Artistic Disobedience Claudio Bacciagaluppi, 2017-01-09 In Artistic Disobedience Claudio Bacciagaluppi shows how music practice was an occasion for cross-confessional contacts in 17th- and 18th-century Switzerland, implying religious toleration. The difference between public and private performing contexts, each with a distinct repertoire, appears to be of paramount importance. Confessional barriers were overcome in an individual, private perspective. Converted musicians provide striking examples. Also, book trade was often cross-confessional. Music by Catholic (but also Lutheran) composers was diffused in Reformed territories mainly in the private music societies of Swiss German towns (collegia musica). The political and pietist influences in the Zurich and Winterthur music societies encouraged forms of communication that are among the acknowledged common roots of European Enlightenment.

Mapping the Motet in the Post-Tridentine Era Esperanza Rodríguez-García, Daniele V. Filippi, 2018-09-03 Mapping the Motet in the Post-Tridentine Era provides new dimensions to the discussion of the immense corpus of polyphonic motets produced and performed in the decades following the end of the Council of Trent in 1563. Beyond the genre's rich connections with contemporary spiritual life and religious experience, the motet is understood here as having a multifaceted life in transmission, performance and reception. By analysing the repertoire itself, but also by studying its material life in books and accounts, in physical places and concrete sonic environments, and by investigating the ways in which the motet was listened to and talked about by contemporaries, the eleven chapters in this book redefine the cultural role of the genre. The motet, thanks to its own protean nature, not bound to any given textual, functional or compositional constraint, was able to convey cultural meanings powerfully, give voice to individual and collective identities, cross linguistic and confessional divides, and incarnate a model of learned and highly expressive musical composition. Case studies include considerations of composers (Palestrina, Victoria, Lasso), cities (Seville and Granada, Milan), books (calendrically ordered collections, non-liturgical music books) and special portions of the repertoire (motets pro defunctis, instrumental intabulations).

Il cecchino Alessandro Furlanetto,2015-02-27 Un sacerdote viene chiamato in ospedale al capezzale di un anziano cecchino, agnostico e dichiaratamente ateo, reduce della prima Guerra Mondiale. Il vecchio rivive la sua lunga storia narrandola al prete e questi, a sua volta, è indotto a raccontargli la sua. Tra i due uomini, tanto diversi tra loro per età, esperienze, mentalità e fede si crea un rapporto di confidenza, stima e di amicizia. Il cecchino racconta la sua guerra, i suoi amori, le amicizie, le sue vicissitudini familiari, i suoi peccati e le circostanze di una straordinaria premonizione che lo spinse a cercare di fermare, da solo, la rovinosa guerra in cui il fascismo volle trascinare l'Italia. L'ineluttabilità del destino, la solitudine dell'uomo, il suo orgoglio, la ricerca della figura consolatrice di un Dio lontano sono i temi di un intenso dialogo tra i due personaggi.
