

Características De Espacio Urbano

Felipe Fernández García, Rosa Cañada Torrecilla

El espacio urbano queer en Latinoamérica Assen Kokalov, 2021-12-17 Según Julie Abraham, la conexión entre la ciudad y las personas que rechazan los requisitos del sistema heteronormativo se inicia en la época bíblica con el símbolo potente de Sodoma y sigue a lo largo de la historia urbana occidental que considera la ciudad un espacio sospechoso por la presencia de los así llamados sodomitas. Este libro se propone explorar tal conexión a través de una serie de representaciones literarias del espacio urbano producidas desde la perspectiva de aquellas subjetividades queer que viven en oposición a las instituciones hegemónicas de la familia, de la heterosexualidad y de la reproducción biológica y socioeconómica capitalista. El volumen se divide en cinco capítulos que analizan textos literarios latinoamericanos del siglo XXI para estudiar las relaciones que se forman entre el espacio urbano y las subjetividades queer desde un punto de vista posestructuralista que rechaza todo tipo de identidades estables, unificadas o esenciales. Los primeros dos capítulos examinan la representación de distintos espacios urbanos ocupados por personas queer. Los tres capítulos siguientes se enfocan en representaciones de los modos en que el ser queer se desplaza por la ciudad, utiliza las tecnologías digitales de las últimas décadas para construir espacios propios y, finalmente, llega a crear sitios de resistencia dentro del ambiente de la diáspora urbana.

La humanización del espacio urbano Jan Gehl, 2006 Este libro analiza por qué el uso del automóvil deteriora la calidad urbana; por qué los edificios residenciales altos son inconvenientes; qué hace que una calle sea atractiva para caminar, por qué en una ciudad sana los espacios públicos, y no los centros comerciales, son el lugar de encuentro; cuántos bancos debe haber en un espacio público y cómo se deben situar. El autor se adentra en temas tan fascinantes como el de los bordes, y por qué preferimos estar en el borde de una plaza y no en medio de ella. El trabajo del autor es profundamente humano; explora las necesidades que tenemos los seres humanos más allá de la supervivencia. ¿Qué necesitamos los seres humanos para nuestra realización más plena?. Necesitamos, por ejemplo, caminar, ver gente, estar con gente. Y la ciudad debe tener características que propicien ese contacto con otros. Una ciudad es sólo un medio para una manera de vivir; lo que propone este libro es una mejor manera de vivir, una manera más feliz de vivir. Este libro es un mensaje para los arquitectos y les recuerda que su propósito no es ganar premios, sino enaltecer lo humano. Aunque sea hermoso -y debe serlo- lo que diseñan es para ser vivido, no para ser evaluado por los críticos de arte. En la ciudad bien diseñada, la estrella es el ciudadano común y no el arquitecto fulgurante.

En las ciudades de la franja noroeste de la frontera se concretan yuxtaponiendo espacios donde las deficientes condiciones de vida de la mayoría contrastan con la generalización y exacerbación de las respuestas de autodefensa del lugar.

Los capítulos del libro tratan de experiencias variadas de planeamiento urbano, regularización de la tenencia de la tierra y protección ambiental en países tan diversos como Brasil, México, Perú, Venezuela, Francia y Turquía. Sin embargo, ahy por lo menos un tema central que promueve el vínculo entre los capítulos: el de la relación directa, si bien tan poco explorada e identificada, entre derecho, política, urbanización y medio ambiente urbano.
