholarly essays tend to treat these works as faithful representations of classroom reality, The Pedagogical Imagination takes a different approach. In this study of French education and republicanism as represented in twenty-first-century French literature and film, Leon Sachs shifts our attention from "what" literature and film say about education to "how" they say it. He argues that the most important literary and filmic treatments of French education in recent years—the works of Agnès Varda, Érik Orsenna, Abdellatif Kechiche, François Bégaudeau—do more than merely depict the present-day school crisis. They explore questions of education through experiments with form. The Pedagogical Imagination shows how such techniques engage present-day readers and viewers in acts of interpretation that reproduce pedagogical principles of active, experiential learning—principles at the core of late nineteenth-century educational reform that became vehicles for the diffusion of republican ideology.

Keep Your Mobile Phone Away or Digest It Alphonse Vanderheyde, 2024-10-15 Today's digital man tweets and instagrams, but does he still think by himself? His totalitarian takeover of social networks opens up a world he feels he dominates; meanwhile he is under the yoke of various manipulations. Is this domination a decoy? Is the mobile phone leading us to a smartphonic life, to the end of man thinking by himself? Is his constantly connected life disconnected from real human relationships? So what does it mean to put your mobile away? Is it being aware of the harmful effects of smartphones and techno-sciences? And is digesting your mobile phone an injunction to think more carefully about our connections, to find a reasonable solution to digital usage and to warn us against transhumanism and posthumanism as anthropophobia?

How the French Think Sudhir Hazareesingh, 2015-09-22 An award-winning historian presents an absorbing account of the French mind, shedding light on France's famous tradition of intellectual life. Why are the French such an exceptional nation? Why do they think they are so exceptional? The French take pride in the fact that their history and culture have decisively shaped the values and ideals of the modern world. French ideas are no less distinct in their form: while French thought is abstract, stylish and often opaque, it has always been bold and creative, and driven by the relentless pursuit of innovation. In How the French Think, the internationally-renowned historian Sudhir Hazareesingh tells the epic and tumultuous story of French intellectual thought from Descartes, Rousseau, and Auguste Comte to Sartre, Claude Lé-Strauss, and Derrida. He shows how French thinking has shaped fundamental Westerns ideas about freedom, rationality, and justice, and how the French mind-set is intimately connected to their own way of life-in particular to the French tendency towards individualism, their passion for nature, their celebration of their historical heritage, and their fascination with death. Hazareesingh explores the French veneration of dissent and skepticism, from Voltaire to the Dreyfus Affair and beyond; the obsession with the protection of French language and culture; the rhetorical flair embodied by the philosophes, which today's intellectuals still try to recapture; the astonishing influence of French postmodern thinkers, including Foucault and Barthes, on postwar American education and life, and also the growing French anxiety about a globalized world order under American hegemony. How the French Think sweeps aside generalizations and easy stereotypes to offer an incisive and revealing exploration of the French intellectual tradition. Steeped in a colorful range of sources, and written with warmth and humor, this book will appeal to all lovers of France and of European culture.

Screening Integration Sylvie Durmelat, Vinay Swamy, 2011-01-01 North African immigrants, once confined to France's social and cultural margins, have become a strong presence in France's national life. Similarly, descendants of immigrants from Morocco, Algeria, and Tunisia have gained mainstream recognition as filmmakers and as the subject of films. The first collective volume on this topic, Screening Integration offers a sustained critical analysis of this cinema. In particular, contributors evaluate how Maghrebi films have come to participate in, promote, and, at the same time, critique France's integration. In the process, these essays reflect on the conditions that allowed for the burgeoning of this cinema in the first place, as well as on the social changes the films delineate. Screening Integration brings together established scholars in the fields of postcolonial, Francophone, and film studies to address the latest developments in this cinematic production. These authors explore the emergence of various genres that recast the sometimes fossilized idea of ethnic difference. Screening Integration provides a much-needed reference for those interested in comprehending the complex shifts in twenty-first-century French cinema and in the multicultural social formations that have become an integral part of contemporary France in the new millennium.

Literature, Pedagogy, and Curriculum in Secondary Education M. Martin Guiney, 2017-05-31 This book argues for the importance of literature studies using the historical debate between the disinterested disciplines ("art for art's sake") and utilitarian or productive disciplines. Forgoing the traditional argument that literature is a unique spiritual resource, as well as the utilitarian thought that literary pedagogy promotes skills that are relevant to a post-industrial economy, Guiney suggests that literary pedagogy must enable mutual access between the classroom and the outside world. It must recognize the need for every human being to become a conscious producer of culture rather than a consumer, through an active process of literary reading and writing. Using the history of French curricular reforms as a case study for his analysis, Guiney provides a contextualized redefinition of literature's social value.

French Education Ralph Albanese, Mortimer Guiney, 2008 The major changes in French linguistic and literary education are intimately linked to the debate over French cultural identity. Addressing that topic from a range of disciplinary perspectives, this commemorative volume on French education-in France, in the ex-colonies, and in America-aims to sensitize scholars of French studies to unexplored aspects of the institutional history of our discipline.--BOOK JACKET.

