Encyclopedia of Information Communication Technology Cartelli, Antonio, Palma, Marco, 2008-07-31 NetLibrary named the Encyclopedia of Information Communication Technology as their September 2008 e-book of the month! CLICK HERE to view the announcement. The Encyclopedia of Information Communication Technology (ICT) is a comprehensive resource describing the influence of information communication technology in scientific knowledge construction, with emphasis on the roles of product technologies, process technologies, and context technologies. Through 111 authoritative contributions by 93 of the world's leading experts this reference covers the materials and instruments of information technology: from ICT in education to software engineering; the influence of ICT on different environments, including e-commerce, decision support systems, knowledge management, and more; and the most pervasive presence of information technology, including studies and research on knowledge management, the human side of ICT, ICT in healthcare, and virtual organizations, among many others. Addressing many of the fundamental issues of information communication technology, the Encyclopedia of Information Communication Technology will be a top-shelf resource for any reference library.

Fostering Pedagogy Through Micro and Adaptive Learning in Higher Education: Trends, Tools, and Applications Queirós, Ricardo, Cruz, Mario, Pinto, Carla, Mascarenhas, Daniela, 2023-08-14 Fostering Pedagogy Through Micro and Adaptive Learning in Higher Education: Trends, Tools, and Applications is a timely and groundbreaking book that addresses the challenges of engaging the digital generations in the teaching-learning process, intensified by the pandemic. Written by Ricardo Queirós, a renowned researcher in e-learning interoperability and programming languages, the book offers a unique perspective on using micro and adaptive learning approaches to create immersive and personalized environments that cater to the learning styles and paces of diverse students. The book covers innovative trends, tools, and applications that enable educators to implement pedagogical practices that enhance the teaching-learning experience. It explores topics such as artificial intelligence in education, adaptive hypermedia, differentiated instruction, and micro-gamification design, providing readers with practical tools to create personalized and immersive learning environments. This book is a valuable resource for professors of any domain, practitioners, and students pursuing education, as well as research scholars looking to expand their understanding of e-learning and pedagogical innovation. It is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of education and how digital technologies can be leveraged to create engaging and immersive learning environments.

ECTS and Diploma Supplement Label Holders 2011 & 2012 European Commission, 2014 Higher education is at the heart of the Europe 2020 Strategy and of Europe's ambition to become a smart, sustainable and inclusive economy. With 28 different Member States in the EU, and 47 countries in the European Higher Education Area, one part of countries' modernisation efforts in higher education is introducing and applying Europe-wide tools and instruments. Use of these tools inspires greater trust in each other's higher education systems and makes it easier for people to move to other countries to study and so to acquire the high-level skills needed in our rapidly evolving economies. The European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS) and the Diploma Supplement (DS) play a key role in developing a high level of comparability, compatibility and exchange among Higher Education Institutions and systems in Europe, and their basic principles have long been agreed by Ministers within the European Higher Education Area. ECTS is a tool that allows students to accumulate the credits they earn within an education programme in a transparent and comparable way. It facilitates the transfer of learning experiences between different institutions, greater student mobility and more flexible pathways to a higher education degree. In parallel, the DS provides a standardised description of the nature, level, context, content and status of the studies completed by the holder of a higher education diploma. The European Commission awards Labels to Higher Education Institutions which show that they are implementing ECTS and/or the DS correctly.

Common European Framework of Reference for Languages Council of Europe, 2020 A must-have manual intended to promote quality plurilingual education, facilitate greater social mobility and stimulate reflection and exchange between language professionals for curriculum development and in teacher education. The CEFR Companion volume broadens the scope of language education. It reflects academic and societal developments since the publication of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and updates the 2001 version. It owes much to the contributions of members of the language teaching profession across Europe and beyond. This volume contains: (i) an explanation of the key aspects of the CEFR for teaching and learning; (ii) a complete set of updated CEFR descriptors that replaces the 2001 set with: (a) modality-inclusive and gender-neutral descriptors; (b) added detail on listening and reading; (c) a new Pre-A1 level, plus enriched description at A1 and C levels; (d) a replacement scale for phonological competence; (e) new scales for mediation, online interaction and plurilingual/pluricultural competence; (f) new scales for sign language competence; (iii) a short report on the four-year development, validation and consultation processes. The CEFR Companion volume represents another step in a process of engagement with language education that has been pursued by the Council of Europe since 1971 and which seeks to: (i) promote and support the learning and teaching of modern languages; (ii) enhance intercultural dialogue, and thus mutual understanding, social cohesion and democracy; (iii) protect linguistic and cultural diversity in Europe; and (iv) promote the right to quality education for all.
