Best Years Charles Affron,Mirella Jona Affron,2009-08-14 Americans flocked to the movies in 1945 and 1946—the center point of the three-decade heyday of the studio system's sound era. Why? Best Years is a panoramic study, shining light on this critical juncture in American history and the history of American cinema—the end of World War II (1945) and a year of unprecedented success in Hollywood's Golden Age (1946). This unique time, the last year of war and the first full year of peace, provides a rich blend of cinema genres and types—from the battlefield to the home front, the peace film to the woman's film, psychological drama, and the period's provocative new style, film noir. Best Years focuses on films that were famous, infamous, forgotten, and unforgettable. Big budget A-films, road shows, and familiar series share the spotlight. From Bergman and Grant in Notorious to Abbott and Costello in Lost in a Harem, Charles Affron and Mirella Jona Affron examine why the bond between screen and viewer was perhaps never tighter. Paying special attention to the movie-going public in key cities—Atlanta, New York, Boston, Honolulu, and Chicago—this ambitious work takes us on a cinematic journey to recapture a magical time.

A History of Music in American Life Ronald L. Davis, 1980 This three-volume history of music in America covers the sweep from Puritan psalms to the hits of the '70s. It is written from the historian's viewpoint rather than that of the musicologist and considers music in America against the backdrop of a changing society. The work deals not only with music written in America, but also with the reception of the European classics in the concert halls and opera houses of the United States. The story is presented in lively, human fashion, as free of technical analysis as possible, but the set will also serve as a comprehensive reference work.