Penser les représentations Lucien Ayissi, 2014-08-01 De quoi peut-il s'agir lorsqu'on entreprend de penser les représentations ? Pourquoi leur accorder un intérêt épistémologique aussi important qu'il faille s'y mettre à plusieurs dans le cadre d'un ouvrage collectif ? A quoi peut bien se destiner cette synergie ? C'est pour pouvoir résoudre le problème de pertinence et de sens que pose la réflexion sur les représentations que des universitaires camerounais ont accepté de collaborer à cet ouvrage.

Pour une approche endogène du développement au Congo-Brazzaville, 2009-04-01 Les contributions de ce livre soulignent la nécessité d'une endogénéisation des mécanismes de développement. Au menu de cet ouvrage, la problématique de l'homme congolais, l'impératif de la citoyenneté, la gestion des entreprises congolaises, la passation des marchés publics, les enjeux du développement local, de l'investissement dans les moyens de transport et les nouvelles technologies de l'information et de la communication, la question des institutions idoines à mettre en place pour une meilleure gouvernance.

Un cas d'école Donatienne Du Jeu, 2013-03-01 Peut-on parler encore de l'école, et de la débâcle désormais connue de l'Education nationale ? Le sujet mérite qu'on s'y attarde encore une fois, et ce petit essai offre un témoignage vigoureux et rigoureux du lent délitement de notre institution scolaire, tout en ranimant les flammes des grands débats pédagogiques qui la traversent depuis plus de trente ans.

Turns to the Right? Michael A. Johnson, Lawrence R. Schehr, 2009 This volume features, among others, Michael Gueldry on 'The Americanization of France', Adrian Johnston on 'The Right left: Alain Badiou and the Disruption of Political Identities', Bruno Chaouat on 'Moroseness in Post-Cold War France' and Douglas Morrey on 'Sex and the Single Male: Houellebecq, Feminism, and Hegemonic Masculinity'.

Psisyphe Jean-Pierre Rumen, 2007-02-01 Ces textes rapportent des interrogations nées de l'exercice professionnel de la psychiatrie et de la psychanalyse, depuis leur apogée dans les années 1970 jusqu'à leur présumé naufrage actuel. Ils visent à montrer qu'il n'existe pas de savoir intangible sur des troubles qu'il conviendrait de corriger, mais une réélaboration constante tant du praticien que du patient, telle la tâche de Sisyphe à jamais inachevée.

La tyrannie de l'émotion Noël Mamère, Patrick Farbiaz, 2008 Outreau, le Tsunami, les pédophiles récidivistes, la lettre de Guy Môquet, l'Arche de Zoé, Ingrid Betancourt... Ces événements ont un point commun : la capacité à nous émouvoir. A l'affût du fait divers ou de tout événement porteur de compassion, Nicolas Sarkozy utilise l'émotion comme un programme et une arme pour éviter de répondre aux grands sujets qui secouent la France. Derrière ce détournement qui fait de la politique un art de la séduction, se dissimulent de vrais dangers pour notre démocratie. Confusion des sentiments, abolition des frontières entre vie privée et vie publique, lois de circonstance (la récidive, les chiens dangereux...) inspirées par des faits divers. La tyrannie de l'émotion comme principe de gouvernance s'inscrit dans une dérive qui n'est pas propre à la France. De l'Amérique de Bush à l'Italie de Berlusconi, la manipulation des foules est à l'œuvre. Avec ce nouvel essai, Noël Mamère et Patrick Farbiaz démontent pièce par pièce la nouvelle idéologie de l'émotion et nous appellent à ne pas nous soumettre à la force de cette dangereuse tyrannie organisée par quelque cabinet noir de la République. Un livre instructif et roboratif.

La fabrique de l'impuissance: L'école, entre domination et émancipation Charlotte Nordmann, 2007 La 4ème de couv. indique : « L'École républicaine » repose sur une contradiction irréductible : elle est à la fois un facteur de démocratisation et de hiérarchisation. Elle est l'institution qui assure la légitimation de la hiérarchie sociale en la faisant apparaître comme l'expression de l'inégalité des capacités individuelles. L'École produit ainsi, paradoxalement, de l'impuissance : impuissance à parler, à écrire, à lire, à penser. Mais elle est aussi un lieu de diffusion de savoirs et de compétences susceptibles de donner à chacun les moyens d'augmenter son autonomie, sa puissance d'agir et de penser. Parce qu'il refoule cette ambiguïté, « le débat sur l'École » nous enferme dans un véritable cercle, et nous interdit de réfléchir aux enjeux politiques de la maîtrise de la lecture, de l'écriture, du rapport aux savoirs et à la parole. Comment faire pour que l'École ne fonctionne pas essentiellement comme une fabrique de l'impuissance ?

Bulletin européen des sciences sociales N° 9, 2013-06-15 Devant l'existence d'un empire anglo-américain post Seconde Guerre mondiale, l'Europe politique des Peuples et l'Europe sociale des Nations ont besoin de la société française pour continuer à faire leur histoire identitaire. Pendant ce temps, notre administration se fait par l'intermédiaire de Bruxelles malgré les votes des citoyens. Des travailleurs en sciences sociales européennes essayent de se sortir de la grisaille et des ambiguïtés entretenues par des rentes immobilières et foncières.
