The Politics of Ephemeral Digital Media Sara Pesce, Paolo Noto, 2016-05-26 In the age of complex Tv, of social networking and massive consumption of transmedia narratives, a myriad short-lived phenomena surround films and TV programs raising questions about the endurance of a fictional world and other mediatized discourse over a long arc of time. The life of media products can change direction depending on the variability of paratextual materials and activities such as online commentaries and forums, promos and trailers, disposable merchandise and gadgets, grassroots video production, archives, and gaming. This book examines the tension between permanence and obsolescence in the production and experience of media byproducts analysing the affections and meanings they convey and uncovering the machineries of their persistence or disposal. Paratexts, which have long been considered only ancillary to a central text, interfere instead with textual politics by influencing the viewers' fidelity (or infidelity) to a product and affecting a fictional world's life expectancy. Scholars in the fields of film studies, media studies, memory and cultural studies are here called to observe these byproducts' temporalities (their short form and/or long temporal extension, their nostalgic politics or future projections) and assess their increasing influence on our use of the past and present, on our temporal experience, and, consequently, on our social and political self-positioning through the media.

Serving Teen Parents Ellin Klor, Sarah Nordhausen, 2011-09-12 A comprehensive guide to working with teen parents and their children that provides practical program ideas for successful school and public library program development, implementation, and evaluation. Teen parents and their children represent an underserved, high-need population in many communities. Libraries have the potential to significantly influence the quality of life for teen parent families by providing free access to information and resources, developing specific programs, and serving as a safe, public learning environment. Serving Teen Parents: From Literacy to Life Skills helps library staff support teen parents as their children's first teachers, positively affecting two generations at once. The authors explain how to successfully communicate with this group and build upon their competencies and strengths. They offer best practices, professional anecdotes, and step-by-step direction on connecting with teen parents, collaborating with community partners, locating funding options, and implementing successful programs. This invaluable guide is the most comprehensive resource currently available that directly addresses the needs of librarians serving the teen-parent demographic.

Legal and Economic Perspectives on the Nexus of AI and Copyright Özcan Büyüktanır, Burcu Gülseren, Varol İyidoğan, Pelin, Zachar, Péter Krisztián, 2025-04-08 The rapid advancements in artificial intelligence (AI) are reshaping how copyright is created, shared, and protected, introducing both opportunities and challenges. AI technologies can enhance creativity and innovation, but they also raise complex legal and ethical questions about ownership, licensing, and the economic value of intellectual property. As copyrights hold significant economic importance as intangible assets, understanding their interaction with AI is critical for adapting legal systems and fostering equitable economic growth. This evolving landscape impacts creators, businesses, and societies by influencing how cultural and intellectual works are produced and monetized in the digital age. Legal and Economic Perspectives on the Nexus of AI and Copyright addresses AI and copyright issues with a legal and economic analysis. It analyzes the effects of AI on law and economic policy, and further makes policy recommendations. Covering topics such as copyright infringement, deepfakes, and public policy, this book is an excellent resource for policymakers, economists, business leaders, academicians, researchers, and more.

Adaptive Radar Detection and Estimation Simon Haykin, Allan Steinhardt, 1992-04-15 Adaptive processing in a radar environment is necessary due to its inherently nonstable nature. A detailed mathematical treatment of the important issues in adaptive radar detection and estimation is offered. Since much of the material presented has not appeared in book form, you'll find this work fills an important gap in the known literature. Following an overview of the subject, contributors develop model-based techniques for the detection of radar targets in the presence of clutter; discuss minimum variance beamforming techniques; consider maximum likelihood bearing estimation in beamspace for an adaptive phased array radar; present an algorithm for angle-of-arrival estimation; and describe the method of multiple windows for spectrum estimation.

Visual Effects Barbara Flückiger, 2008 Am computergenerierten Bild scheiden sich die Geister. Ist der Computer ein kalter, berechnender Apparat, der an die Stelle von Menschen tritt und dem Film seine einstmals analoge Seele raubt? Die Autorin stellt die technischen Grundlagen und visuellen Aspekte des computergenerierten Filmbildes dar und erläutert die ästhetischen Konsequenzen. Die Autorin untersucht die technischen Grundlagen der 3D-Modellierung und Animation, ihre Entwicklung und Praxis und diskutiert ihre Differenz zu herkömmlichen Methoden der filmischen Abbildungsverfahren. Aber auch die ästhetischen Aspekte werden analysiert: Ästhetische Konsequenzen des Zusammenpralls von Korn und Pixel, von additiven und subtraktiven Farbsystemen, von konventioneller Fotografie und mathematisch-naturwissenschaftlichen Modellierungsalgorithmen Ein Standardwerk!
