Political Change in the Middle East and North Africa Inmaculada Szmolka, 2017-06-29 Taking a comparative approach, this book considers the ways in which political regimes have changed since the Arab Spring. It addresses a series of questions about political change in the context of the revolutions, upheavals and protests that have taken place in North Africa and the Arab Middle East since December 2010, and looks at the various processes that have been underway in the region: democratisation (Tunisia), failed democratic transitions (Egypt, Libya and Yemen), political liberalisation (Morocco) and increased authoritarianism (Bahrain, Kuwait, Syria). In other countries, in contrast to these changes, the authoritarian regimes remain intact (Saudi Arabia, Qatar, Arab United Emirates).

The Politics of Identity in Latin American Censuses Luis F. Angosto-Ferrández, Sabine Kradolfer, 2017-10-02 The Politics of Identity in Latin American Censuses contributes new and original perspectives to existing discussions about the shaping of multiculturalist ideology in Latin America, its interweaving with the cultural politics of neoliberalism and the relation between ethnic identification resurgence and economic globalization. Scrutinising national censuses across the continent, the studies included in this volume reveal clear relationships between censuses, nation-building and government projects, but also strong and determinant connections between domestic and supra-national spheres. The contributors to this volume open provocative avenues of research on Latin American societies by demonstrating how, in the realm of identity politics, supra-national institutions and normativity socialise national census bureaus in a way that largely annuls ideological differences between regional governments. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Iberian and Latin American Research.

Consumer Behaviour in Hospitality and Tourism Saloomeh Tabari, Wei Chen, Nazan Colmekcioglu, 2024-10-30 This insightful and expert-led volume presents a holistic view of the latest, cutting-edge global research on trends and changes in consumer behaviour in hospitality and tourism, with focus on the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic and its impacts on purchase patterns within the industries. The COVID-19 pandemic has affected every aspect of consumer behaviour, including expenses, ways of shopping, eating, lifestyle, use of technology and individual decision-making processes. This volume presents a carefully selected and logically structured collection of chapters, which aim to identify the factors that influence these new purchase patterns and evaluate how managers, retailers and marketers can develop appropriate strategies that respond to these changes in the market going forward. This book explores the effects of multiple socio-economic factors on individual consumption behaviours and features an array of international case studies. This book is of pivotal interest for students, scholars and researchers interested in consumer behaviour within the tourism and hospitality industries, as well as providing a useful tool for professionals to develop appropriate strategies that meet the evolving needs of consumers in the market.

Educational Innovation: Tools and Practices for Effective Learning , Educational Innovation: Tools and Practices for Effective Learning stands as a testament to the transformative power of innovative educational strategies. Directed and coordinated by a distinguished team of experts, this book offers a comprehensive exploration of methodologies and practices designed to enhance learning outcomes across diverse educational contexts. The book is structured into several key chapters, each addressing a critical aspect of modern education. It begins with practical insights into using digital badges in Moodle, illustrating their potential to foster motivation and creativity in online learning environments. Subsequent chapters delve into the implementation of systematic reviews in early childhood and primary education, highlighting innovation projects that integrate technology, interdisciplinary approaches, and constructivist principles to meet the demands of 21st-century learners. A significant portion of the book focuses on higher education practices, including strategies to maintain academic integrity in the face of artificial intelligence and promoting deep learning through Immediate Response Systems (IRS). These explorations emphasize the role of technology in creating active, reflective, and student-centered learning environments. The book also provides insights into intercultural competencies in secondary education, offering perspectives from high school students in Barcelona, and the development of sustainable and productive projects in global contexts such as Antioquia, Colombia. Through these case studies, the book underscores the universal applicability of innovative methodologies, transcending geographical and cultural boundaries. At its heart, the book advocates for a balance between technological integration and pedagogical depth. It explores the ethical dimensions of education in a rapidly evolving digital landscape while proposing strategies that emphasize collaboration, creativity, and inclusivity. This work challenges educators to rethink traditional teaching models, embrace technological advancements, and commit to lifelong learning. As a resource, this book equips educators, policymakers, and researchers with tools and practices that inspire transformation in classrooms worldwide. It is a call to action for reimagining education as a dynamic, equitable, and forward-looking endeavour, capable of meeting the challenges of our interconnected and constantly changing world.

Emergent Public Health Issues in the US-Mexico Border Region Cecilia Ballesteros Rosales, Scott Carter Carvajal, Jill Eileen Guernsey De Zapien, 2017-02-16 US-Mexico border region area has unique social, demographic and policy forces at work that shape the health of its residents as well as serves as a microcosm of migration health challenges facing an increasingly mobile and globalized world. This region reflects the largest migratory flow between any two nations in the world. Data from the Pew Research Center shows over the last 25 years there has never been lower than 140,000 annual immigrants from Mexico to the United States (with peaks over 700,000). This migratory route is extremely hazardous due to natural (e.g., arid and hot desert regions) and human made barriers as well as border enforcement practices tied to socio-political and geopolitical pressures. Also, reflecting the national interdependency of public health and human services needs, during the most recent five year period surveyed the migratory flow between the US and Mexico has equaled that of the flow of Mexico to the US--both around 1.4 million persons. Of particular public health concern, within the US-Mexico region of both nations there is among the highest disparities in income, education, infrastructure and access to health care--factors within the World Health Organization's conceptualization of the Social Determinants of Health, and among the highest rates of chronic disease. For instance obesity and diabetes rates in this region are among the highest of those monitored in the world, with adult population estimates of the former over 40% and estimates in some population sub-groups for the latter over 20%. The publications reflected in this Research Topic, all reviewed from experts in the field, addressed many of the public health issues in the US Mexico Border Health Commission's Healthy Border 2020 objectives. Those objectives-- broad public health goals used to guide a diverse range of government, research and community-based stakeholders--include Non Communicable Diseases (including adult and childhood obesity-related ones; cancer), Infectious Diseases (e.g., tuberculosis; HIV; emerging diseases--particularly mosquito borne illnesses), Maternal and Child Health, Mental Health Disorders, and Motor Vehicle Accidents. Other relevant public health issues affecting this region, for example environmental health, binational health services coordination (e.g., immunization), the impact of migration throughout the Americas and globally in this region, health issues related to the physical climate, access to quality health care, discrimination/mistreatment and well-being, acculturative/immigration stress, violence, substance use/abuse, oral health, respiratory disease, and well-being from a social determinants of health framework, are critical areas addressed in these publications or for future research. Each of these Research Topic publications presented applied solutions (e.g., new programs, technology or infrastructure) and/or public health policy recommendations relevant to each public health challenge addressed.
