Project Management Office Vincenzo Morabito, 2014-12-10T00:00:00+01:00 This book analyzes the role and the best practices of the Project Management Officer (PMO), a strategic function for those organizations, which are focused on the technological transformation and the digitalization of their own business. The author decided to activate a comparison between the competencies and the experiences typical of the professionals and the managers' concrete activities, in order to connect two different views. This project, aimed to connect practice and theory and create a knowhow useful for companies' activity, has identified six primary themes. First of all, it proposes a predictive model for current organizations, meant as an idiosyncratic combination of projects and processes. They then analyze the concept and the role of PMO, as a central figure in determining the efficient control for the transformational process, as required by the business digitalization. Another chapter is related to a critical analysis of the company's functions that a PMO could do (they are mostly seven). The different activities' combinations create different PMO's models, which have to be planned in correspondence of the different business's needs. Another important analysis concerns the coding processes related to the project's knowhow (reporting, Project Review Meeting, issue logs, i.e.). Peculiar attention is given to the risk management, a topic that is always more central in a dynamic environment, oriented to the resources' optimization. This contest is completed in the last chapter, in which are reported some considerations from interviews made at CIOs of leading companies, about IT and project management issues.

Urban Landscapes Massimo Sargolini, 2012-12-15 Today, more than 50% of the world's population lives in cities and is subject to particular environmental and economic impacts against the backdrop of an evolving planetary crisis. This book explores the intimate relationship between the quality of life of city dwellers and the quality of urban landscapes, including those regenerated through green spaces and environmental networks. Starting from the concept of "landscape" as defined by the European Landscape Convention (i.e. an area, perceived by people, whose character is the result of the action and interaction of natural and/or human factors), it expands upon, in particular, the interactions between the different biotic and abiotic components that contribute to the quality of the landscape and the environment. In the first part of the book, the author examines fundamental concepts and discusses a variety of relevant topics, such as the city under transformation, waste spaces, smart communities, regeneration programs, the role of environmental networks, and new instruments for decision making. The second part is devoted to a case study of the Italian Adriatic city that highlights the need for interdisciplinary interaction among researchers in apparently disparate fields, including ecology, forest botany, chemistry, biology, geology, sociology, economics, architecture, and engineering.

Teaching, Research and Academic Careers Daniele Checchi, Tullio Jappelli, Antonio Uricchio, 2022-08-12 This open access book evaluates research quality, quality of teaching and the relationship between the two through sound statistical methods, and in a comparative perspective with other European countries. In so doing, it covers an increasingly important topic for universities that affects university funding. It discusses whether university evaluation should be limited to a single factor or consider multiple dimensions of research, since academic careers, teaching and awarding degrees are intertwined. The chapters included in the book evaluate teaching and research, also taking the gender dimension into account, in order to understand where and when gender discrimination occurs in assessment. Divided into five sections, the book analyses the administrative data on the determinants of career completion of university students; increasing precariousness of academic careers, especially of young researchers; methods designed to assess research productivity when co-authorship and team production are becoming the standard practice; and interrelations between students' achievements and teachers' careers driven by research assessment. It brings together contributions from a large group of economists, statisticians and social scientists working under a project sponsored by ANVUR, the Italian agency for the evaluation of teaching and research of academic institutions. From an international perspective, the findings in this book are particularly interesting because despite low tuition costs, tertiary education in Italy has relatively low enrolment rates and even lower completion rates compared to those in other European and American countries. This book is of interest to researchers of the sociology of education, education policy, public administration, economics and statistics of education, and to administrators and policy makers working in the area of higher education.

New Trends in Emerging Complex Real Life Problems Patrizia Daniele, Laura Scrimali, 2018-12-30 This book gathers the contributions of the international conference "Optimization and Decision Science" (ODS2018), which was held at the Hotel Villa Diodoro, Taormina (Messina), Italy on September 10 to 13, 2018, and was organized by AIRO, the Italian Operations Research Society, in cooperation with the DMI (Department of Mathematics and Computer Science) of the University of Catania (Italy). The book offers state-of-the-art content on optimization, decisions science and problem solving methods, as well as their application in industrial and territorial systems. It highlights a range of real-world problems that are both challenging and worthwhile, using models and methods based on continuous and discrete optimization, network optimization, simulation and system dynamics, heuristics, metaheuristics, artificial intelligence, analytics, and multiple-criteria decision making. Given its scope of coverage, it will benefit not only researchers and practitioners working in these areas, but also the operations research community as a whole.

L'innovazione tecnologica. Linee guida e casi reali Arrigo Pareschi,2020-05-01 Questo testo universitario, dedicato all'innovazione tecnologica di prodotto e di processo, alla ricognizione dei fondi messi a disposizione dall'Italia e dalla Unione Europea per il finanziamento dei programmi di innovazione e alla illustrazione di esempi tratti da casi reali, è destinato innanzitutto agli studenti di Ingegneria, in particolare a quelli dei corsi di laurea dell'Area industriale (Ingegneria Gestionale, Meccanica ed Energetica) ma anche agli ingegneri che già operano nelle imprese industriali e nelle società di Ingegneria. Negli anni dal 1990 al 2010 l'autore, su incarico dal Ministero delle Attività Produttive, ha redatto la relazione valutativa di 41 programmi di innovazione presentati da Imprese industriali per accedere a fondi di finanziamento sul Fondo rotativo per l'innovazione tecnologica (Legge n. 46/1982). Nel testo sono riportati 27 casi reali, corrispondenti ad altrettanti programmi scelti fra i 41 valutati, che sono sembrati particolarmente adatti alla formazione degli allievi ingegneri per il loro elevato livello sia sul piano metodologico sia su quello dei contenuti in termini di ricerca applicata, sviluppo e ingegnerizzazione di prodotti e processi innovativi. Dei casi reali presentati 15 riguardano l'industria meccanica, 5 l'industria alimentare, 2 per ciascuna l'industria tessile e l'industria del legno, 1 per ciascuna l'industria del vetro, il comparto della distribuzione gas e il comparto della depurazione e trattamento dei reflui. Sei casi (capitoli 3-8) sono relativi a programmi di innovazione di prodotto per il mercato finale. Cinque casi (capitoli 9-13) sono relativi a programmi di innovazione di prodotto costituito da macchine o attrezzature per l'industria a valle impegnata nel migliorare il proprio processo produttivo. Sette casi (capitoli 14-20), sono relativi a programmi di innovazione dell'intero processo dell'industria proponente. Sette casi (capitoli 21-27), sono relativi a programmi di innovazione di prodotto consistente in macchine o attrezzature per migliorare il processo produttivo dell'industria proponente stessa. Infine due casi (capitoli 28-29) sono relativi a programmi di innovazione del sistema di controllo del processo produttivo dell'industria proponente. Il principale intendimento di questo testo è quello di aiutare la preparazione dei nostri ingegneri e di favorire la vocazione a promuovere innovazione in coloro che domani opereranno nelle imprese industriali o che già operano in esse e giornalmente sono chiamati a far progredire l'impresa, che ha dato loro fiducia. Infatti una impresa industriale moderna, che vuole avere un futuro sicuro, deve ricorrere alla innovazione di prodotto per poter porre sul mercato una varietà di prodotti innovativi corrispondenti alla forte spinta dei consumatori alla personalizzazione dei prodotti, e alla innovazione di processo per poter realizzare i prodotti già presenti nella gamma produttiva a un livello qualitativo equivalente o addirittura superiore ma con costi di produzione e prezzi di vendita inferiori e quindi maggiori opportunità di mercato e più elevata soddisfazione dei consumatori.
